Lie detector tests forced on police in Bryant case

By JACK BURSON
PB Staff Writer

Pomona policemen are being subjected to lie detector examinations in the City Council's attempt to learn who gave former Councilman Clay Bryant a copy of a police report concerning a member of City Administrator Jerrold Gonce's staff.

Several officers already have been examined on the polygraph with several others expected to be called. A civilian police department stenographer also has been quizzed on the lie detector.

The action followed the council's 4-1 vote in July directing Police Chief F. P. Wallick to determine, if possible, who gave Bryant the copy. At the time, Bryant said that Gonce and the council broke their word in voting for the investigation. He said that he had been assured that there would be no investigation if he turned over his copy of the report for examination.

In an action which preceded the polygraph tests, certain policemen were required to sign certificates stating that they had not given Bryant the report. Later, after the city retained a private polygraph operator, the examinations began.

The report concerned the discovery May 5 of a quantity of marijuana and dangerous drugs in the form of minibennies in the bedroom of the as-yet-officially-unnamed individual. Police made the discovery while investigating a burglary. The city employe was not at home at the time.

On May 8, Deputy Dist. Atty. Charles S. Havens rejected police application for a complaint against the man, saying there was no way of proving that the contraband had not been left in the room by the burglars who feared they might be about to be arrested.

The report was revealed to the council July 29 during the increasingly-bitter wage dispute between the city administration and the Pomona Police Officers' Association. Bryant, a supporter of the police position, charged that neither the council nor Gonce had had the courage to administratively discharge the subject of the report.

Officers resent the polygraph tests, an association spokesman said, but there is nothing they can do but submit or lose their jobs. Historically, policemen have agreed to such testing, tacitly at least, as conditions of employemnt. There are attempts being made, however, to enact legislation ending such requirements, the spokesman said.

Friday afternoon, Chief Wallick said there is nothing new in the use of the lie detector within the department and he added that it has been used in internal investigations for the last six months when investigations cannot be resolved

He declined to say that if the probe reveals that a police department employe gave Bryant the copy, he or she would be fired. He said only that "appropriate disciplinary action" would be taken against the individual.

Judge revokes bail for Miss Hearst

Carter has 'serious doubts' about granting her freedom, regards Patty as unsafe risk

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — A federal judge revoked bail Friday for Patricia Hearst and said he had serious doubts about granting freedom to someone who had declared opposition to society and "punctuated it with gunfire."

Miss Hearst's attorney responded that the once-fugitive heiress intended to plead innocent to the several charges against her and argued that she should be granted bail. He reminded the judge that Miss Hearst began as a kidnap victim before declaring her allegiance to her terrorist captors.

U.S. District Court Judge Oliver J. Carter said he would consider arguments in favor of freeing Miss Hearst, but made it clear he did not now regard her a safe risk.

U.S. Atty. James L. Browning told the judge that Miss Hearst, apprehended Thursday with three fellow radicals, carried a loaded .38-caliber pistol in her purse when arrested.

The federal prosecutor said officers also found two carbines in a closet of the residence where she was taken into custody.

During the hearing in a packed courtroom, Browning disclosed that the government intended to use Miss Hearst's own tape recorded revolutionary rhetoric in its case against her and he strongly argued against her release.

"There are no conditions of release that will assure Miss Hearst's future appearance before this court," Browning told the judge.

"The defendant may have close ties, but they are not to her family."

Miss Hearst's parents said their daughter told them she wanted to go home, and they had expressed the hope that she could be released on bond.

Referring to the weight of evidence he said was against the 21-year-old Miss Hearst, Browning stated: "We have the defendant admitting in a tape that she voluntarily took part ... in a bank robbery."

In a taped "communique" from the Symbionese Liberation Army dated April 24, 1974, Miss Hearst declared that she had willingly taken part in the robbery of a San Francisco bank to finance revolutionary activities and as a gesture of defiance toward her parents and society.

The slender Miss Hearst, clad in the same tee-shirt and slacks she wore at her arraignment Thursday, sat quietly at the counsel table, listening as her attorney, Terence Hallinan, argued her case.

She spoke softly three times, answering "Yes" when asked if she understood the charges, if Hallinan represented her and if she would let him speak for her.

Throughout the nearly one-hour hearing, Miss Hearst kept her eyes fixed on Hallinan, barely glancing at her family as they sat in a back row.

Her parents, reunited with their daughter earlier in the day for the first time in 19 months, appeared to be watching Patty closely.

In arguing for bail, Hallinan stressed that Miss Hearst deserved the presumption of innocence.

"This woman began as a kidnap victim," he said. "... She intends to plead innocent."

Hallinan said Miss Hearst desired to return to the family she had abandoned more than a year and a half before.

Earlier Friday, bail for Miss Hearst and William and Emily Harris had been raised to $1.5 million each.

When asked by Judge Carter if the Hearst family would support his arguments for their daughter's freedom, Hallinan said, "Her family would be glad to respond, as would Miss Hearst. Her desire is to get out and prepare an adequate defense."

But Judge Carter made it clear that he remained to be convinced that Miss Hearst presented a satisfactory risk for bail, even though he expressed sympathy for her parents.

"In this case, we have a person who has announced to the world with others their revolution against the system," he said. "They said it to the world and then punctuated it with gunfire." Carter stressed that if attorneys could convince him of the wisdom of granting Miss Hearst bail, he would do so.

CHAINED AND MANACLED

Patricia Hearst and Emily Harris, arrested Thursday in San Francisco, are led to cars by U.S. marshals at San Mateo County Jail Friday enroute to San Francisco for bail hearings in Federal Court. Both women are manacled and their cuffs shackled to waist chains.

Fingerprints: right touch in Hearst case

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — The unexpected discovery of the fingerprints of fugitive Wendy Yoshimura in a Pennsylvania farmhouse hideout early this year led FBI agents on a cross-country trail that ended in the capture of newspaper heiress Patty Hearst, it was disclosed Friday.

Also found in the house were the fingerprints of Emily and William Harris, fugitive members of the Symbionese Liberation Army who were seized with Patty Thursday in San Francisco.

"When we learned that Wendy was with the Harrises we immediately began checking her friends and acquaintances, and that took us from the Pennsylvania house, down to the New Jersey seashore and eventually to success in San Francisco," an FBI source told The Associated Press.

The isolated house in South Canaan, not far from the New York State border in the mountains of northeastern Pennsylvania, reportedly had been used as a hideaway for about six weeks in the summer of 1974 by Patty, Wendy and the Harrises.

The government alleges the house was rented by Jack Scott, former athletic director at Oberlin College and now a close associate of basketball star Bill Walton in Portland, Ore. It is presently conducting a federal grand jury investigation that could lead to harboring indictments.

Jackson judged insane

Leroy Jackson Jr., 27-year-old Pomonan charged with murdering a hypnotist Jan. 24, has been adjudged insane and committed to Patton State Hospital in San Bernardino.

Jackson, formerly an art teacher at Pomona High School, was ruled insane by Pomona Superior Court Judge Howard D. McClain Thursday after testimony to that effect by two psychiatrists who had examined Jackson earlier.

Prior to committing Jackson, however, McClain ruled him guilty of manslaughter in the shooting of Minott E. Edwards, 57. Jackson originally was charged with murder.

Authorities said that Jackson had been a client of Edwards and had gone to Edwards for assistance because he believed himself to have been given rides in space ships. They said that after his arrest, Jackson complained, however, that Edwards had been tampering with his mind.

The psychiatrists testified that Jackson was "a danger to himself and others" and recommended his commitment. McClain ordered periodic reports to the court on the progress of Jackson's treatment at the hospital.

Jackson was committed indefinitely, or until cured, and his case remains before the court pending final disposition.

Homosexual sergeant loses Air Force fight

HAMPTON, Va. (AP) — A panel of Air Force officers Friday night turned back T. Sgt. Leonard P. Matlovich's challenge to military regulations banning homosexuals and recommended that he be discharged because he is gay.

Lt. Col. Richard L. Friese, a veteran of 31 years in the Air Force and president of the board, recommended that Matlovich receive a general discharge. Air Force regulations say a general discharge is a "separation from the Air Force under honorable conditions."

Matlovich has no avenue of appeal to a military court, but his case can be considered by a military review board. Matlovich's chief defense attorney said the case would be appealed through the federal courts, if necessary.

The three-man board reached its decision after 4 hours and 22 minutes of deliberation.

Matlovich, 32, was smiling at an impromptu news conference after the decision was announced.

He held up a bicentennial half-dollar and said, "It says 200 years of freedom. Not yet ... it will be some day."

He said he intended to fight for the rights not only of homosexuals but of blacks and all minorities.

"It was my personal loss, but it will be humanity's gain. It now becomes a campaign."

Asked if he had any idea why the board decided the way it did, he said, "I have no idea."

A defense lawyer said "they (members of the board) just don't like homosexuals."

Under a general discharge, Matlovich loses no veteran benefits.

Integration expert slain

DAYTON, Ohio (AP) — Desegregation planner Dr. Charles A. Glatt died Friday after being shot four times, allegedly by a middle-aged father of seven who was quoted as saying, "I did what I had to do."

The incident took place in the building in which Glatt had been writing an integration proposal for the city's schools. He was an expert in the field and had prepared desegregation plans for such cities as Philadelphia, Indianapolis and San Francisco.

Neal Bradley Long, 48, a white Dayton service station attendant, was arraigned before a U.S. magistrate and charged with murder in the three-story federal building where Glatt, also white, was shot. No plea was entered and a preliminary hearing was set for Thursday.

Long, appearing in a shortsleeved blue work shirt and work shoes, is divorced, authorities said.

After the shooting, which occurred about 3 p.m., Glatt, 47, underwent surgery at a local hospital for bullet wounds in the left shoulder, chest, abdomen and neck. He died on the operating table, but the announcement of his death was withheld pending notification of his family.

Brush fire hits 200 acres

Fire blackened about 200 acres of brush in the foothills north of Duarte Friday afternoon, but caused no major damage.

The fire, which started about 3:30 p.m., billowed black smoke across the foothill areas all the way to Alta Loma.

Ford in L.A.

OKLAHOMA (AP) — President Ford told wheat-conscious Oklahomans on Friday he is optimistic that a long-term grain agreement will be worked out with the Soviet Union so that he can lift a temporary ban on sales to the Russians.

The Oklahoma speech began a business, political and pleasure trip for the President, who was accompanied by his wife Betty. The journey took him out of the White House for the fourth consecutive week.

After an evening fund-raising reception in Oklahoma City, Ford flew to Los Angeles Friday night.

During three days in California he will make speeches and hold television interviews in Los Angeles, Malibu, Palo Alto, Anaheim and San Francisco.

Fromme trial ordered for Nov. 4

SACRAMENTO, Calif. (AP) — Lynette "Squeaky" Fromme, calling out the "sooner the better," on Friday was ordered to stand trial Nov. 4 after pleading innocent to a charge she tried to assassinate President Ford.

She also reluctantly agreed to the judge's own motion that she be examined by a psychiatrist to determine if she is competent to stand trial and act as her own attorney.

The 26-year-old disciple of convicted mass murderer Charles Manson entered her plea before U.S. District Court Judge Thomas J. MacBride, who also rejected a motion to further reduce her bail from $350,000.

MacBride gave Miss Fromme the option of her trial starting either Nov. 4 or Nov. 10, and the diminutive redhead spoke up: "Sooner the better." There was no further argument over when she would face the jury trial on the charge, which carries a maximum penality of life imprisonment.

Miss Fromme, whose bail was cut from $1 million to $350,000 on Tuesday, is accused of pointing a .45-caliber pistol at President Ford while he was shaking hands in Capitol Park on Sept. 5. The gun did not fire and Ford was unhurt.

E. Richard Walker, the public defender now representing Miss Fromme, said he would appeal the bail ruling to the 9th Circuit Court in San Francisco, and the judge set an Oct. 17 hearing for a defense motion to move the trial from the state capital.

MacBride questioned Miss Fromme on her knowledge of the law, and said he was trying to "seriously dissuade" her from trying to represent herself.

At one point Miss Fromme said, "Your honor, I know nothing whatsoever about federal law and very little about state law."

The judge answered, "Miss Fromme, that's what worries me."

He then ordered the psychiatric examination, saying: "I'm obligated to order an examination to determine her state of mind — not her intelligence, but her competency to stand trial and be her own counsel."

Miss Fromme said she didn't want a psychiatric examination, but she relented after the judge agreed to allow the examination to be tape-recorded. Miss Fromme said this was necessary to guard against being quoted out of context.

FBI'S Kelley relieved as SLA roundup 'completed'

KANSAS CITY (AP) — FBI Director Clarence M. Kelley said Friday he believes the arrest of Patricia Hearst and three associates in San Francisco completes the roundup of the small and tightly knit band of revolutionaries called the Symbionese Liberation Army.

"We don't know of any other SLA members, they're all accounted for," Kelley told a news conference in which he expressed great relief that the long hunt for Patty Hearst had come to "a satisfactory solution ... without bloodshed or violence."

Kelley was asked where Miss Hearst has been since the SLA kidnapped her on Feb. 4, 1974, but he refused to go into details.

"The investigation is continuing, with the possibility that it could develop some cases of harboring," Kelley said without elaborating.

Why did she return to San Francisco?

"We don't know."

How long had she been there?

"We think about three weeks."

Asked about reports the arrests were a fluke, he countered with an assertion that they were the result of good, solid investigative work. And he said the tracking down and breaking up of the SLA is worth the more than $2.6 million it has cost.

"I am concerned about this and other groups of revolutionaries that would overthrow our government using the weapon of violence," he said.

Did the FBI have anything to indicate that Patty Hearst was a genuine convert to the SLA.

"We do not have this," Kelley replied. "It has been reported to me that she wants to be reunited with her family and will be taken back into the bosom of that very close group."

Kelley said the FBI had never been able to infiltrate the SLA, and he indicated this also was true with some other underground groups.

They are too tightly knit and are clever in their security measures against intruders, he said.

"There were some who said the failure of the FBI and other law enforcement agencies to find Patty Hearst was an indication of their fallibility," Kelley said. "The credibility of the FBI has been assaulted."

He was serious throughout the questioning, but his voice seemed to take on a light-hearted touch when he noted he no longer will be tormented everywhere he goes by the question: "Why can't you catch Patty Hearst?"

Shriver starts drive for Demo nomination

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sargent Shriver, the most famous brother-in-law in American politics, launches his own campaign today for the 1976 Democratic presidential nomination despite a likely persistent obstacle — no matter what he says, many think he's just holding the door, for Sen. Edward M. Kennedy.

"There would be those who would say I was a stalking horse for Teddy even after I was inaugurated and living in the White House," the 59-year-old Shriver remarked recently. "There's nothing I can do about it so I don't worry about it."

Shriver begins his campaign after repeated public statements by Kennedy that he won't be a candidate in 1976 under any circumstances.

And Shriver has added one of his brother-in-law's key assistants to his own small staff.

Richard Drayne, Kennedy's Senate press secretary for years, has left to become involved in the planning, strategy and issues of the Shriver campaign.

Shriver, who has never held elective office, brings to his campaign the same apparently boundless enthusiasm that marked his other public roles as head of the Peace Corps and the Office of Economic Opportunity, U.S. ambassador to France, and as Sen. George McGovern's sixth and final choice to replace Sen. Thomas Eagleton, D-Mo., in the No. 2 spot on the 1972 Democratic ticket.

Sabotage conviction

DENVER (AP) — Anti-war activist Cameron David Bishop, on the FBI's 10 Most Wanted List for six years before his arrest in March, was convicted in U.S. District Court on Friday of three counts of sabotage in the 1969 bombing of transmission lines.

He was acquitted on a fourth count.

One of a few people in U.S. history charged with sabotage in peacetime, Bishop was accused of bombing utility lines that supplied power to a Colorado defense plant.

The verdict in the case came after a jury of 11 women and one man had deliberated for 11 hours over a two-day period. Bishop said he would appeal the verdict.

Bishop's wife, who had suffered apparent epileptic seizures during the trial, collapsed in tears when the verdict was read.

LAST LOOK BACK — Freddie Lee Pitts, right, looks backward down the long walkway as he leaves Raiford Prison Friday with Wilbert Lee, at his side. Both were released after serving 12 years at Florida State prison in Starke, Fla., for two murders another man said he committed.

Innocent men jailed 12 years, finally free

STARKE, Fla. (AP) — Freddie Pitts and Wilbert Lee walked out of the Florida State Prison as free men Friday, 12 years after they were sent here to die for two murders another man says he committed.

Showing little emotion, the two friends who spent eight years on death row walked out the prison's main gate shortly after noon. They had stayed for one last meal — a prison lunch.

Their pardons, signed by Gov. Reubin Askew and the required three members of the state cabinet, were filed with the secretary of state's office at noon.

"The only thing on my mind is getting out," said Pitts, 31.

Lee, 40, added: "When I'm 300 or 400 miles down the road, I could probably give you an answer how I feel. Right now, I don't feel anything."

The two black men were twice convicted and sentenced to the electric chair for the Aug. 1, 1963, robbery-killings of two white Port St. Joe service station attendants. Both have stated their belief that their convictions were racially motivated.

Pitts and Lee left behind in neighboring Union Correctional Institute the man who convinced the state pardon board he committed the slayings, Curtis "Boo" Adams. He is serving a life term for a similar killing in Fort Lauderdale.

Beirut battle continues

BEIRUT, Lebanon (AP) — Christians and Moslems battled in Beirut streets Friday despite a dusk-to-dawn curfew clamped on the city's paralyzed commercial districts. Police reported 52 bodies recovered from eight separate battle areas of Beirut.

Authorities said the count was incomplete because security men could not enter many combat zones, where uncollected corpses lay in alleyways and fires raged out of control.

Syria sent two high-ranking officials to Lebanon to try to mediate the bloody conflict between Christian right-wingers and Moslem leftists. Abdul Halim Khaddam, Syria's foreign minister and deputy premier, and Chief of Staff Gen. Hikmat Chehabi conferred with President Suleman Franjieh immediately after arrival in the capital.

Living cost up slightly

WASHINGTON (AP) — The government reported Friday that living costs rose a relatively modest two-tenths of one per cent in August, giving consumers their best inflation news in three years. But a presidential spokesman cautioned against premature celebration.

The Labor Department said the August figure was the smallest monthly increase since consumer prices rose one-tenth of a per cent in August 1972. It followed increases of 1.2 per cent in July — biggest of the year — and eight-tenths of a per cent in June.

The buying power of the average paycheck also showed improvement, registering the first yearly gain since 1973.

Portugal gets new premier

LISBON, Portugal (AP) — Premier Jose Pinheiro de Azevedo was sworn in Friday with a new government dominated by Socialist and centrist civilians and moderate military officers — a lineup that confirms a sharp setback to Communist political ambitions.

Adm. Azevedo called his cabinet a "government of national salvation" and set it to work to heal Portugal's deep social divisions, rescue a faltering economy and restore the respect for law.

The sixth provisional government in 17 months was three weeks in the making and resulted from an anti-Communist backlash that drove former Premier Vasco Goncalves from power.

Woman in blast critical

A Hacienda Heights woman, burned over 80 per cent of her body in a natural gas explosion in her home Wednesday, remained in critical condition today in County-USC Medical Center's burn ward.

The victim, Jayne Ubiner, 40, suffered second-degree burns when she set off the blast and flash fire when she lighted a cigarette in her home at 16268 Cantelones Ave. Damage to the house was estimated at between $5,000 and $10,000.

Bearded robber sought youth jailed in probe

Montclair Police are searching for a bearded man who simulated a gun and robbed Penney's Service Center in the Montclair Plaza of an undetermined amount of cash.

The manager of the service center told officers the man took money from the cash register Thursday night and ran out the door to a car driven by a woman with long blonde hair.

The robber was described as about 40, with a large beard and brown hair. The woman was driving an older model dark green two-door Oldsmobile with yellow and black out-of-state plates.

A 17-year-old youth was arrested for investigation of burglary in Ontario after he was seen by a police officer running from a bakery truck that had been broken into at Weber's Bread, 938 W. Holt Blvd. Thursday night.

Officer Don McGready said he was on routine patrol when he saw the youth bolt from between two bakery trucks in front of the bakery. McGready said he pursued the youth to a trash bin where he found him hiding. The youth was taken into custody and two baskets full of bread and other bakery items were seized.

Officers checking the area found a bakery truck had been broken into and a number of bakery items taken.

Schmitz to run for Senate?

SACRAMENTO (AP) — John Schmitz, former American Independent party candidate for President, is about to enter the race for the Republican nomination for the U.S. Senate in 1976.

Schmitz said in a telephone interview Thursday with The Associated Press that he will make a final decision this weekend at the Republican State Central Committee meeting in San Diego.

Water dispute evaporates; L.V. to buy firm

A five-year feud over the ownership of the water company which serves residents of fashionable Mountain Springs Estates in La Verne is finally heading toward resolution.

The La Verne City Council has agreed to accept the water company from residents and to integrate it into the city's main system.

This means that residents of the private development will probably pay less for their service than they did under private ownership.

Present owners of the Sharder 3 Water Co. offered the system to the City Monday night free of charge, provided the city will retire the company's debts estimated at between $4,000 and $5,000.

The council instructed City Atty. Wynne S. Furth to examine existing legal documents and draw up the necessary papers for the takeover.

"That's great news," Pat Sampson, president of the water company, commented after the action. "We never wanted to be in the water business in the first place. We're happy to give the whole system to the city."

What cleared the roadblock before the takeover was a decision last summer in Pomona Superior Court wresting control of the water company from developer Pat Sinclair and giving it to the homeowners.

That ended a lengthy fight between the developer and the homeowners, during which Sinclair had threatened to shut off water because residents refused to pay his special assessments.

The council had attempted to acquire the water company while Sinclair was in control, but refused to pay him the $40,000 to $50,000 he had asked.

Sinclair had levied special assessments and other rates on water users to pay for upkeep and maintenance, while continuing to charge rates levied by the city.

Under the present proposal, residents of Mountain Springs Estates will get their water for the same price as the rest of the city's water users.

"We intend to keep the lot on which the present water tank stands," Sampson explained. "We'd like to turn it into a minipark."

City Manager George Caswell told the council Monday night that he has been informed there would be no need for any immediate repairs.

He said the city already is furnishing water to 65 customers of the Sharder 3 Water Co. on a contract basis.

Sampson said that as soon as the city takes the water system over, he will move to dissolve the water corporation.

TRUCKERS MEET

William Quinn, left, terminal manager of Western Gillette Inc. of Ontario, and Milt Huebsch, operations manager of Yellow Freight System Inc. of Fontana were among more than 200 transcontinental and local truckers taking part in the recent annual dinner of the Valley Transportation Club. The club's members range from Redlands to Industry. Don McCawley and Al Goodwin, both of Fontana, were co-chairmen of the event at the Ontario Holiday Inn. Club officers are Bill Kisman, president; Don Verburg, vice president; Bob Bressler, secretary; and Hal Alexander, treasurer. The group meets monthly.

Witness places valley man at scene of dump killing

A prosecution witness has placed a former Upland Realtor at an Ontario dumpsite in September of last year when a 27-year-old mentally retarded man was shot to death there.

Jeanette Adelman, 35, of Stockton, testifying before a West Valley Superior Court jury, said the defendant, Samual L. Guardalibene, 60, of Ontario, accused of murder, was one of four persons present at the dumpsite east of Archibald Avenue when Joseph Gomez, 27, was shot to death. Gomez's badly decomposed body was found four months later hidden under some bushes and wrapped in a tarpaulin in Riverside County.

Police were guided to the gravesite by Robert Thomas Bradley Sr. of Ontario, also named by Miss Adelman as one of those present at the dump. Telford, in an earlier trial where he was convicted of second degree murder, was identified by Miss Adelman as the man who carried the .22 caliber rifle that is believed to be the murder weapon.

Miss Adelman recalled how she, Guardalibene, Telford, Ronald Lawrence Marshal and Mary Pary Pacheco had struck up a conversation with Gomez in an Ontario pizza parlor one night in September that ended with the group going to the dumpsite in three cars.

She said during the course of the evening Guardalibene, Telford, and Marshall walked into the wash. Gomez then came over to her, saying he had $1,000. She said a short time later Guardalibene and Marshall returned to the cars without Telford and started talking to Gomez. She said Gomez and Marshal went into the wash, with Gaurdalibene, Miss Pacheco and herself following.

In the middle of the wash, Miss Adelman said Guardalibene told them Telford was going to shoot Gomez. Miss Adelman said both she and Miss Pacheco became fearful and ran up a hill to hide under a grapevine.

Miss Adelman recalled how a few minutes later she heard a shot and saw Telford coming through the bushes towards them. She said Telford walked past them and into the wash where she heard a second shot, a sound like bricks falling, and hysterical laughing.

The Stockton woman told the jury that after the first shot she saw a dome light come on in Guardalibene's car and heard Guardalibene mumbling something about getting a doctor.

Earlier in the courtroom of Judge James Cunningham, Sr., Ontario Police Officer William Haigh told jurors that he stopped Telford in January for a traffic violation and the defendent began telling him about a murder. He said Telford led him to Gomez's body, giving him several conflicting stories about how the murder had taken place.

Chino board stalls plans for building

Chino school trustees have postponed action on new building plans in order to take a closer look at the proposed construction sequence.

Supt. Royce Lapp's plans had called for additions to Los Serranos and Glenmeade Elementary schools and Buena Vista Continuation High School by July 1977.

The additions were proposed as the first, if voters approve an $8.5 million bond issue on Nov. 4.

Lapp had recommended approval of contracts with Carmichael-Kemp architects to develop the plans for the additional buildings. Seven rooms each were proposed for Glenmeade and Buena Vista, and 11 rooms would be added at Los Serranos.

New construction plans were presented this week by trustee Al McCombs, however. His plans include adding a primary-grade school adjacent to Magnolia Junior High. Also, a school site would be purchased in southwest Chino, and a junior high site would be procured.

The board is expected to continue discussions on new buildings at next Tuesday's meeting.

Hearing set in rape of stranded woman

A young Pomona man, charged with the kidnaping, rape and robbery of a woman bartender early Aug. 31, has been ordered into Pomona Superior Court to answer the accusations.

He is Clarence Manule Burch, 19, of 1199 Hillside Drive, who was bound over at his preliminary hearing before Pomona Municipal Court Judge James Piatt. Burch's arraignment was scheduled for Oct. 1 and he was ordered held in lieu of $25,000 bail.

Burch is charged in a seven-count complaint which also includes counts of felonious assault and two other sex offenses. He was arrested several hours after the woman, who works in a Pomona restaurant, told police she was kidnaped after her car stalled at Towne Avenue and Arrow Highway. She said she was taken to Pomona High School and later to Cal Poly and attacked at both locations.

She also said that besides threatening to kill her, her assailant beat her up and tried to set her hair on fire.

Fire destroys $2,500 in ham radio equipment

A ham radio operator lost $2,500 in radio equipment in a Pomona fire Thursday.

Firemen called to 775 N. Towne Ave., Pomona, discovered flames in a rear bedroom and bath shooting from the structure. Although the fire was confined to that area, firemen estimated $2,000 damage to the structure and $2,500 loss in contents.

The contents included both bedroom furniture and ham radio equipment.

There was extensive smoke and heat damage throughout the house.

Firemen cited a short in an electric blanket as the probable cause of the fire. The blanket was left on and no one was home when the two engine companies, a truck unit and rescue squad arrived.

Chino council rejects pleas for stop signs

Chino city councilmen have rejected requests for stop signs at three corners, and ordered the removal of signs at two other locations.

Despite protests from Councilman Angel Martinez, who voted against the motion, the council turned down requests for stop signs at Baker and Terry avenues, Baker and Harrison avenues, and Harrison at Russell Avenue.

Removal of a stop sign at Terry and Russell and a yield sign at the corner of Terry and Lewis avenues were also approved by councilmen.

Public Works Director John Gerardi said a thorough study had revealed the volume of traffic, visibility and accident history at the locations do not indicate a need for the signs.

Also, the existing stop signs at the two locations cited are not appropriate and should be removed, said Gerardi. He added that no accidents have been reported for the past two years at any locations in the study.

Martinez said the new signs should be added and present ones retained. "No way can we cut off the speeders without stop signs. At least the signs break up a long stretch. You're going to have accidents there sooner or later."

Citizens in the area had petitioned the council for the new stop signs.

In other business, Gerardi reported a grading problem involving new homes at 17th Street and Walnut Avenue had been essentially corrected.

Neighboring homeowners on Oaks Avenue charged at a recent council meeting that the fill was five feet high on some lots in the southeast corner of the new tract. The grade was higher than some residents' backyards, they said, and there were fears the new homes would "look down into the yards."

Gerardi noted the firm hired to complete grading on the Arciero Brothers' development had made an "error." Fills now have been reduced to three feet, however, he added. Two of the six lots in question will have three feet of grade, and the remaining lots will be no higher than two feet.

Residents had also cited a possible drainage problem, but Gerardi indicated there was none. Despite fears of flooding, he added drainage will travel mostly south and slightly west in the area, away from the homes on Oaks.

Legislators will tackle youth crime—McVittie

Assemblyman Bill McVittie, D-65th Dist., told a group of Pomona homeowners that legislation to reform the juvenile justice system in California will be a high priority when the state legislature reconvenes next January.

"Across the country today, juveniles are accounting for about one-half the arrests for serious crimes. The rate of violent crimes committed by young people is far above the growth in similar violations by adults," he reported.

The Upland legislator appeared Thursday night before a newly formed association of residents of Montvue Elementary School in north-east Pomona.

Citing juvenile crime statistics, McVittie reported that in California the latest figures available showed more than 360,000 juvenile arrests in one year — nearly one-third for felonies.

"Authorities place much of the blame for the bulging juvenile halls on the breakdown of the family unit and some even on television violence. But whatever the seed may be, it's the spreading roots that should concern us. Our present juvenile justice system is misdirected and often lumps together the violent juvenile offender with those whose crime is truancy or curfew violations," he said.

McVittie reported that 35 per cent of the juveniles admitted to juvenile hall are released within 24 hours, and two-thirds are out within 72 hours. "Most shouldn't have gone there in the first place."

The lawmaker declared the present system fails to treat major juvenile offenses as if they are serious crimes, but treats matters of emotions and domestic crisis as if they were serious criminal cases.

McVittie said legislation proposed by state Sen. Robert B. Presley, D-Riverside, would permit certain juvenile cases to be tried in adult courts based upon the circumstances and gravity of the crime.

"Fundamental reforms in the juvenile justice system began moving through the legislature this past year and I'm hopeful we will soon produce results that will stem the rise in juvenile crime and instill a little more common sense into the whole process," he concluded.

Ontario mishaps hurt 2

A 24-year-old Ontario man and an 11-year-old Ontario youth were injured in two separate traffic accidents in Ontario Thursday night, police reported.

The first accident occurred about 6:30 p.m. at Campus Avenue and I Street when a motorcycle crashed into the front end of a car driven by David Hotchkiss of 949 N. Vine St., Ontario.

The motorcyclist, William Roscoe Milburn, 24, of 1515 Ashbury Square, Ontario, was transported to Kaiser Hospital in Fontana and treated for multiple injuries. He was later released.

Paul Alejandre, 11, of 1019 S. Greenwood Way, Ontario, was treated at Ontario Community Hospital for leg and arm bruises and abrasions after he fell off the side of a car he was riding in front of his home. He was later released.

The accident was reported about 7:42 p.m. by Larry Gene Green, 19, of 1027 S. Greenwood Way, the driver of the vehicle.

Green told officers he consented to let the youth ride on the side of his car as he was driving home. Green said he stopped the car and the youth fell to the pavement. The tires of the car ran over the youths ankle and wrist, Green said.

'Dead' man is back to life

CULVER CITY (AP)—A taco stand owner was brought back to life 10 minutes after he apparently died of knife wounds, authorities said.

Dr. Ralph Hutchings, a heart specialist, said he found no pulse or blood pressure when Cabral was brought into the emergency room. He quickly opened the man's chest, found an inch-long hole in the heart and sewed it up.

Two sister teams clean up in cake-decorating contest

Two sets of sisters shared in a Claremont near-sweep of ribbons in the junior division of the My Chocolate Cake decorating contest at the Los Angeles County Fair at Pomona.

Donna Gray, 15, of 868 Kent Drive, a Claremont High sophomore, was awarded the blue ribbon, and also took home the fifth-place ribbon in the best-tasting category.

Donna's sister Sharon, 12, a seventh-grader at El Roble Intermediate School, placed third, and also received fourth in the best-tasting category.

Cynthia Potter, 2461 N. San Jacinto Drive, Claremont, was awarded the second-place ribbon, and her sister, Susan, who is only 7, received fifth spot.

In fourth place was Charles Leslie, 436 E. Colorado Ave., Glendale.

Mrs. D. T. Gray, the girls' mother, said that she was surprised when she heard Donna's number announced as winner.

"The cakes were so fancily decorated last year, that I didn't think the girls had a chance," Mrs. Gray commented.

She said that she was in 4-H work when she was young and that she had encouraged her daughters.

Mrs. Gray explained that the girls started with basic recipes and varied the ingredients.

"They baked the cakes before school, and then decorated them after school. We had to hurry to get to the fair on time," Mrs. Gray said.

The Gray sisters are not new to fair competition, because last year they both placed in the My Favorite Lemon Pie Contest.

Neither are the Potter sisters new to fair competition.

Cynthia, a fifth-grader at Chaparral School, had been trying to land a blue ribbon for two years, and at the 1975 fair she has won three first places in sewing, and three first places in arts and crafts.

Susan, a third grader at Chaparral School, brought home her first blue ribbon two years ago when she was 5 and submitted chocolate chip cookies in competition against 18-year-olds.

This year along with her ribbon for a decorated cake in the shape of a rocket ship she received three blue ribbons in sewing, two blue ribbons in cooking, and two blue ribbons in arts and crafts.

Mrs. Potter said that the girls took the recipe for their cakes from a book she had as a Brownie.

She revealed that she had been a 4-H sewing leader for 10 years, and because Claremont doesn't have a local 4-H club, she has taught the girls herself.

Not to be outdone by her daughters, Mrs. Potter brought home a fourth-place ribbon in the senior (over 18) division decorating contest.

Ignition device ends pilot lights

SACRAMENTO (AP) — The new state energy commission has approved a development contract for an ignition device that would eliminate pilot lights on gas appliances.

The commission says the device would cut gas consumption by 10 per cent because it wouldn't burn continuously like a pilot light.

The vote Wednesday was for a three-month contract with Science Applications, Inc., for a type of spark generator.

For paradise

California received its name from Spanish conquistadors, possibly Cortez himself. It was the name of an imaginary island, an earthly paradise, in "Las Serges de Esplandian," a Spanish romance written by Montalvo in 1510. BETTY BAXTER
SUNDAY
10:50 A.M. & 6 P.M.

A PERSONAL WORD FROM ORAL ROBERTS ABOUT BETTY BAXTER
THE BETTY BAXTER STORY you are about to hear is the greatest story I have ever heard. It is a drama of deliverance in our time ranking with the greatest miracles of the Bible. That a young girl, hopelessly crippled and deformed as the woman Jesus healed in Luke 13:10-13, could have the faith to believe Jesus would heal her, is a challenge to every person who has ever felt the awful power of sickness and disease.
Jesus appeared to Betty Baxter, talked with her, laid his nail-scarred hands on her twisted, matted spine and in a moment's time straightened her bent body and made her whole. It is a true story, occurring in Fairmont, Minnesota.
The Fairmont Daily Sentinel carried the story of her healing in bold headlines on its front page. Shortly after her healing, one thousand people gathered in the High School Auditorium to see and hear her tell her story.

FCC denies ban on broadcasters despite letters

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Federal Communications Commission seems unable to stop an avalanche of mail urging it not to do something it never considered doing.

The letters and postcards involving religious broadcasting total about 1.3 million, says Harry Shockro, the FCC's chief of administrative services, who oversees the mail.

But that's 600,000 more than the estimate on Aug. 1, when the commission explained in a public notice that there was never any question of banning religious broadcasting from the airwaves, as almost all the letter writers feared.

The FCC made the explanation in denying a petition for a freeze on applications by religious institutions for television or FM radio channels reserved for educational stations.

Two Los Gatos, Calif., broadcast consultants, Jeremy D. Lansman and Lorenzo W. Milam, contended that the assignment of more than one educational channel in a community to a religious group deprived minority groups of access to the scarce channels.

Their petition, filed last Dec. 5, brought the snowballing avalanche of mail and phone calls to the FCC.

The FCC, in denying it, said: "As a government agency, the commission is enjoined by the First Amendment to observe a stance of neutrality toward religion, acting neither to promote nor to inhibit religion."

The FCC pointed out that the case never did not involve religious programming on any commercial network or station. It involved only the channels set aside for educational use.

And the two consultants have insisted repeatedly that they were not against religious broadcasting but only those institutions which use channels to present a one-sided view.

But the mail continued unabated, spurred by many ministers, who continued to exhort their churchgoers from their pulpits or in church bulletins to write the FCC in protest.

Even in the past couple of weeks, church bulletins in many communities were still saying the FCC is holding hearings on whether to ban religious broadcasting. The FCC never scheduled hearings in the case and rejected the MilamLansman petition without any hearings.

The 1.3 million letters and postcards dwarf the previous high for mailto the FCC, 110,000 letters when the FCC was considering last year whether to ban advertising from children's TV shows.

Shockro's estimate doesn't include mail addressed to individual commissioners, only that addressed simply to the FCC.

He said that 85 to 90 per cent of the mail opened by his staff recently concerns the religious broadcast question.

A check of Commission Chairman Richard E. Wiley's office showed three large cartons filled with letters addressed to him.

The quantity of the mail ruled out answering it even with form letters. The mail is being piled up in a basement storage room to be kept until Monday, after the period for appealing the Milam-Lansman decision, FCC officials say.

Then it will be disposed of, they say.

Number two

Canada is the world's second largest country territorially, extending from the North Pole to the U.S. border and including all the islands of the Arctic from near Greenland to near the Alaskan border. Its seacoast, one of the world's longest, includes 17,860 miles of mainland and 41,810 miles of islands. Much of the country is covered by the Canadian Shield, the earth's oldest surface rock.

IN RECITAL — Michael LaNier, tenor, and Carla Pfeiffer, contralto, will perform musical selections at the Upland United Methodist Church Tuesday at 7:30 p.m. Ferne Wolfe is accompanist.

Benefit concert at Upland United

A benefit recital is planned at 7:30 p.m. Tuesday in the fellowship hall of the Upland United Methodist Church.

The artists, Carla Pfeiffer, contralto, and Michael LaNier, tenor, will present selections in Engligh and Italian. Ferne Wolf is the accompanist.

The concert is sponsored by the Worship Commission and the Cathedral Choir of the church.

Miss Pfeiffer, a La Verne College graduate, has been soloist for the Claremont United Church of Christ, Congregational, and has been a guest soloist for other churches.

LaNier served as tenor soloist at St. Joseph Catholic Church in Pomona for 10 years and has also been a guest soloist in the valley.

Both are students of Ruth Miller Chamlee of Hollywood and members of the Louis Ronfeldt Chorale.

Mrs. Wolf is a graduate of the USC School of Music and has been active as an accompanist and organist in Covina. She is organist at First Mennonite Church of Upland.

The public is invited to the recital and a reception afterwards.

FTC charges

Safeway overcharged?

WASHINGTON (AP) — Safeway Stores, the nation's largest supermarket chain, overpriced and overcharged on advertised sale items, the Federal Trade Commission has charged.

The FTC alleged Monday that a "significant number" of Safeway stores overcharged customers by failing to mark down advertised specials and by selling those items at regular prices.

The commission has previously made similar charges against the country's second and third largest chains.

A spokesman for Safeway said that overcharges were few and were caused by "human error."

Safeway said in a statement: "The FTC complaint is based on a survey in 56 Safeway stores in which less than 150 out of the 10,000 advertised items were purchased above the advertised price. Because human error cannot be completely eliminated in the complex and demanding job of checking out grocery products, some items will be undercharged and overcharged."

A proposed order issued by the FTC would require that all advertised products be marked at sale prices and sold at or below the advertised price. It would also require the company to post copies of ads at store entrances and at checkout counters.

The rule would not apply when the price of a item is determined by the total value of a customer's order or by the use of coupons.

Patients filled with pins

MILWAUKEE (AP) — Because of a certain unusual type of acupuncture where the needles are left in the body for life, physicians are once in a while encountering patients who are walking pincushions. Radiologists here and in Japan report that X-ray studies reveal the needles can roam throughout the body and may be found literally anywhere.

Dr. Thomas J. Imray, of the Medical College of Wisconsin, and Dr. Yoshihiro Hiramatsu, of Teikyo University School in Tokyo, warn their radiologist colleagues that when the needles are seen in X-ray studies performed for reasons unrelated to acupuncture, they can be confusing because their appearance mimics that of parasitic infections.

This uncommon acupuncture is known as Hari and is still occasionally practiced in Japan. It consists of inserting many fine gold needles through the skin into the tissue underneath. After the needles are in place at the proper depth, they are cut off at the skin surface. Hari acupuncture may accumulate thousands of needles in the tissue below the skin, the radiologists report.

Musical group to play

"The Bridge," a musical group from Azusa Pacific College, will perform Sunday at 7 p.m. at Valley Community Drive-In Church, San Dimas.

The group, comprised of 17 college students, offers a contemporary sound characterized by an upbeat tempo and featuring brass accompaniment. Don Neufeld is director.

Hospital suspends Finch

EL DORADO SPRINGS, Mo. (AP) — Dr. Bernard Finch and his medical partner have been suspended from certain privileges at the Cedar County Memorial Hospital for violation of hospital rules.

Finch was suspended for violating hospital rules by taking patients' charts to his home to complete them. Dr. Harry Langeluttig, Finch's partner, said he was suspended for starting a hysterectomy at the hospital Tuesday without another doctor in the operating room, also a violation of hospital rules.

He said Finch arrived about 10 minutes after the start of surgery.

The two-week suspensions took effect Thursday and prohibit Finch and Langeluttig from performing newly scheduled surgery or admitting patients to the hospital. The hospital board which approved the suspensions said the two doctors could perform already scheduled surgery and provide obstetric-gynecological care.

Finch was admitted to medical practice in Missouri in December after a lengthy licensing battle with the state Board of Healing Arts. He had been denied his license on the basis of his 1961 first-degree murder conviction in California in the death of his previous wife. He moved to El Dorado Springs four years ago after he was paroled.

Mrs. Finch said the two doctors were not told in advance that action was planned.

Seven forensics experts to study RFK evidence

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Seven forensics experts from around the nation will gather here next week to study evidence in the Robert F. Kennedy assassination.

The experts, who will examine materials relating to the 1968 assassination in the Ambassador Hotel, are expected to determine whether it is necessary to fire the death weapon again and whether a second gun could have been used in the crime, as some critics have alleged.

DeWayne Wolfer, head of the police crime lab, concluded his testimony Thursday, and Superior Court Judge Robert Wenke announced that the identification of evidence introduced in the 1969 trial of Sirhan Sirhan has been completed.

Wolfer identified several items of evidence Thursday but said he couldn't remember the results of all his examinations of the items.

The day before, Wolfer testified he was certain that time had taken its toll on some of the evidence, particularly the bullets which killed Kennedy.

When asked whether the striations (marks left on a bullet by the inside of a gunbarrel) were the same as when he first examined them, Wolfer replied, "I'm sure they're not."

Earlier he had commented that bullets and shell casings were "tremendously darkened" from the passage of seven years.

Judge Wenke said Thursday he is satisfied the hearings have produced a solid basis for the seven experts, paid from county coffers, to begin their examination.

Deputy County Counsel John Lynch will report to Wenke today about plans to expedite the second phase of the investigation.

The judge has ordered the Los Angeles Police Commission to produce whatever documents they may have relating to tests run by Wolfer.

Possible existence of additional reports was indicated by Wolfer's testimony Thursday.

Outside the courtroom afterwards, skepticism was voiced by Mel Levine, an attorney representing Paul Schrade, who was wounded during the assassination. Schrade has been trying without success to gain access to evidence in the case.

"There is enough material now for tests, but we may also need trajectory studies and the (missing) ceiling panels and information contained in the Los Angeles Police Department's 10-volume summary of the investigation," Levine said.

Bicyclist had proof of story

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP) — Peggy Wright had a red welt on her backside to prove her story.

She stormed into the suburban Avon Lake Police Station on Wednesday to complain that she had been slapped on her behind while riding her bicycle by someone in a passing car. She said the blow almost knocked her off the bike.

The 30-year-old Cleveland woman showed policemen the mark and led them to a service station where the alleged culprits had stopped their car.

Police arrested two 17-year-olds and filed delinquent assault charges against them in juvenile court.

"If these kids meant this as a compliment, I can think of better ways to be complimented," the woman said. "There are enough hazards riding bikes without having your derriere become a target."

Change pledge

The original Pledge of Allegiance was published Sept. 8, 1892, in the Youth's Companion, a weekly magazine in Boston. It contained the phrase "my flag", changed 30 years later to "flag of the United States of America." In 1954, Congress added the words "under God."

USC, Bell do it again

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Massive Ricky Bell exploded for two long touchdown runs and gained 215 yards Friday night as fourth-ranked Southern California defeated Pacific-8 Conference rival Oregon State 24-7.

The 215-pound tailback, who opened his season last week with 256 yards and four touchdowns against Duke to grab the national leadership in both departments, ran 53 yards for a score with the game only 1:53 old the first time USC had the ball.

Bell's second score came in the third period after a 50-yard punt by Oregon State's Wendel Smith rolled dead at the Southern Cal 38.

Bell skipped around right end for 12 yards, then ran for two and then made a key block for quarterback Vince Evans, springing the passer loose and giving him time to throw.

After scrambling, Evans hit bell for a 17-yard passing gain.

On the following play Evans ran for six yards and then one play later handed to Bell on a sweep around right end.

Bell, dodging and leaping, romped straight up the middle 25 yards for the touchdown with 9:30 gone in the third period to give the Trojans their 24-7 lead in this Pac-8 opener for both schools.

Oregon State, wracked by injuries, got its only touchdown in the first period, tying the score briefly, after Evans fumbled at the USC nine yard line and Bill Ford recovered for the Beavers.

On a play-action fake, quarterback Steve Gervais hit tight end Phil Wroblicky for the score on a nine-yard toss to give the Beavers, 0-2, their first score of the season.

Southern Cal, now 2-0, grabbed a 10-7 lead at the start of the second quarter when Glen Walker kicked a 23-yard field goal.

Bell's first touchdown run was picture perfect before the crowd of 50,165 in Memorial Coliseum.

Taking a handoff from Evans out of the Trojan I formation, the 6-foot-2 Bell broke to the right and when fullback Dave Farmer wiped out OSU's excellent linebacker Bob Horn, Bell cut upfield.

At that point Trojan offensive tackle Marvin Powell blasted two Beavers to the turf as Bell broke to the outside, then cut back and was not touched as he capped the 68-yard drive that took just five plays.

Gervais moved his club effectively in the first quarter but when USC grabbed a 16-7 lead on Ted Roberson's 29-yard run with an interception, the Beaver quarterback came out. He was replaced by Kyle Grossart, considered a better passer.

But the Beavers could gain only three more first downs before halftime.

The game featured the spectatular kicking of junior college transfer Walker, in his second game for the Trojans.

The 6-1, 220-pound punter and placekicker consistently put his kickoffs deep into the OSU end zone. He averaged 49 yards per punt on four kicks and the Beavers rarely returned them because of their height.

John McKay won his 121st game is 16 seasons as the Trojans head coach, equalling the famed Howard Jones for triumphs at the school.

In addition, Southern Cal extended to 26 its Pac-8 unbeaten string dating back to 1971 and it was the seventh victory in a row since last year's 15-15 tie with California.

The Beavers, led by Grossart's 9-14 passing for 110 yards, moved the ball well in a scoreless fourth period and wound up with 16 first downs to USC's 17.

Damien High's Leo Burke (30) is stopped by the San Dimas defenders after gaining some yardage in Damien's 16-0 victory over the Saints Friday night in high school opener.

Damien Defense leads way

By JIM McCONNELL
PB Staff Writer

Who has the best defensive team in the valley?

Well, after Damien High's 16-0 shutout of San Dimas Friday night at the Spartans' field, one would have to say the La Verne-based school would be in line for that distinction.

All the Spartans did was to hold San Dimas, rated a pre-season favorite to cop the Hacienda League crown, to a net of four yards in offense on the night in completely silencing the Saints.

Put that kind of a defense together with the sharp passing of Joe Carroll and the power running of Ruben Lopez, Dennis Gainey, Leo Burke and Bob Alexander and you can figure out what happened Friday at Spartan-land in the 1975 prep opener for both schools.

Damien, under new coach Dick Larson, never really gave San Dimas a chance, especially after assuming a 14-0 half-time lead. About the only thing the San Antonio League representatives had trouble with was the officials, as the Spartans were assessed for 110 yards on 12 rule infractions.

Actually, for San Dimas the game pivoted on one play early in the second quarter. Aided by two Damien penalties totaling 30 yards, the Saints were in business on the Spartan 26-yard line. On a first down play, Saint quarterback dropped back and threw long to Jim Button. Button, in the end zone, extended his body as far as he could and the pass just did dribble off his fingertips.

Denied that potential go-ahead score (the game was still 0-0 then), the Saints still had a chance at a TD as a Loumagne to Sonny LaFargue pass gave S.D. a first down at the Damien 11.

However, the Spartan defense rose to the occasion and nailed Loumagne behind the line, as he tried to pitch out, thus forcing a fumble recovered by Jim Abacherli at the Damien 30.

From that spot the Spartans marched 70 yards for the game's first score. Three straight Carroll completions kept the drive alive, as did a 15-yard walkoff against San Dimas for unsportsman-like conduct.

Camped on the S.D. 10-yard line, Carroll pitched back to Lopez who blazed around left end for the 10 yards and the TD. Rick Davis added the first of his two PAT boots on the evening.

San Dimas could do nothing on its ensuing possession and a short punt put Damien in business again at its own 42.

Carroll struck quickly, hitting Davis on a pass play go for 30 yards. Two Spartan running plays got Damien to the 24, from where Davis and Carroll teamed up once again, this time on a 24-yard scoring aerial.

The fired-up Damien defense held San Dimas quiet the entire second half, and in fact added the only points of that stanza when Saint Doug Harbin was tackled in his own end zone for a safety late in the final quarter after he had fumbled a snap from center on a punt attempt.

For the game the Spartans outgained the Saints by a huge 299-to-four margin in yardage. Carroll sparkled at the QB slot for the hosts, hitting 10 of 16 passes good for 126 yards. Davis caught five of those for 89 yards and the TD.

In contrast, Loumagne hit on only four of 11 tosses and was dumped nine times behind the line trying to pass for a minus 50 yards.

Leading that defensive charge for Damien was linebacker Gregg Elias and tackle Hugo Cargnelutti. Both teamed to dump Loumagne on numerous occasions and Elias added a pass interception to his night's work.

Monarchs blank Garey

By BRENT SHYER
PB Correspondent

In a typical non-league opener marred by innumerable mistakes the Morningside Monarchs trounced the Garey Vikings, 19-0, Friday night at Cal Poly's Kellogg Field.

The Monarchs completely dominated the play throughout the game, and scored the only points they really needed at 6:04 of the first quarter, on a 32-yard field goal by Jay Jefferson.

The Vikings' opening set of downs was stalled at the 32-yard line, and on fourth down James Moore the punter came on. However, the snap from center was poor and the Monarchs ended up with the ball on the Vikes' 28-yard line. Seven plays later, the field goal was made by Jefferson.

Garey's only real bright spot was Stanley Webster, who pounded out 59 yards in 16 carries. Webster played the entire game, both offense and defense, yet still didn't appear to tire.

Moringside added another score at 8:29 of the second quarter when Charels Green caught Ralph Johnson's five-yard toss in the end zone for a touchdown. Jefferson added the extra point to make the score 100.

Again, that scoring drive was possible because of a Garey miscue. A slow snap from center got the ball back to Moore, but that extra second enabled the Morningside defense to get a hand on the ball and block it.

The Monarchs wrapped up the scoring in the first half when Jeff Boyd picked off Milton Banks' throw and ran it back 40-yards to the Vikings' 25-yard-line.

A key run by Dale Patterson kept the drive alive, but the squad from Inglewood had to settle for Jefferson's 21-yard field goal with 30 seconds remaining in the half.

The Vikings were guilty of numerous fumbles and mistakes. They mounted drives behind Webster's jitterbug style of running and Banks' leadership at quarterback, but they just couldn't seem to put it all together when close to the goal line.

The second half was played rather slowly, because of 11 penalties, the greater number of which were major ones. The spirited teams that had come on to the field before the game, and once again before the second half, got a little too "high" on the field of play thus calling for two unsportsmanlike conduct penalties.

The final score of the night before a very sparse gathering of fans, was set up again by Garey, as Webster fumbled and the pigskin was recovered by Morningside's Warren Washington.

The Monarchs brought in a new quarterback, Leamon White, who promptly fired a scoring strike to Boyd. The point after touchdown failed as a couple of the Vikings batted the ball down. The final score read 19-0 Morningside.

Next Friday night, Garey will try to get back on the winning side, as they prepare for their SAL opener against Ganesha in two weeks. The Vikings will travel to Riverside City College to play La Sierra at 8 p.m.

Pactwa wins 1st for Angels

ANAHEIM (AP) — Joe Pactwa, a 28-year-old left-hander recently acquired by the California Angels from the Mexican League, notched his first major league victory with a 1-0 decision over the Minnesota Twins Friday night.

Pactwa, originally signed by the New York Yankees as an outfielder, needed relief help from Jim Brewer in the eighth inning.

Dan Briggs' run-scoring single in the fourth produced the game's only run.

Mickey Rivers led off with a walk and stole his 67th base of the year before Briggs delivered him with a two-out single.

Rod Carew, the American League's leading hitter, had a double and two singles in support of loser Bert Blyleven, 149.

The Twins built a threat against Pactwa in the first inning when Steve Brye drew a one-out walk and Danny Ford singled with two outs. But Pactwa, who made his major league debut in Minnesota last Monday night, coaxed Larry Hisle to fly out.

Hisle also flied out in the third inning after Rod Carew singled with two away, stole his 34th base, and continued to third on catcher Andy Etchebarren's throwing error.

Carew's two-out double in the fifth and a second successive walk to Ford presented Hisle with another opportunity, but he again flied out.

Minnesota was knocking at the door again in the sixth when Dave McKay and Danny Thompson opened with singles. But Mike Poepping grounded into a fielder's choice and Phil Roof hit into a double play.

Boswell's single beats L.A. in 12th

HOUSTON (AP) — Ken Boswell's two-out pinch single in the 12th inning scored Milt May with the winning run Friday night as the Houston Astros trimmed the Los Angeles Dodgers 6-5.

May pinch hit a single and moved to second by Wilbur Howard before Boswell's game-winner.

The teams traded eighth-inning runs and were tied 4-4 entering the ninth, then each club scored in the 11th for the 5-5 deadlock.

A bases-loaded wild pitch by Houston's Jim York pushed the Dodgers' run across in the eighth before Cliff Johnson's 16th home run of the season produced the Astros' run. Then in the 11th Dave Sells drove in a Dodger run with a single before Cesar Cedeno tied it 5-5 with his 12th home run of the year.

Los Angeles scored single runs in the first and third innings on Johnson's fielding error and Willie Crawford's sacrifice fly to left off Houston starter Doug Konieczny.

Singles by Greg Gross and Skip Jutze and a walk to Roger Metzger loaded the bases for the Astros in the fifth before Tommy Helms pinch hit a tworun single to left.

Lee Lacy doubled to lead off the sixth off Astros reliever Mike Cosgrove and took third on a wild pitch. Steve Garvey's sacrifice fly to left scored Lacy to give Los Angeles a 3-2 lead.

But the Astros came back in the bottom of the sixth inning to tie the score at 3-3 on a single by Johnson, Gross' ground-rule double over the left-field wall, and Jutze's RBI single to center.

The Dodgers managed nine hits in the long affair, with Davey Lopes collecting a double and a triple in addition to a stolen base.

Burt Hooton, 17-9, goes for his 12th consecutive victory when he hurls for the Dodgers in tonight's second game.

Duarte nips Devils at wire

By MARK GRIP
PB Correspondent

DUARTE — Duarte High speedster Keith Jackson scored from two yards out with 53 seconds left in the game and Pat Kennedy's point after gave the Falcons a 7-6 come-from-behind win over visiting Pomona Friday night.

Falcon defensive tackle Bob Clarke set up the touchdown with 4:04 left to play, when he recovered a fumble on the Red Devil 44 yard line.

It took Duarte 11 plays to score, but Pomona generously gave away 15 yards when it was cited for a personal foul.

The two teams fought hard defensively in their season opener until Pomona broke the ice with a touchdown at 9:34 of the fourth quarter.

After Pomona took over on downs on its own 29, Harold Walker romped 71 yards for a TD. Hank Zibell's PAT kick was blocked, giving the Devils a 6-0 lead.

Pomona threatened with 2:44 left in the first quarter, reaching the Falcon six before Charles Cole coughed up the football.

Duarte had a chance to score just before the close of the first half, when it blocked a Devil punt and took over on the Devil six yard line. After a five yard gain to the one, the Falcons were penalized twice for five yards moving the ball to the 11.

After a six-yard loss on a broken play, Duarte attempted a 32-yard field goal. Steve Taylor's kick was short with 46 seconds left in the half.

Pomona again had a golden opportunity, but the Falcon defense held quarterback Mark Soto, on fourth and goal from the three yard line, to only two yards on his keeper.

Pomona piled up 350 yards total offense to Duarte's 218. The Devil rushers ran for 312 of those yards. The Falcons accumulated 218 yards on the ground.

Halfback Walker lead all rushers with 119 yards on eight carries, but close behind was fullback Zibell with 126 yards on 21 carries. The other Devil running back Cole, scrambled for 77 yards on eight carries.

Tony Ross led the Falcon runners with 76 yards on 18 carries. His backfield mates Jackson and Lee Neal gained 60 and 57 respectively.

Pomona will travel to Fontana next Friday for an 8 p.m. game and Duarte will visit Damien.

Cowboys cut Cal Poly QB

DALLAS — Jim Zorn, Cal Poly's record-breaking quarterback, was released by the Dallas Cowboys Friday night just two days before the team opens its NFL season against the Los Angeles Rams.

The Cowboys cut Zorn to make room for running back Preston Pearson, who was released earlier this week by the Pittsburgh Steelers.

Zorn, who holds most of Poly's offensive records, was Dallas' third quarterback behind Roger Staubach and Clint Longley.

UCLA is ready for Tennessee

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Quarterback John Sciarra, a big-play offense almost by himself, will be after his second strong showing in a row against Tennessee when the 12th-ranked Bruins host the 10th-ranked Volunteers today.

It also could prove to be his second big game of the season.

The Bruin quarterback ran for more than 100 yards and passed for 117, plus running for three touchdowns, as the UCLA slammed Iowa State 37-21 in the season opener last Saturday.

When UCLA and Tennessee fought to a 17-17 tie at Knoxville last year, Sciarra ran and passed for 390 yards. 390 yards.

The Vols came into the 12:45 p.m. regionally-televised game at Memorial Coliseum after opening the season with a 26-8 victory over Maryland, which had been ranked 14th.

To counter Sciarra, the Vols have Stanley Morgan, who scored three touchdowns, one on a short run, another a 50yard burst and the third on a 71-yard punt return.

Tennessee also has a stout defense anchored by middle linebacker Steve Poole, while UCLA's defense, which bent but didn't really break against Iowa State, still remains a question mark.

After a cautious first half against Iowa State, the Bruins opened up and UCLA Coach Dick Vermeil says his team will go into the meeting with Tennessee less reserved than in its inaugural game.

"We could have passed more against Iowa State, we should have loosened up earlier," he said.

"We want to be a more efficient passing team and get the big play from our outside receivers, Norm Andersen and Wally Henry," Vermeil added.

The lanky Andersen, the Bruins' top receiver, caught two 43-yard bombs from Sciarra last week and the swift Henry set up the opening UCLA touchdown with a 62-yard return of the opening kickoff.

Henry is 5-foot-8, shorter than the 6-2 Andersen, but has 4.6-second speed in the 40 yards.

"Wally hasn't had as many opportunities as Norm and that's our fault," Vermeil said. "He's the type that can take a six-yard pass and go all the way."

Andersen also looks for the Bruins to try to open up.

"We did well when we started to mix it up against Iowa State and I'm quite sure this will be our game plan because if we're going to win we're going to have to pass and run," he said.

Tennessee Coach Bill Battle noted that Poole, his middle linebacker, will have a busy day facing Sciarra and UCLA runners such as Eddie Ayers, Wendell Tyler and Kenny Lee.

"In our defense it's hard for the middle linebacker to make the big plays," Battle said. "Steve reacts to offensive situations and plays the middle tough so our outside men don't have to worry about his territory."

Bosox need six more

By The Associated Press

The Boston Red Sox moved a step closer to clinching the American League's Eastern Division title Thursday night as veteran Rico Petrocelli broke up a 4-4 tie and led Boston to a 7-5 victory over Detroit.

The Sox, who lost the division championship last year when they were overtaken by the Baltimore Orioles in the final month, reduced their "magic number" to six, meaning any combination of six Boston victories or Baltimore defeats will send the Red Sox into the playoffs.

In other AL games Thursday night, Baltimore nipped Milwaukee 6-5, Cleveland defeated the New York Yankees 3-2, Kansas City edged Oakland 5-4, Texas outslugged the Chicago White Sox 10-6 and California blanked Minnesota 1-0.

Boston scored four times in the first, but needed Petrocelli's two-run single in the fifth after after Detroit tied up the game 4-4.

Sports briefs

DELAWARE, Ohio (AP) — Seatrain, lightly raced and lightly regarded, stunned superstar Nero in winning the first division and then whipped another longshot, Polaris Lobell, in the raceoff Friday to capture the Little Brown Jug, the middle jewel of pacing's Triple Crown.

Nero's smashing defeat—he was 3¾ lengths behind Seatrain in the opening heat—ruined his bid to win the Triple Crown. Nero had won the first leg, the Cane Futurity.

LIGONIER, Pa. (AP) — The United States' heavily-favored Ryder Cup forces, paced by long-hitting Tom Weiskopf, swept out to a record 6½-1½ lead over Great Britain and Ireland in Friday's opening rounds of the biennial golf matches.

It was the biggest first day lead either team has enjoyed since this old, international series went to its current, three-day, 32-match format in 1963.

The Americans, with one of the strongest teams ever assembled, remain top-heavy favorites to win and now, staked to the record first-day advantage, have a shot at the all-time winning margin, 23½-8½ run up by the Americans in the 1967 matches at Houston.

BALTIMORE (AP) — Dan Issel, one of the American Basketball Association's top scorers, has been traded by the Kentucky Colonels to the Baltimore Claws for an estimated $750,000 and the rights to Tom Owens.

LONG BEACH, Calif. (AP) — Beau Baugh, Laura's brother, fired a four-under-par 68 Friday to take a one-stroke lead with a 135 total midway through the $22,500 Queen Mary Long Beach Open golf tournament.

Cowboys enjoy 7-0 shutout

By DOUG SPOON
PB Correspondent

EL MONTE — Quarterback Chris Pruitt passed for 140 yards and combined with a balanced running attack to lead Chino High to a 7-0 victory over Arroyo here Friday night.

The low-scoring contest was a direct contrast to last year's meeting between the two teams, in which Chino prevailed, 62-6. In this year's game neither team was able to sustain a very long offensive drive, with the ball changing hands frequently and the bulk of the offense coming from Pruitt's passes.

Running backs Frank Alonzo and Tom Ruiz gained yardage consistently for Arroyo, Alonzo winding up with 39 total yards and Ruiz 52. However, failure to gain the necessary yardage on crucial third down situations plagued the Knights throughout the game.

Neither team came close to the goal line in the first period, with both Pruitt and Arroyo quarterback Ed Hiroto tossing two incomplete passes. In the second period Chino broke through with a succession of completed passes followed by a string of short runs to set up the lone touchdown.

Early in that period, Pruitt connected on two passes to Robert Andozola and two more to Rick Riedel (including a 35-yard toss), and later in the quarter the Cowboy backfield pecked away at the Arroyo defense until Larry Trujillo went into the end zone from four yards out with 4:12 remaining in the half.

Coach Jim Rawls' Cowboys almost added another score a couple of minutes later. Pruitt had the ball on Arroyo's 6-yard line in a first down situation, but fumbled and the ball was recovered by Alonzo of the Knights.

In the second half the difference in offense again proved to be in the passing department. Hiroto attempted only two passes in that half, and both were incomplete. Pruitt, however, completed five of seven passes for 72 yards, including three consecutive plays in which he hit on passes of 19, 15, and 31 yards, to three different receivers.

Ed Marquez attempted a 25-yard field goal but missed, squandering another scoring opportunity for Chino in the third quarter. The single touchdown in the first half proved to be enough, however, as the Cowboys held Arroyo to only 28 total yards in the final period.

The action was halted for a few minutes in the middle of the third quarter when Arroyo tackle Joe Skropeta was shaken in a pile-up around the 20-yard line of the Knights. Skropeta was administered to as he lay on his back, and he finally had to be carried off in a stretcher, his injury not known at that time.

Riedel, Trujillo, and Art Carbajal each gained more than 25 yards for Chino, with Riedel gaining 42, and the Cowboys' mixture of short runs and long passes worked well enough to earn them the victory.

Good debut for Bare

By GRAHAM CROW
PB Correspondent

Although being involved in a non-league encounter, new Montclair head coach Rich Bare considered Friday night's opener against host Alta Loma to be a very important game.

"Getting a win in this one could be the best thing that could happen to us," said the Montclair leader before the game at Chaffey College.

"We've got a lot of young players and they have been exposed to a new type of offense and defense. Winning tonight (Friday) would give them confidence that what we are doing is right."

Well, both the players and coaches came away convinced as the Cavaliers grabbed a narrow 7-6 decision over the Braves in the defensively dominated season opener.

All the scoring, and most of the offensive punch, during the game took place in a 15 second span just as the first half was coming to a close.

With just more than a minute remaining until intermission, Montclair punter Tim Lomax boomed a low, line drive that Brian Cypher gathered in at his own 41-yard line.

Breaking a couple of tackles while traveling up the middle of the field, Cypher broke through the Montclair squad and raced into the end zone.

Dan Miller's extra point attempt was wide to the right but the delirious Alta Loma fans didn't seem to care. However, that miscue didn't take long to magnify.

On the ensuing kickoff, the Braves chose to kick away from Montclair speedster Jim Donaldson and J. B. Goff fielded it on his own 10. Heading immediately for the left sideline, the junior halfback dashed 90 yards to tie things up, exactly 15 seconds after the Alta Loma TD.

Sophomore Kent Gurney, suffering from a slight muscle pull which limited his duty somewhat, provided the difference in the game with the extra point.

Ironically, Miller almost redeemed himself in the second half as the 6-4, 210 pound senior intercepted a Bill Moore pass and raced into the end zone for an apparent touchdown. But clipping during the return took away the score for the Braves.

Neither team could generate any kind of offense as Alta Loma netted only 105 yards total offense, with just 35 on the ground. Quarterback Don Lester, scrambling for his life nearly all night, was sacked on six different occasions by the quick Cav defense.

Montclair didn't fare much better with 113 total yardage as Donaldson was held to 38 yards in 12 carries.

It wasn't an artistic success, but you can bet Montclair will take it anyway. Even the slim margin of victory shouldn't shake up the new Cav coach.

At least they won ... "Bare"-ly.

Both schools hit the road next week with Montclair facing Ontario and Alta Loma traveling to Upland.

Mt. View tops Jags

ROSEMEAD — A four-yard run by Mountain View's Bill Gil with 1:07 left in the contest spelled defeat for Ontario High Friday night in a football contest played at Rosemead High.

The Jaguars led 8-6 in their 1975 opener until Mt. View mounted its winning drive following a recovery of a Ontario fumble on the Ontario 46.

The only Jag tally came in the final period on a one-yard run by Larry Cutbirth. Cutbirth added a two-point PAT with his pass to Carl Hemby, and that lead stood up until the last-minute heroics by the host school.

Cutbirth led all rushers for the night with 135 yards on 19 carries. The Ontario QB also completed two of four passes for 58 yards.

Knights in upset win

SAN BERNARDINO — Ontario Christian shocked Aquinas with two long interception returns for touchdowns and went on to score a 12-0 upset win over the hosts Friday night in a prep contest played at San Bernardino Valley College.

The Knights got on the board in the second quarter as David te Velde stepped in front of an Ernie Paramo aerial and carried it 85 yards into the end zone.

John VanderSchaaf almost duplicated te Velde's play in the third quarter, picking off a Paramo pass and running it back 81 yards for a OCHS TD. The Knights missed both PAT attempts.

Aquinas outgained the Knights 144-68 in total yardage on the evening but the two key plays by te Velde and VanderSchaaf took the game away from the heavily favored Falcons.

Charlie Sybesma accounted for 52 of the 68 OCHS yardage total by hauling in three Vander-Schaaf passes.

Top seeds post wins

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Paced by Arthur Ashe, the top four seeds in the $100,000 Pacific Southwest tennis tournament all captured their quarter-final matches Friday with only fourth-seeded Harold Solomon running into trouble.

Ashe, the top-seeded Wimbledon champion, easily disposed of 11th-seeded Bob Lutz 6-2, 6-2 in a swiftly-played night match that took only 15 minutes for the first set.

Earlier second-seeded Roscoe Tanner beat Allan Stone, third-seeded Raul Ramirez ousted fifth-seeded Marty Riessen and Solomon battled by eighth-seeded Dick Stockton.

Pasadena roars back to beat Chaffey, 13-7

The Chaffey High Tigers lost to Pasadena 13-7, in the last five minutes of the game after leading 7-6 in the third quarter.

After a scoreless first quarter, with numerous penalities charged to both teams, Chaffey's quarterback, John Gable, led his team to Pasadena's one-yard line. With only one minute into the second quarter, fullback Randy Brown turned the play into points with a one-yard run. Marvin Fernandez kicked the extra point for a 7-0 lead.

With the three minutes into the half, Pasadena got on the scoreboard with deLesandro Dean throwing a 27-yard pass to Kim Brown. The kick by Michael Dennis failed.

Five minutes left remaining in the game, Pasadena's quarterback Dean threw a 24-yard touchdown pass to Bruce McClain. Dennis Michaels kick was good, making the final score 13-7.

Walnut uses good defense

By MIKE BROSSART
PB Correspondent

After watching his Walnut High Mustangs beat host Nogales, 21-6, Friday night, Coach Ken Gunn just couldn't say enough about his defense.

"This defense is really super," beamed Gunn. "Every player made great plays."

Walnut's defensive unit held the Nobles to just six first downs on 91 total yards. Nogales quarterback Evie Gomeztrejo was under constant pressure from the Mustangs' defensive line, and was sacked three times for losses totaling 29 yards.

Meanwhile, Walnut running backs Keith McDermott and Kevin Morgan cut easily through the Nogales defense, gaining 220 yards between them. Morgan gained 160 of those yards, alternately converting short-yardage third-down plays and breaking through for big gainers. His longest run was a 19-yard touchdown with 1:20 left in the game to give the Mustangs a 20-6 lead. Kevin Bowlin's third conversion kick of the night finished the scoring.

The two teams battled through a scoreless first quarter. McDermott scored the first points of the game when he broke off left tackle for a seven-yard touchdown with 4:24 left in the half. His TD capped a 55-yard drive during which Morgan ran for one first down on a fourth-and-one situation, and another on a third-and-one play.

The score remained at 7-0 until McDermott tallied on a pass from quarterback Kevin Loggins with 6:39 left in the third quarter.

The all-league running back moved to the right sideline, grabbed Loggins' throw at the 20 and cut inside three defenders to reach the end zone.

Nogales' lone touchdown came at the end of a three-play, 57-yard spurt. After the Nobles took over on their own 43 following a punt, Gomezterejo ran for nine yards, passed to Ray Battle for 19 and to Ernie Garcia for 29, the latter good for six points.

The Mustangs earned 12 first downs to the Nobles six while racking up 256 yards of offense. Loggins completed three of eight passes for 51 yards in the air. The first half especially belonged to Walnut as the Mustangs ran off 3 plays to 16 for the Nogales, and seven first downs to the Nobeles' two.

Walnut will meet Rowland at Nogales' field Friday at 7:30 p.m.

Olivares favored

INGLEWOOD, Calif. (AP) — Ruben Olivares, Mexico's slugging playboy, rates as a 2-1 favorite to whip David Kotey of Ghana tonight and retain his World Boxing Council featherweight championship.

The 28-year-old Olivares, who twice has been the champion in each of two divisions, apparently will have no trouble making the 126-pound weight for the scheduled 15-round fight at the Forum.

Injury hurts Scot hopes

By CRAIG TRAVIS
P-B Correspondent

An injury may have prevented Upland High from a season-opening victory over San Gorgonio High Friday night.

Quarterback Bob Dalquest was helped off the field after being "stuck" in the chest while attempting to pass on a third-and-11 situation with 1:31 left in the game.

Dalquest's pass fell incomplete, backup signal-caller Steve Davenport had his aerial fall short and visiting San Gorgonio went on to post a 14-13 victory over Upland in the season debut for both clubs.

Dalquest had marched the Scots to a one-point deficit early in the fourth quar

Poly out for revenge

By BILL LANGLEY
PB Sports Editor

Revenge is on Cal Poly's mind tonight when it opens its home football schedule against Cal State Hayward.

Coach Andy Vinci has made sure his Broncos remember last year's 21-7 loss at Hayward in the season finale on a day when the Pioneers intercepted seven Poly passes.

"We know what happened last year," Vinci says. "We will do our best to make sure Hayward doesn't leave town this year with a victory."

Kickoff at Poly's revamped Kellogg Field is 7:30 p.m. It will be the first game for the university with its new school-owned bleachers, which has raised the seating capacity to 5,500.

The loss to Hayward last year was the worst for Vinci in his first season. Over-all, the Pioneers own a 2-1 edge in the series.

If anything, Vinci claims Hayward is a better team this season.

"Hayward has an improved team," Vinci stated. "Its defense is especially tough since new head coach Tim Tierney has taken over. He has been their defensive coordinator the past five years."

At least, Poly won't have to face the graduated Al Spitzer, who intercepted five of the passes.

While Poly opened its season with a smashing 38-3 win over Chico State, Hayward fell to always strong Boise State, 42-20, after holding a 10-7 lead at halftime.

"Hayward is a completely different team than Chico," Vinci said about the two Far Western Conference schools. "Hayward likes to throw the heck out of the football. Our defensive secondary will really get tested."

Quarterback Dan Flavan completed 12 of 23 passes for 200 yards and two touchdowns in the opener. Fullback Brian Hill is the Pioneers' top rusher while Lonnell Perkins and Jim Magana are the leading receivers.

On defense, Hayward is led by All-American candidate Greg Blankenship at one of the linebacker spots.

The Pioneers have a potent kicking game. Punter Dave Friday averaged 46 yards last week and Reed Robinson booted a pair of field goals.

Vinci will start basically the same lineup as he used against Chico with the exception of the Sanders brothers.

All-CCAA safety Scott Sanders is ready to start after missing the opening kickoff last week with an injury while his younger brother, Mark, will be at tailback after scoring two touchdowns and rushing for 71 yards.

Three Pomonans will be in the Broncos' starting lineup. Tackle Bobby Costeldia of Garey High will be on the offensive line while John Medlin of Ganesha will be at defensive tackle. Safety Doug Hughes, another Garey product, is the only freshman to crack tonight's starting unit.

Quarterback Leo Costa will be making his home debut. The rest of the backfield will have diveback Aundre Holmes, fullback Brent Partridge and wide receiver Teddy Myles.

Leos face Gaels' Caridi

By DON BRADLEY
PB Staff Writer

There'll be a couple of familiar faces among the St. Mary's players when the Gaels play La Verne College this afternoon (1:30 p.m.) in the Leopards' season opener.

Quarterback Mario Caridi prepped at Montclair High and Chaffey JC. Wide receiver Tony Hernandez, from Claremont, went to Bishop Amat High.

St. Mary's has already played and lost two games. That will give them an edge in experience.

Caridi, a 6-3, 195-pound junior, has completed 18 of 48 passes for 211 yards and three touchdowns. However he has been intercepted four times.

Caridi's best game was the 47-18 loss to Santa Clara in the Gaels' opener two weeks ago. He hit on nine of 28 for 179 yards and three touchdowns. On the ground, he ran for 91 yards in 10 carries.

Last week, Sacramento St. did a good job of containing him. The Hornets, in a 20-13 win, held Caridi to 32 yards on short passes as he connected on nine of 20.

The Gaels have averaged 130 yards per game passing and 102 running. Statistics are unavailable for the opponents' rushing totals for the two games. Sacramento St. ran for 324 yards last week. In two games, opponents have passed for 326 yards against the Gaels' defense.

Only casualty to St. Mary's so far is middle guard Joe McGuiness, a 5-11, 200-pound freshman. However, Caridi was shaken up with less than two minutes to go last week and was carried from the field.

Local fans will be looking for Brad Frick to make his debut sometime during the game, hopefully at the same time older brother Curtis is playing. Both are former star running backs for Bonita High.

JCs on road for games

Chaffey College opens the 1975 football season tonight at Santa Barbara City College, while valley rivals Mt. San Antonio and Citrus play their second games of the young season on the road at Pasadena and Long Beach City colleges. All three games begin at 7:30 p.m.

Coach Willie Richardson's Panthers will operate out of the veer-T offense for the first time this year with either Alta Loma's Jamie Broecker or Corona's Bill Childress at quarterback.

"We'll run the option but we'll probably pass more out of the veer than most teams do."

Chaffey is thick with receivers and defensive backs and has a veteran defensive line in the way of strengths. The offensive backfield will be made up of newcomers, the most notable of which is Marcus Jennings of Ontario, who will probably start at one running back position.

Citrus and MSAC are both in for rugged tests in their second contests of the year. Citrus walloped the Mounties in the opener last weekend, 37-12.

The Owls' veteran offensive line will be tested by Long Beach which has a number of veterans in both the offensive and defensive lines. Citrus may have an edge with its backfield which includes All-State running back Roy Prather who gained 160 yards and Pomona High product Raymond Butler who rushed for an additional 75 against MSAC.

Fourth ranked Pasadena looms as the fire MSAC jumps into after its frying pan experience with Citrus a week ago.

"They're big, fast and aggressive," said MSAC Coach Mal Eaton.

The Mounties were ineffective against the Owls until late in the game last week when freshman quarterback Flavio Garcia of Rowland Heights came on to lead a two-touchdown offensive.

But Eaton plans to start Steve Taylor at quarterback again tonight. There will be only one change offensively, at center, where Chris Johnston, a freshman from Hawaii replaces George Diaz.

Defensively there will be four changes and the Mounties will probably be without the services of linebacr Larry Torres who suffered a shoulder injury last week. Torres was one of only four Mounties who saw action in 1974.

Chaffey team wins crown

The Chaffey Aquatics Club won the championship on the eight-team Cal Novice League in both the overall season and at the league finals held last week at El Monte.

Chaffey, coached by John Ries, earned 735 points to win the title over West Covina, 572, and East Los Angeles, 504.

Jeff Kostoff, 10, won the individual high point trophy. He won six first places and set pool records in 9/10 100 yard backstroke (1:13.1) and 100 breast (1:23.4). His other first place times were in the 500 free style (6:18.6), 50 back (34.6), 50 breast (39.3) and 100 ind. medley (1:14.9).

Stephine Sauter also set a pool record in the 9/10 freestyle with a time of 29.5. She also earned first place honors in the 50 fly (35.9) and 200 free (2:24.6).

Chris Sauter took first places in the 7-8 200 free (2:50.7) and 100 free (1:17.3). Another two first-place winner was Dana Johnson in the 6/under in the 25 fly (24.5) and 50 breast (54.3).

Earning one first place award were: Mike Ries, 7/8, 25 fly (19.1); Pat Grabowski, 13/14, 50 back (31.4); Rodger Carver, 11/12, 50 breast (37.4); Michille Cooke, 7/8, 50 free (35.0); Rich Carver, 11/12, 100 breast (1:21.7) and Laura Hugleman, 15/17, 100 breast (1:19.2).

The club will be idle until Oct. 13.

Information on the club's AAU or novice program is available from Ries at 981-1785.

Arabians race at fair

Arabian horses from the southland and around the country will race and be shown Sunday in a special feature at the L.A. County Fairgrounds at 1:30 p.m.

Two of the entries in the Golden State Derby Futurity for Arabians, Talsen and Talbre, are owned by Jim Kline of Chino and trained by ranch manager Allen James.

The breed has long been a popular show horse in the U.S. but was not raced extensively until seven or eight years ago. The sport has become increasingly popular.

Among the horses to be shown will be Raffon, sire of a number of champions, and a champion in his own right.

Earthquakes hire new GM

SAN JOSE, Calif. (AP) — John Carbray, 36, moved from baseball to soccer Friday as he was appointed new general manager of the San Jose Earthquakes.

Carbray has been general manager of the Sacramento Solons of the Pacific Coast League the past two baseball seasons.

'Cats-Pack play tonight

By JIM McCONNELL
PB Staff Writer

Although only two local high school grid contests are on tap for tonight, area prep football fans should be in for an evening of excitement.

Bonita and Claremont will renew a rivalry which dates back to 1926 when they collide at Citrus College tonight at 7:30 p.m. Ganesha High should also find itself in a real dogfight, as the Giants take on powerful Fullerton at Buena Park High. Kickoff time in that one is set for 8 p.m.

It's no secret that Wolfpack coach Esper Keiser would love to see his squad beat Bonita tonight. Last year the Bearcats surprised the Pack 12-0 in the opening game of the year for both schools. Bonita went on to post a 10-2 record and gain entry into the CIF playoffs.

Claremont also was involved in CIF playoff action last year, but both schools lost a number of players due to graduation and many new faces will be evident Saturday night at Citrus.

Sanford Coggins (whose older brother Rich plays for the New York Yankees) will get the nod at quarterback for the 'Cats tonight. Coggins is a double threat to the Claremont defenses, as he can run and pass equally well.

Scott Johnson, a returnee from last year, will go at fullback for coach Pete Lopez' squad, with sophomore Bobby Vidauri set at tailback.

Coggins has a host of talented receivers in Keith Brandt, Rich Doyle, David Drury and Bruce Hines.

It's no secret that the Pack has a fine passer in QB Mike Davis and a good corps of receivers. The big question is can Claremont run the ball effectively?

Coach Keiser has tried several men at the running back spots, without a standout developing. Starters at fullback and halfback for tonight's game remain in doubt, and the prospect is that Keiser will take a look t a number of potential Wolfpack rushers before the night is out.

Lack of running backs is something Garry Norvell does not have to worry about.

The veteran Ganesha mentor has three fine ones in fullback Ron Rentz and halfbacks Darryl Gardner and Lewis Peters.

The problem facing Norvell as his Giants square off against a very good Fullerton team is the quarterbacking slot. Junior Joe Madrigal is being counted on to supply the locals with an aerial threat they dearly missed last year. However, Madrigal lacks game experience and could not have picked a tougher team to debut against than Fullerton.

The Orange County squad copped a Freeway League co-championship last year with a 5-1-1 league mark and finished the season 6-3-1 overall.

Fullerton is coached by Gil Tucker, now in his 20th year at the school, and led by quarterback Greg Tucker, coach Tucker's son.

The younger Tucker amassed over 1,200 yards in total offense last year and is regarded as a fine runner and effective passer.

Top receiver for the Indians is tight end Keith Van Horne, a huge 6-6, 230-pounder who will also menace the Giants as a defensive end. Top rusher for Fullerton figures to be 6-2, 225-pound junior fullback Matt Clark.

Of course, Norvell's troups have some muscle of their own in defensive line stalwarts Mike Johnson (6-2, 231), Ed Lundstrom (6-1, 210) and Keith Lovett (6-0, 200).

Fans victimized by strike

By the Associated Press

Now it's the fan's turn to be heard from. And he can hardly be blamed if the various hassles that beset pro football have made him decide to mow the grass or take a hike on Sunday afternoons.

Through the court suits, the charges and countercharges and now the latest, the second strike in two summers, the fan is the forgotten element in pro football. Except when it comes time to set new ticket prices.

In the business of running pro football, it is difficult to say where the fan rates, or where he should rate.

What responsibility, if any, does the player have to the fan when he worries about a labor contract that will govern the player's future? Likewise, what responsibility, if any, does the owner have to the fan when he makes the various decisions he must make?

Those are difficult questions, and there are no easy answers. But this seems certain: the fan, the average person who enjoys football, is turned off by the myriad of off-the-field court fights and legal showdowns which fill his sports pages almost daily.

And every time the costs go up, he, the fan, must pay. It is so bad that a season ticket in the National Football League costs as high as $18 per game per seat. Add to that the cost of a ticket for the wife or the girl friend, a parking spot, a program, maybe a beer and perhaps a babysitter, and pro football may already have priced itself out of the reach of the middle class.

And that is from where its support comes.

The signs are not good. Attendance was down in 1974. Pre-season attendance this year was disappointing. Television ratings slipped last year for the NFL, and in a couple of years when the next contract comes up, the three networks might not want to pay $60 million a year to show the league's games.

The Harris Poll said football remains the most popular sport in the country, but it slipped two percentage points in a year.

All the while, costs go up. Even with each club receiving more than $2 million last year from the TV contract, even with higher ticket prices, a record eight NFL teams lost money.

Meanwhile, the fan pays more and there is nothing that says he's getting more. In fact, he may be getting less.

Can the fan who buys a ticket to this weekend's games which feature one of the five teams that went on strike expect to see a competitive game? Can the New England Patriots really be ready to play with only two days preparation?

Like so many other questions, there are no easy answers. But, whatever happens, the fan is the innocent victim of the social turmoil that continues to plague professional football.

FAYETTEVILLE, Ark. (AP) — Jim Benton Sr. of the University of Arkansas led the NCAA in pass receiving in 1937 with 47 catches for 754 yards and seven touchdowns.

Some people are afraid of bees because they sting. But bees usually don't sting unless they are frightened or hurt. Worker honeybees usually can sting only once.

The honeybee's stinger is located at the tail end of its body. It is straight and covered with pointy barbs.

When the bee stings, it thrusts the sting into your flesh. The barbs hold so tightly that the bee cannot pull it out. The bee must tear itself away, leaving part of its body behind with the stinger.

The bee dies soon after losing its stinger.

Bumblebees and wasps don't habe barbs that pull out their stingers when they sting. They can sting over and over.

A bee or wasp sting causes sudden pain and swelling. You may know something about that already.

A bee sting is painful because it contains a small amount of poison made of an acid that is injected into your skin through the insect's hollow, needlelike stinger.

ARIES (March 21-April 19) You'll be highly protective of your self-interests early in the day, but will soon realize you're being too self-centered. Your better instincts will take over.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20) Though you could be inconvenienced, you'll feel better if you let compassion rule your actions even if a small personal loss is involved.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20) Gentle methods will achieve things for you today that flexing your muscles or raising your voice could never hope to accomplish.

CANCER (June 21-July 22) Praise or recognition are not nearly as important to you today as playing the game by your usually high standards, and enhancing your image.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22) Bolster your belief in things spiritual today by seeking inspiration, or meditating quietly on your goals and ambitions.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22) This is not a good day to bog yourself down with business matters. Put the account books away. Go off and enjoy yourself.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 23) You can make a fine impression on your mate today if you're willing to forego your interests and do the things she'd like to do.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24-Nov. 22) Stick to your hunches involving money today. If your instincts warn you about a certain person, it's best not to deal with him.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23-Dec. 21) Being around larger groups today won't give you the excitement it usually generates. You're better off in quiet pursuits.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19) Don't invite anyone to your house today unless you sincerely want their company. They'll take you up on it and a boring day will ensue.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 19) Surround yourself today with people who are highly creative and whose conversation is light and inspirational. Avoid those who favor heavy topics.

PISCES (Feb. 20-March 20) It will be time well spent if you take a few minutes to evaluate your goals for the coming week. Assign priorities. Stick to them.

Your Birthday, Sept. 21, 1975

A secret desire you've told only a few close friends about will be realized this coming year. It will come about through unusual circumstances.

22 go home, dozen stay

Difficult decision for Viet refugees

CAMP PENDLETON (AP) — Twenty Vietnamese young men who threatened to burn themselves to death unless they were flown home got their wish today. Another man and a young woman joined them.

But at least a dozen other war refugees decided at the last minute to stay in the United States.

An Air Force C141 was headed for Guam with the last of 431 refugees to ask for the return flights. They had been among the 49,821 who reached Camp Pendleton since the war ended.

The woman with them was identified only as 22 and accompanied by her brother. The men ranged in age from 20 to 35 and "they all look military," a Marine Corps spokesman said as they boarded the Starlifter plane at El Toro Marine Air Station.

At a recent news conference at the relocation base, spokesmen for the 20 young Vietnamese said one or several of them would kill themselves by immolation unless they were returned soon.

There were 35 names on the final list, but only 22 would leave Camp Pendleton when they were awakened at daybreak.

"It must have been an excruciating decision for them," said a spokeswoman at Camp Pendleton.

"The number changed every day. They just couldn't decide what to do."

A United Nations spokesman said at El Toro that he knew of no other refugees who want to return to Southeast Asia.

At Guam, about 1,600 other evacuees were awaiting repatriation to their Communist-controlled homeland.

Meanwhile, Camp Pendleton officials said the 10,000 refugees still at the relocation center would all be resettled by Oct. 31, when the center shuts down.

Seeing-eye dog barred

MISSOULA, Mont. (AP) — A veteran whose eyes were damaged by a shell explosion in Germany during World War II was refused service at a Missoula cafe because of his seeing-eye dog.

A waitress at a cafe in the Palace Hotel said she had worked at her job for 27 years, but never had been asked for service by a man with a seeingeye dog. She said she offered to wait on James Saddler in the hotel lobby, but that he refused.

Order new warning labels on drug linked to deaths

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Food and Drug Administration said that it has ordered new warning labels on a drug linked to six deaths from liver disease.

The agency said the drug Dantrium had been approved in early 1974 to treat reversible spasticity because it afforded a "modest but clear-cut improvement" in treating victims of spinal cord injury, stroke, cerebral palsy and multiple sclerosis.

"Although its potential hepatotoxicity was recognized prior to approval, post marketing adverse reaction reports indicate this toxicity is more serious than was apparent in the premarketing clinical trials," the FDA said in its new monthly Drug Bulletin sent to physicians.

Dantrium or dantrolene sodium is made by Eaton Laboratories, a division of Morton-Norwich products.

The new warning advises doctors to discontinue Dantrium therapy if no benefits have been observed after 45 days.

It says fatal hepatitis has been reported in about .1 to .2 per cent of patients who took Dantrium for 60 days or longer and symptomatic hepatitis has been observed in .35 to .5 per cent of patients who took it that long.

The risk of liver damage appears to be greater in females and in patients over the age of 35, the FDA said.

The agency said that Dantrium should be used for treating spasticity secondary to crippling neurological disorders, and not for skeletal muscle spasms from arthritis.

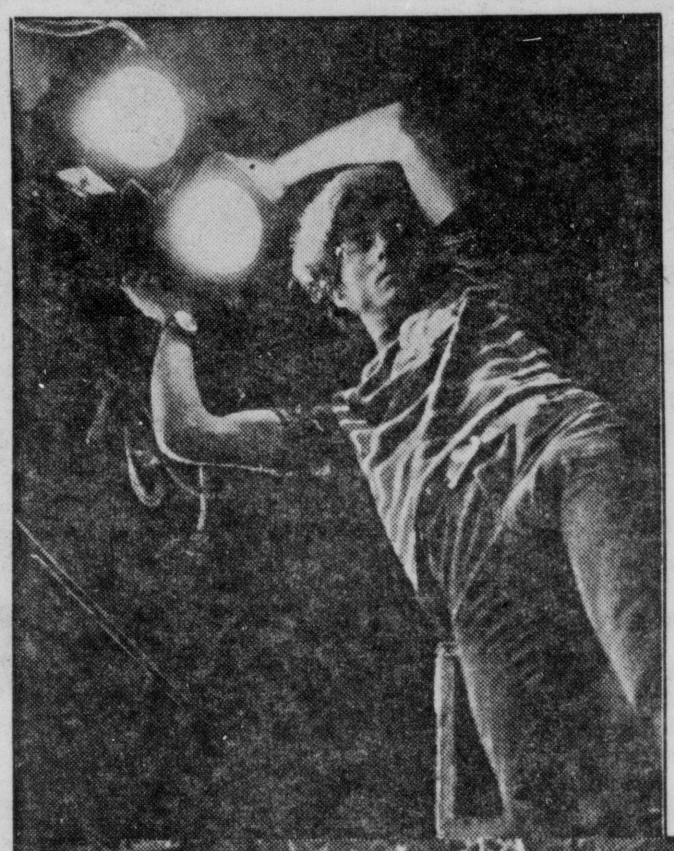
Behind-the-scene, unsung talent



Story by Joseph F. Firman, PB staff writer
Photos by Bob Swetnam, PB photographer

"Another opening, another show . . ."

The song from Cole Porter's "Kiss Me, Kate" expresses the excited anticipation and hopeful expectations of actors, singers and dancers the world over as the house lights dim and the curtain rises on a new show.

The high hopes, crossed fingers and hearts-in-the-mouth are not, however, confined to the performers. Behind each of them stands that hard-working, seldom recognized group of men and women known as "the stage crew." The members, their work now done, wait eagerly behind the scenes to see how "their show" goes, how the audience reacts to costumes and scenery, to properties, lighting, sound effects, and the myriad other production values that can make or break a show.

A case in point is the Valley Community Theater's "Gypsy," opening Thursday night at the Pomona theater. Being a musical it has a large cast of singers, dancers, musicians — a total of about 30. But like many other community theater productions, it has a back stage crew of almost 40.

There's a lot more than acting

Doc Peirsol

It happened in Pomona

Here lately our economists have been screaming about inflation and agonizing over what it is doing to the country. But the thing most of those experts overlook is that inflation is not just something we have suddenly inherited. Actually, whether we realize it or not, inflation is a natural byproduct of the American way of life, an evil we have been living with for more years than most of us care to remember. So, if you are interested in learning to what horrible heights inflation has really risen in just one lifetime right here in Pomona, consider this:

In 1892 the People's Store of Pomona was offering Men's White Shirts with linen bosoms and cuffs for 50 cents each.

Eighty three years ago at Ed W. Thomas Dry Goods and Notions store, you could purchase Ladies' Cotton Hose for 10 cents a pair.

Those were also the days when the Pomona Wine Co. was offering to sell Port, Sherry, Muscatel and Angelica for 50 cents a gallon.

What was more, at that time along with being able to purchase merchandise at what today would be regarded as fantastically low prices, you also got service. In 1892 Armour's Drug Store was advertising, "Customers served at all hours of the day or night."

But believe it or not, in 1892 despite low prices, we were experiencing an inflationary wage trend which had become a matter of some concern to the editor of The Pomona Weekly Times. On Sept. 3, 1892, he was complaining:

"Immense quantities of raisins are being admitted into this country free of duty and are dumped on the market at prices American raisin growers can not meet — especially with labor costing $1.50 a day against European labor costing only about 20 cents per day."

All of which also goes to prove that where inflation is concerned, all Pomonans have to fear is fear itself — that economists may come and economists may go but inflation goes on forever — and still we manage to exist.

Champ Karpov's formula in chess

By SHELBY LYMAN

Antoly Karpov has candidly confessed that he is partial to technical solutions of chess problems, unlike Bobby Fischer whose games have more tension. Bobby often chooses the most dynamic lines of play — with expected results. Though he draws fewer games, he wins and loses more than Karpov.

But Bobby is no slouch at technique. And would undoubtedly approve of the succinct and esthetic manner in which Karpov wound up the following 1972 contest with Mark Taimanov of the USSR.

Although material is even, white blockades to control the center. His well-placed pieces may create favorable action in black's wide open and unprotected kingside.

The correct procedure here is well-known and easy to understand. Soften up the black king's position with a pawn assault and follow through with the heavy pieces.

Karpov did just that, and did it well. Black's efforts in defense, i.e., the trading of knights and the kingside pawn more 1 . . . P-R3, offer only futile resistance.

The actual moves were 1. P-R4!, P-R3; 2. P-KN4, Q-N2; 3. P-R5, N-B3; 4. P-N5, NxN; 5. NxN, PxP; 6. QxP, and our second position was reached.

Progress has been rapid. Karpov already has the lethal threat 7. P-R6, P-N3; 8. Q-R6 with mate to follow. Taimanov's defense, 6 . . . K-R2 only delays the inevitable result. For after Karpov's reply 7. R-B3! it is clear that black is doomed! There will be too many white pieces and too few black pieces on the kingside.

There followed 7 . . . Q-N5; 8. R-N3, R-KN1; 9. N-B3, PxP; 10. PxP, QxP? Taimanov is now set up for the winning combination. Do you see it?.

Karpov did, of course, and played 11. Q-B1! By vacating the KN5 square, he has created the deadly threat of N-N5 check, which would uncover the white rook on the black queen.

Taimanov saved his queen with 11 . . . Q-R7, but Karpov used the time gained to rush in with his knight and further strip the black king.

After 12. N-N5 check, K-B1; 13. NxP check, K-R2; 14. Q-N5! Taimanov's doom is sealed. There is no answer to 15. Q-N6 check, PxP; and 16. PxP mate!

THOS. D. BILLIPS

Donna McCormick measures Roger Castellano for his costume in the VCT wardrobe room.

Back stagers vital to play

Production designer and technical director of the show is big, amiable Ed McCormick, a union stagehand by trade, an actor and director by inclination. He outlined what goes into "Gypsy's" unseen staff:

Two people doing costume design, five cutting and sewing, 12 building and painting scenery, one on sound, two on lights, two handling properties, three on box office, three ushers and two doing programs and selling ads. To this one must add the director, choreographer, musical director, publicity agent and technical director.

The number might be even greater except for the fact that each performer does his own makeup, and the entire cast joins the stage hands in final cleanup chores.

The latter activity illustrates an important characteristic of community theater — everyone doubles in brass. The carpenter turns painter, the program director mans the box office, the costume designer handles the props. And more often than not the performers themselves pitch in on the backstage chores. Pomona insurance man Harold Goodell sells advertising for the VCT program, then takes a role in a play. Donna, McCormick's wife, helps on the costumes and plays a lead in the musical. McCormick, himself, does set design and lighting, then takes a small part in the show.

Like the actors, the members of the behind-the-scenes crew are drawn from the whole spectrum of society. Painting VCT flats and sewing costumes are housewives, businessmen, college and high school students, salesmen and teachers. At work backstage VCT has had a doctor, lawyer, bank teller, printer, minister and cocktail waitress.

Many of the chores performed by these people are hard and tedious. Some are dirty, some back-breaking. And the hours devoted to production are just as many as are needed. As the show goes into its final week of preparation it is no unusual thing for the stage crew to be at work until 2 or 3 in the morning. McCormick recalls several occasions when he worked all night long.

Besides working hours that would outrage the National Labor Relations Board, the crew members often dig into their own pockets to provide something the show or the theater must have — cloth for a costume, a pry bar, a microphone, some paint. Some even take time off from their regular jobs to work on the show — taking a financial loss.

Why do they do it?

"Personal satisfaction," says Jess Ray, president of VCT, hard at work in a dozen capacities. "It's a lot of work but it's a lot of fun, too."

McCormick's work, of course, is a busman's holiday. A theater arts graduate of Cal Poly, he has worked in most of the television studios and theaters in the Los Angeles area, including the Music Center and the new Ambassador Auditorium in Pasadena.

"Theater is what I do for a living," he said. "I like being part of it. Each new production is a life, a living, breathing entity. Putting on a show is like giving birth — and I've gone through a lot of labor pains."

The backstage crew, the hard-working, un-honored, unsung artists of needle, hammer and paint brush, draws just as much creative satisfaction from doing the job well as an actor does from a fine performance.

"Theater is communication between audience and actor," McCormick says. "That's why we're here — to give people something to enjoy."

And what does he feel most strongly at the first downbeat of the conductor's baton on an opening night?

"Relief!" he said with a laugh.

ON THE COVER

When the curtain rises Thursday night on the Valley Community Theater production of "Gypsy" some 40 hard-working backstage artists will breathe a collective sigh of relief. Their chores are done; the rest is up to the performers. Above, left, Rick Weatherby adjusts the lights; at right, technical director Ed McCormick works on sound cues. Below, Bill Himebaugh busies himself with posters and programs in the VCT office.

Donna McCormick, who plays a lead in "Gypsy," paints a flat backstage.

Auto check station takes new owner

No change in high quality of service

CHANGEOVER — Loyd Hollingsworth, new owner of Politsch Speedometer and Tuneup service, accepts keys to the shop from William P. Politsch, retiring after nearly 35 years as owner.

After nearly 35 years, one of the best known automotive specialty repair shops in the valley is acquiring a new owner.

William P. "Bill" Politsch, who has operated Politsch Speedometer and Tune-up since 1941, announced the sale of his business to his manager, Loyd Hollingsworth, who has been with him since 1957.

Both men said there will be no change in the high quality or the type of service, which includes maintenance and repair of automotive instruments, car air conditioning, automotive electric systems and tune-ups.

Politsch's shop is the official check station for automobiles owned by the valley's cities, for Los Angeles and San Bernardino counties vehicles in the area, and for state cars. It is by far the oldest, in point of service, of all specialty automotive shops in the valley.

The retiring owner said he wished to notify his customers and other acquaintances of the change and to assure them that the shop's policies would not change.

"It's time to retire," he said. "I'm grateful to all those who have done business with us for the past 34 years."

Hollingsworth, who was trained by Politsch and has worked for him for the past 18 years, also pledged the continuation of high quality service.

"Bill has operated this place for nearly 35 years," he said. "I hope to run it along the same lines for the next 35."

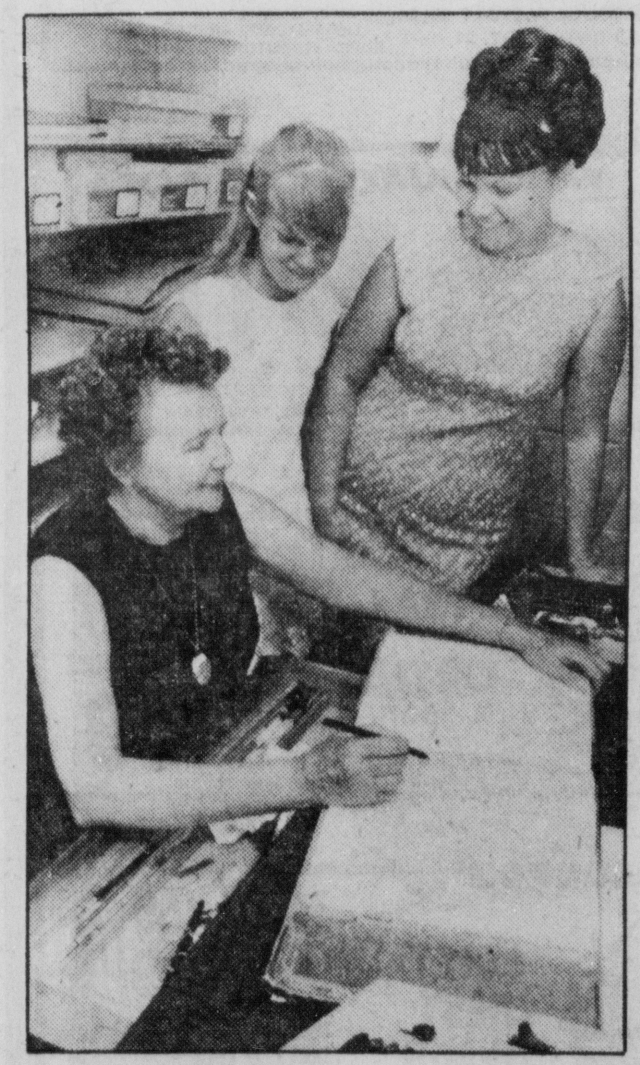
Mrs. Claire Politsch, wife of the retiring owner, will remain with the shop as bookkeeper, as will mechanic Pat Calhoun. The shop will be rounded out by Hollingsworth's son, Bruce, who does the cleanup work.

Politsch came to Pomona from Quincy, Ill., where he was a service station manager. He opened his first store in 1941 at Holt Avenue and Gordon Street in partnership with Lloyd Goertz. The shop later moved to Holt and Towne avenues and still later to 548 N. Caswell St.

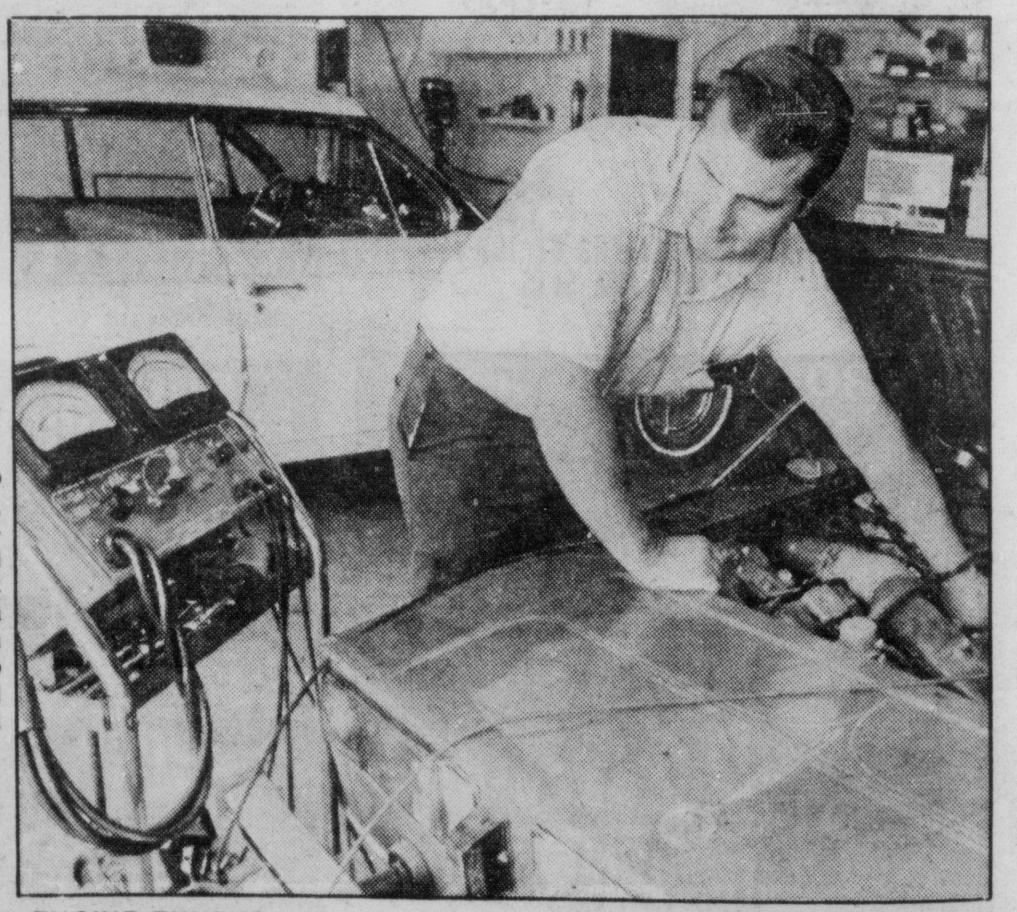
It opened at its present location in 1962. When Goertz died in 1957, Politsch assumed full ownership.

Shop hours will remain the same under the new ownership as before, from 7:30 to 5 p.m., Monday through Friday.

ACCURATE CHECK — Mechanic Pat Calhoun checks accuracy of speedometer. The shop is certified checkpoint for automotive devices.



BOOKKEEPER — Mrs. Claire Politsch, left, is staying on as bookkeeper at the shop. Watching her are the new owner's wife, Debbie Hollingsworth, and their daughter, Pat.



ENGINE TUNEUP — New owner Loyd Hollingsworth uses instruments to check the engine of an automobile during tuneup. Although the shop is changing hands, Hollingsworth, who was trained by Politsch, says the service will remain the same high quality as before.

Odd collection delights reader

By PHIL THOMAS

PIECES OF THE FRAME, by John McPhee. Farrar, Straus & Giroux. $10.

One of the great pleasures in reading at random is to come across a piece that not only is beautifully written but also educates and entertains at the same time. To come across a whole book of such pieces is the highest stroke of luck. Such a book is John McPhee's "Pieces of the Frame."

Whether discussing modern canoe races, firewood, quarterhorse racing or basketball, McPhee consistently is a delight to read as he weaves fact - crowded sentences into a superb exposition that leaves the reader happier and smarter.

The bulk of the 11 pieces which make up this collection originally appeared in The New Yorker" magazine and reflect at its best the high writing standards that magazine has held for so many years now.

In "Travels in Georgia," McPhee details a trip through the backwoods of Georgia in company with a couple of nature lovers seeking to preserve the state's natural beauty and, while he makes a strong case in favor of preservation, he also studs his text with such stunning sentences as "The darkness in there was so rich it felt warm."

"The Search for Marvin Gardens" is a finely crafted contrapuntal piece in which McPhee moves from paragrahs about the game of Monopoly to scenes showing what the streets used in the game are like in Atlantic City today.

The use of contrast is most forceful. As for the title, "Marvin Gardens is the one color-block Monopoly property that is not in Atlantic City." It's in Margate.

Whether discussing the Loch Ness monster and the cult it has attracted in "Pieces of the Frame" or Scotch whisky as it is made in Scotland in "Josie's Well," McPhee is a most entertaining writer.

JUST TELL ME WHAT YOU WANT. By Jay Presson Allen. Dutton. $8.95.

"Sweetheart," said Max, "just tell me what you want. It's yours. Anything you want. Tell me." Maximilian Herschel uses his wealth and power to collect fine porcelain, other companies for his business empire and women.

Usually, he preferred stewardesses from an airline which opposed one of his takeover bids. Max's "girls" must be bright, continue their education at his expense and be prepared to have him drop in any time to check on their progress.

Head girl and Max's favorite is Bonita Burton, "Bones" to Max, who was not a stewardess but an ambitious youngster from Gum Springs, N.C., who picked Max up at Abercrombie's during a shopping trip. Now "Bones," wealthy in her own right by parlaying Max's investment into an art gallery and a television empire, is getting tired of being "owned."

Power and money and love combine in Jay Presson Allen's treatment of the battle of the sexes on some very expensive turf. Allen, a screen writer, has a nice way with a phrase, and despite the Jacqueline Susanntype of story line, has written a novel that commands a reader's attention to the very last page.

Book documents life in 'closed world' of Russia

By N. C. POLOS

THE EDUCATION OF LEV NAVROZOV: A Life in the Closed World Once Called Russia, by Lev Navrozov. Harper Magazine Press. $12.95.

(Nicholas C. Polos is associate professor of history at La Verne College.)

This is a difficult book to read. It has one chapter titled "The Rocking Nest," and is divided into 76 parts. When the author recently emigrated to the West from Russia he brought with him a microfilm of a cycle of books he had secretly been writing for over 20 years. This book is, in part, the story of an intellectual caught inside a bureaucratic machine-like society under the oppression of the new "Tsargods," of post-1917 Russia.

The content deals with a study of the USSR, as seen from the inside and it is based upon documentary sources unobtainable in the West.

Naturally, its tone is grim resembling Solzhenitsyn's "Gulag Archipelago." Unlike Solzhenitsyn's, A Day in the Life of Ivan Denisovich, which is a study of life in the lumber labor camps as seen by one of the inmates, this book attempts to recapture the sordid feeling of what it is like to live in a closed world. It draws a grim picture of a civilization about which the western world knows very little.

The author's style makes the book difficult to read. It is stiff, scholarly, filled with many rhetorical politico-philosophical questions, and the subject matter makes it seem like a cross between Proust and Orwell.

His range of subjects is wide, starting from a biographical base the author expands into areas such as medicine, education, the treatment of dissidents, anti-Semitism, war, political philosophy, education, and even some astute observations on journalism.

In spite of the heavy turgid style of writing the book does read like a horror nightmare; a "kind of darkness all day" world.

The book is a gold mine of information occasionally made more readable by lightning shafts of ironic humor and reflects the agonies of the sophisticated modern man struggling with the delusions of the totalitarian state while trying desperately to maintain some human identity.

The author has much to say about what is valuable to the 20th Century man. Once again he warns us to resist the "institutionalization of the myth," and that the encroachment of government on the cultural and political life man, on the faiths and opinions and life-values of individuals and groups must be vigilantly resisted.

The school in which Lev Navrozov was educated supplied a creed that was supreme, indivisible, and infallible. The marvel is that some men saw the institutionalization of this creed as dangerous, and inhuman.

Navrozov has a monumental work here complete with excellent source notes which are valuable to the modern historian, and a running narrative which could be called "a nightmare in red." It is not easy reading, but the struggle should add to the dignity of man, and this is what really gives true meaning to life.

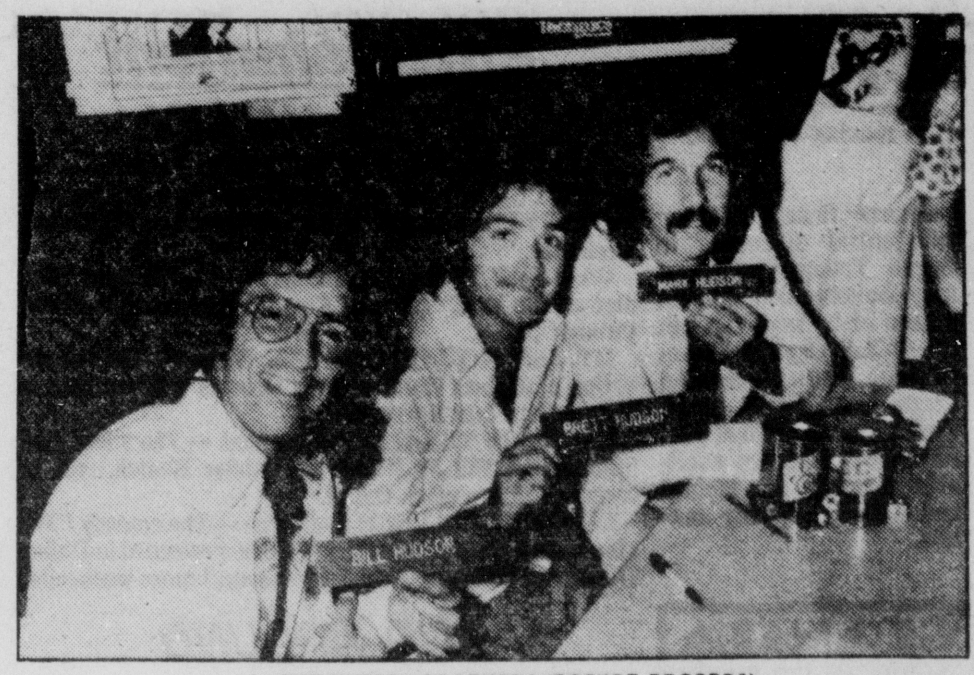
NEW MORALE RAISERS — Modeling new outfits which Claremont High School fans will see on girls' sports teams in San Antonio League play are Lana Pye, left, and Laurie Gatten.



by THE HUDSON BROTHERS (ROCKET RECORDS)

The three Hudson brothers, Bill, Mark and Brett, come by their musical talent naturally. Their mother and her two sisters were entertainers during World War II, touring with Bob Hope for the U.S.O. And it was Mrs. Hudson who coached the boys, since the family could not afford formal musical training. The brothers have been playing together since 1965 and have slowly been moving into the center spotlight. This summer, with a concert tour, a special production of The Wizard of Oz, and a hit single, has been their best season so far. But with a new album out this month, we're sure that there's a lot more to come.

Lie detector tests forced on police in Bryant case

By JACK BURSON
PB Staff Writer

Pomona policemen are being subjected to lie detector examinations in the City Council's attempt to learn who gave former Councilman Clay Bryant a copy of a police report concerning a member of City Administrator Jerrold Gonce's staff.

Several officers already have been examined on the polygraph with several others expected to be called. A civilian police department stenographer also has been quizzed on the lie detector.

The action followed the council's 4-1 vote in July directing Police Chief F. P. Wallick to determine, if possible, who gave Bryant the copy. At the time, Bryant said that Gonce and the council broke their word in voting for the investigation. He said that he had been assured that there would be no investigation if he turned over his copy of the report for examination.

In an action which preceded the polygraph tests, certain policemen were required to sign certificates stating that they had not given Bryant the report. Later, after the city retained a private polygraph operator, the examinations began.

The report concerned the discovery May 5 of a quantity of marijuana and dangerous drugs in the form of minibennies in the bedroom of the as-yet-officially-unnamed individual. Police made the discovery while investigating a burglary. The city employe was not at home at the time.

On May 8, Deputy Dist. Atty. Charles S. Havens rejected police application for a complaint against the man, saying there was no way of proving that the contraband had not been left in the room by the burglars who feared they might be about to be arrested.

The report was revealed to the council July 29 during the increasingly-bitter wage dispute between the city administration and the Pomona Police Officers' Association. Bryant, a supporter of the police position, charged that neither the council nor Gonce had had the courage to administratively discharge the subject of the report.

Officers resent the polygraph tests, an association spokesman said, but there is nothing they can do but submit or lose their jobs. Historically, policemen have agreed to such testing, tacitly at least, as conditions of employemnt. There are attempts being made, however, to enact legislation ending such requirements, the spokesman said.

Friday afternoon, Chief Wallick said there is nothing new in the use of the lie detector within the department and he added that it has been used in internal investigations for the last six months when investigations cannot be resolved

He declined to say that if the probe reveals that a police department employe gave Bryant the copy, he or she would be fired. He said only that "appropriate disciplinary action" would be taken against the individual.

Judge revokes bail for Miss Hearst

Carter has 'serious doubts' about granting her freedom, regards Patty as unsafe risk

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — A federal judge revoked bail Friday for Patricia Hearst and said he had serious doubts about granting freedom to someone who had declared opposition to society and "punctuated it with gunfire."

Miss Hearst's attorney responded that the once-fugitive heiress intended to plead innocent to the several charges against her and argued that she should be granted bail. He reminded the judge that Miss Hearst began as a kidnap victim before declaring her allegiance to her terrorist captors.

U.S. District Court Judge Oliver J. Carter said he would consider arguments in favor of freeing Miss Hearst, but made it clear he did not now regard her a safe risk.

U.S. Atty. James L. Browning told the judge that Miss Hearst, apprehended Thursday with three fellow radicals, carried a loaded .38-caliber pistol in her purse when arrested.

The federal prosecutor said officers also found two carbines in a closet of the residence where she was taken into custody.

During the hearing in a packed courtroom, Browning disclosed that the government intended to use Miss Hearst's own tape recorded revolutionary rhetoric in its case against her and he strongly argued against her release.

"There are no conditions of release that will assure Miss Hearst's future appearance before this court," Browning told the judge. "The defendant may have close ties, but they are not to her family."

Miss Hearst's parents said their daughter told them she wanted to go home, and they had expressed the hope that she could be released on bond.

Referring to the weight of evidence he said was against the 21-year-old Miss Hearst, Browning stated: "We have the defendant admitting in a tape that she voluntarily took part ... in a bank robbery."

In a taped "communique" from the Symbionese Liberation Army dated April 24, 1974, Miss Hearst declared that she had willingly taken part in the robbery of a San Francisco bank to finance revolutionary activities and as a gesture of defiance toward her parents and society.

The slender Miss Hearst, clad in the same tee-shirt and slacks she wore at her arraignment Thursday, sat quietly at the counsel table, listening as her attorney, Terence Hallinan, argued her case.

She spoke softly three times, answering "Yes" when asked if she understood the charges, if Hallinan represented her and if she would let him speak for her.

Throughout the nearly one-hour hearing, Miss Hearst kept her eyes fixed on Hallinan, barely glancing at her family as they sat in a back row.

Her parents, reunited with their daughter earlier in the day for the first time in 19 months, appeared to be watching Patty closely.

In arguing for bail, Hallinan stressed that Miss Hearst deserved the presumption of innocence.

"This woman began as a kidnap victim," he said. "... She intends to plead innocent."

Hallinan said Miss Hearst desired to return to the family she had abandoned more than a year and a half before.

Earlier Friday, bail for Miss Hearst and William and Emily Harris had been raised to $1.5 million each.

When asked by Judge Carter if the Hearst family would support his arguments for their daughter's freedom, Hallinan said, "Her family would be glad to respond, as would Miss Hearst. Her desire is to get out and prepare an adequate defense."

But Judge Carter made it clear that he remained to be convinced that Miss Hearst presented a satisfactory risk for bail, even though he expressed sympathy for her parents.

"In this case, we have a person who has announced to the world with others their revolution against the system," he said. "They said it to the world and then punctuated it with gunfire." Carter stressed that if attorneys could convince him of the wisdom of granting Miss Hearst bail, he would do so.

CHAINED AND MANACLED

Patricia Hearst and Emily Harris, arrested Thursday in San Francisco, are led to cars by U.S. marshals at San Mateo County Jail Friday enroute to San Francisco for bail hearings in Federal Court. Both women are manacled and their cuffs shackled to waist chains.

Fingerprints: right touch in Hearst case

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — The unexpected discovery of the fingerprints of fugitive Wendy Yoshimura in a Pennsylvania farmhouse hideout early this year led FBI agents on a cross-country trail that ended in the capture of newspaper heiress Patty Hearst, it was disclosed Friday.

Also found in the house were the fingerprints of Emily and William Harris, fugitive members of the Symbionese Liberation Army who were seized with Patty Thursday in San Francisco.

"When we learned that Wendy was with the Harrises we immediately began checking her friends and acquaintances, and that took us from the Pennsylvania house, down to the New Jersey seashore and eventually to success in San Francisco," an FBI source told The Associated Press.

The isolated house in South Canaan, not far from the New York State border in the mountains of northeastern Pennsylvania, reportedly had been used as a hideaway for about six weeks in the summer of 1974 by Patty, Wendy and the Harrises.

The government alleges the house was rented by Jack Scott, former athletic director at Oberlin College and now a close associate of basketball star Bill Walton in Portland, Ore. It is presently conducting a federal grand jury investigation that could lead to harboring indictments.

Jackson judged insane

Leroy Jackson Jr., 27-year-old Pomonan charged with murdering a hypnotist Jan. 24, has been adjudged insane and committed to Patton State Hospital in San Bernardino.

Jackson, formerly an art teacher at Pomona High School, was ruled insane by Pomona Superior Court Judge Howard D. McClain Thursday after testimony to that effect by two psychiatrists who had examined Jackson earlier.

Prior to committing Jackson, however, McClain ruled him guilty of manslaughter in the shooting of Minott E. Edwards, 57. Jackson originally was charged with murder.

Authorities said that Jackson had been a client of Edwards and had gone to Edwards for assistance because he believed himself to have been given rides in space ships. They said that after his arrest, Jackson complained, however, that Edwards had been tampering with his mind.

The psychiatrists testified that Jackson was "a danger to himself and others" and recommended his commitment. McClain ordered periodic reports to the court on the progress of Jackson's treatment at the hospital.

Jackson was committed indefinitely, or until cured, and his case remains before the court pending final disposition.

Homosexual sergeant loses Air Force fight

HAMPTON, Va. (AP) — A panel of Air Force officers Friday night turned back T. Sgt. Leonard P. Matlovich's challenge to military regulations banning homosexuals and recommended that he be discharged because he is gay.

Lt. Col. Richard L. Friese, a veteran of 31 years in the Air Force and president of the board, recommended that Matlovich receive a general discharge. Air Force regulations say a general discharge is a "separation from the Air Force under honorable conditions."

Matlovich has no avenue of appeal to a military court, but his case can be considered by a military review board. Matlovich's chief defense attorney said the case would be appealed through the federal courts, if necessary.

The three-man board reached its decision after 4 hours and 22 minutes of deliberation.

Matlovich, 32, was smiling at an impromptu news conference after the decision was announced.

He held up a bicentennial half-dollar and said, "It says 200 years of freedom. Not yet ... it will be some day."

He said he intended to fight for the rights not only of homosexuals but of blacks and all minorities.

"It was my personal loss, but it will be humanity's gain. It now becomes a campaign."

Asked if he had any idea why the board decided the way it did, he said, "I have no idea."

A defense lawyer said "they (members of the board) just don't like homosexuals."

Under a general discharge, Matlovich loses no veteran benefits.

'I did what I had to do' — suspect

Integration expert slain

DAYTON, Ohio (AP) — Desegregation planner Dr. Charles A. Glatt died Friday after being shot four times, allegedly by a middle-aged father of seven who was quoted as saying, "I did what I had to do."

The incident took place in the building in which Glatt had been writing an integration proposal for the city's schools. He was an expert in the field and had prepared desegregation plans for such cities as Philadelphia, Indianapolis and San Francisco.

Neal Bradley Long, 48, a white Dayton service station attendant, was arraigned before a U.S. magistrate and charged with murder in the three-story federal building where Glatt, also white, was shot. No plea was entered and a preliminary hearing was set for Thursday.

Long, appearing in a shortsleeved blue work shirt and work shoes, is divorced, authorities said.

After the shooting, which occurred about 3 p.m., Glatt, 47, underwent surgery at a local hospital for bullet wounds in the left shoulder, chest, abdomen and neck. He died on the operating table, but the announcement of his death was withheld pending notification of his family.

Brush fire hits 200 acres

Fire blackened about 200 acres of brush in the foothills north of Duarte Friday afternoon, but caused no major damage.

The fire, which started about 3:30 p.m., billowed black smoke across the foothill areas all the way to Alta Loma.

Ford in L.A.

OKLAHOMA (AP) — President Ford told wheat-conscious Oklahomans on Friday he is optimistic that a long-term grain agreement will be worked out with the Soviet Union so that he can lift a temporary ban on sales to the Russians.

The Oklahoma speech began a business, political and pleasure trip for the President, who was accompanied by his wife Betty. The journey took him out of the White House for the fourth consecutive week.

After an evening fund-raising reception in Oklahoma City, Ford flew to Los Angeles Friday night.

During three days in California he will make speeches and hold television interviews in Los Angeles, Malibu, Palo Alto, Anaheim and San Francisco.

Fromme trial ordered for Nov. 4

SACRAMENTO, Calif. (AP) — Lynette "Squeaky" Fromme, calling out the "sooner the better," on Friday was ordered to stand trial Nov. 4 after pleading innocent to a charge she tried to assassinate President Ford.

She also reluctantly agreed to the judge's own motion that she be examined by a psychiatrist to determine if she is competent to stand trial and act as her own attorney.

The 26-year-old disciple of convicted mass murderer Charles Manson entered her plea before U.S. District Court Judge Thomas J. MacBride, who also rejected a motion to further reduce her bail from $350,000.

MacBride gave Miss Fromme the option of her trial starting either Nov. 4 or Nov. 10, and the diminutive redhead spoke up: "Sooner the better." There was no further argument over when she would face the jury trial on the charge, which carries a maximum penality of life imprisonment.

Miss Fromme, whose bail was cut from $1 million to $350,000 on Tuesday, is accused of pointing a .45-caliber pistol at President Ford while he was shaking hands in Capitol Park on Sept. 5. The gun did not fire and Ford was unhurt.

E. Richard Walker, the public defender now representing Miss Fromme, said he would appeal the bail ruling to the 9th Circuit Court in San Francisco, and the judge set an Oct. 17 hearing for a defense motion to move the trial from the state capital.

MacBride questioned Miss Fromme on her knowledge of the law, and said he was trying to "seriously dissuade" her from trying to represent herself.

At one point Miss Fromme said, "Your honor, I know nothing whatsoever about federal law and very little about state law."

The judge answered, "Miss Fromme, that's what worries me."

He then ordered the psychiatric examination, saying: "I'm obligated to order an examination to determine her state of mind — not her intelligence, but her competency to stand trial and be her own counsel."

Miss Fromme said she didn't want a psychiatric examination, but she relented after the judge agreed to allow the examination to be tape-recorded. Miss Fromme said this was necessary to guard against being quoted out of context.

FBI'S Kelley relieved as SLA roundup 'completed'

KANSAS CITY (AP) — FBI Director Clarence M. Kelley said Friday he believes the arrest of Patricia Hearst and three associates in San Francisco completes the roundup of the small and tightly knit band of revolutionaries called the Symbionese Liberation Army.

"We don't know of any other SLA members, they're all accounted for," Kelley told a news conference in which he expressed great relief that the long hunt for Patty Hearst had come to "a satisfactory solution ... without bloodshed or violence."

Kelley was asked where Miss Hearst has been since the SLA kidnapped her on Feb. 4, 1974, but he refused to go into details.

"The investigation is continuing, with the possibility that it could develop some cases of harboring," Kelley said without elaborating.

Why did she return to San Francisco?

"We don't know."

How long had she been there?

"We think about three weeks."

Asked about reports the arrests were a fluke, he countered with an assertion that they were the result of good, solid investigative work. And he said the tracking down and breaking up of the SLA is worth the more than $2.6 million it has cost.

"I am concerned about this and other groups of revolutionaries that would overthrow our government using the weapon of violence," he said.

Did the FBI have anything to indicate that Patty Hearst was a genuine convert to the SLA.

"We do not have this," Kelley replied. "It has been reported to me that she wants to be reunited with her family and will be taken back into the bosom of that very close group."

Kelley said the FBI had never been able to infiltrate the SLA, and he indicated this also was true with some other underground groups.

They are too tightly knit and are clever in their security measures against intruders, he said.

"There were some who said the failure of the FBI and other law enforcement agencies to find Patty Hearst was an indication of their fallibility," Kelley said. "The credibility of the FBI has been assaulted."

He was serious throughout the questioning, but his voice seemed to take on a light-hearted touch when he noted he no longer will be tormented everywhere he goes by the question: "Why can't you catch Patty Hearst?"

Shriver starts drive for Demo nomination

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sargent Shriver, the most famous brother-in-law in American politics, launches his own campaign today for the 1976 Democratic presidential nomination despite a likely persistent obstacle — no matter what he says, many think he's just holding the door for Sen. Edward M. Kennedy.

"There would be those who would say I was a stalking horse for Teddy even after I was inaugurated and living in the White House," the 59-year-old Shriver remarked recently. "There's nothing I can do about it so I don't worry about it."

Shriver begins his campaign after repeated public statements by Kennedy that he won't be a candidate in 1976 under any circumstances.

And Shriver has added one of his brother-in-law's key assistants to his own small staff.

Richard Drayne, Kennedy's Senate press secretary for years, has left to become involved in the planning, strategy and issues of the Shriver campaign.

Shriver, who has never held elective office, brings to his campaign the same apparently boundless enthusiasm that marked his other public roles as head of the Peace Corps and the Office of Economic Opportunity, U.S. ambassador to France, and as Sen. George McGovern's sixth and final choice to replace Sen. Thomas Eagleton, D-Mo., in the No. 2 spot on the 1972 Democratic ticket.

Sabotage conviction

DENVER (AP) — Anti-war activist Cameron David Bishop, on the FBI's 10 Most Wanted List for six years before his arrest in March, was convicted in U.S. District Court on Friday of three counts of sabotage in the 1969 bombing of transmission lines.

He was acquitted on a fourth count.

One of a few people in U.S. history charged with sabotage in peacetime, Bishop was accused of bombing utility lines that supplied power to a Colorado defense plant.

The verdict in the case came after a jury of 11 women and one man had deliberated for 11 hours over a two-day period. Bishop said he would appeal the verdict.

Bishop's wife, who had suffered apparent epileptic seizures during the trial, collapsed in tears when the verdict was read.

LAST LOOK BACK — Freddie Lee Pitts, right, looks backward down the long walkway as he leaves Raiford Prison Friday with Wilbert Lee, at his side. Both were released after serving 12 years at Florida State prison in Starke, Fla., for two murders another man said he committed.

Innocent men jailed 12 years, finally free

STARKE, Fla. (AP) — Freddie Pitts and Wilbert Lee walked out of the Florida State Prison as free men Friday, 12 years after they were sent here to die for two murders another man says he committed.

Showing little emotion, the two friends who spent eight years on death row walked out the prison's main gate shortly after noon. They had stayed for one last meal — a prison lunch.

Their pardons, signed by Gov. Reubin Askew and the required three members of the state cabinet, were filed with the secretary of state's office at noon.

"The only thing on my mind is getting out," said Pitts, 31.

Lee, 40, added: "When I'm 300 or 400 miles down the road, I could probably give you an answer how I feel. Right now, I don't feel anything."

The two black men were twice convicted and sentenced to the electric chair for the Aug. 1, 1963, robbery-killings of two white Port St. Joe service station attendants. Both have stated their belief that their convictions were racially motivated.

Pitts and Lee left behind in neighboring Union Correctional Institute the man who convinced the state pardon board he committed the slayings, Curtis "Boo" Adams. He is serving a life term for a similar killing in Fort Lauderdale.

Living cost up slightly

WASHINGTON (AP) — The government reported Friday that living costs rose a relatively modest two-tenths of one per cent in August, giving consumers their best inflation news in three years. But a presidential spokesman cautioned against premature celebration.

The Labor Department said the August figure was the smallest monthly increase since consumer prices rose one-tenth of a per cent in August 1972. It followed increases of 1.2 per cent in July — biggest of the year — and eight-tenths of a per cent in June.

The buying power of the average paycheck also showed improvement, registering the first yearly gain since 1973.

Portugal gets new premier

LISBON, Portugal (AP) — Premier Jose Pinheiro de Azevedo was sworn in Friday with a new government dominated by Socialist and centrist civilians and moderate military officers — a lineup that confirms a sharp setback to Communist political ambitions.

Adm. Azevedo called his cabinet a "government of national salvation" and set it to work to heal Portugal's deep social divisions, rescue a faltering economy and restore the respect for law.

The sixth provisional government in 17 months was three weeks in the making and resulted from an anti-Communist backlash that drove former Premier Vasco Goncalves from power.

Woman in blast critical

A Hacienda Heights woman, burned over 80 per cent of her body in a natural gas explosion in her home Wednesday, remained in critical condition today in County-USC Medical Center's burn ward.

The victim, Jayne Ubiner, 40, suffered second-degree burns when she set off the blast and flash fire when she lighted a cigarette in her home at 16268 Cantelones Ave. Damage to the house was estimated at between $5,000 and $10,000.

Beirut battle continues

BEIRUT, Lebanon (AP) — Christians and Moslems battled in Beirut streets Friday despite a dusk-to-dawn curfew clamped on the city's paralyzed commercial districts. Police reported 52 bodies recovered from eight separate battle areas of Beirut.

Authorities said the count was incomplete because security men could not enter many combat zones, where uncollected corpses lay in alleyways and fires raged out of control.

Syria sent two high-ranking officials to Lebanon to try to mediate the bloody conflict between Christian right-wingers and Moslem leftists. Abdul Halim Khaddam, Syria's foreign minister and deputy premier, and Chief of Staff Gen. Hikmat Chehabi conferred with President Suleman Franjieh immediately after arrival in the capital.

Bearded robber sought youth jailed in probe

Montclair Police are searching for a bearded man who simulated a gun and robbed Penney's Service Center in the Montclair Plaza of an undetermined amount of cash.

The manager of the service center told officers the man took money from the cash register Thursday night and ran out the door to a car driven by a woman with long blonde hair.

The robber was described as about 40, with a large beard and brown hair. The woman was driving an older model dark green two-door Oldsmobile with yellow and black out-of-state plates.

A 17-year-old youth was arrested for investigation of burglary in Ontario after he was seen by a police officer running from a bakery truck that had been broken into at Weber's Bread, 938 W. Holt Blvd. Thursday night.

Officer Don McGready said he was on routine patrol when he saw the youth bolt from between two bakery trucks in front of the bakery. McGready said he pursued the youth to a trash bin where he found him hiding. The youth was taken into custody and two baskets full of bread and other bakery items were seized.

Officers checking the area found a bakery truck had been broken into and a number of bakery items taken.

Schmitz to run for Senate?

SACRAMENTO (AP) — John Schmitz, former American Independent party candidate for President, is about to enter the race for the Republican nomination for the U.S. Senate in 1976.

Schmitz said in a telephone interview Thursday with The Associated Press that he will make a final decision this weekend at the Republican State Central Committee meeting in San Diego.

Water dispute evaporates; L.V. to buy firm

A five-year feud over the ownership of the water company which serves residents of fashionable Mountain Springs Estates in La Verne is finally heading toward resolution.

The La Verne City Council has agreed to accept the water company from residents and to integrate it into the city's main system.

This means that residents of the private development will probably pay less for their service than they did under private ownership.

Present owners of the Sharder 3 Water Co. offered the system to the City Monday night free of charge, provided the city will retire the company's debts estimated at between $4,000 and $5,000.

The council instructed City Atty. Wynne S. Furth to examine existing legal documents and draw up the necessary papers for the takeover.

"That's great news," Pat Sampson, president of the water company, commented after the action. "We never wanted to be in the water business in the first place. We're happy to give the whole system to the city."

What cleared the roadblock before the takeover was a decision last summer in Pomona Superior Court wresting control of the water company from developer Pat Sinclair and giving it to the homeowners.

That ended a lengthy fight between the developer and the homeowners, during which Sinclair had threatened to shut off water because residents refused to pay his special assessments.

The council had attempted to acquire the water company while Sinclair was in control, but refused to pay him the $40,000 to $50,000 he had asked.

Sinclair had levied special assessments and other rates on water users to pay for upkeep and maintenance, while continuing to charge rates levied by the city.

Under the present proposal, residents of Mountain Springs Estates will get their water for the same price as the rest of the city's water users.

"We intend to keep the lot on which the present water tank stands," Sampson explained. "We'd like to turn it into a minipark."

City Manager George Caswell told the council Monday night that he has been informed there would be no need for any immediate repairs.

He said the city already is furnishing water to 65 customers of the Sharder 3 Water Co. on a contract basis.

Sampson said that as soon as the city takes the water system over, he will move to dissolve the water corporation.

TRUCKERS MEET

William Quinn, left, terminal manager of Western Gillette Inc. of Ontario, and Milt Huebsch, operations manager of Yellow Freight System Inc. of Fontana were among more than 200 transcontinental and local truckers taking part in the recent annual dinner of the Valley Transportation Club. The club's members range from Redlands to Industry. Don McCawley and Al Goodwin, both of Fontana, were co-chairmen of the event at the Ontario Holiday Inn. Club officers are Bill Kisman, president; Don Verburg, vice president; Bob Bressler, secretary; and Hal Alexander, treasurer. The group meets monthly.

Witness places valley man at scene of dump killing

A prosecution witness has placed a former Upland Realtor at an Ontario dumpsite in September of last year when a 27-year-old mentally retarded man was shot to death there.

Jeanette Adelman, 35, of Stockton, testifying before a West Valley Superior Court jury, said the defendant, Samual L. Guardalibene, 60, of Ontario, accused of murder, was one of four persons present at the dumpsite east of Archibald Avenue when Joseph Gomez, 27, was shot to death. Gomez's badly decomposed body was found four months later hidden under some bushes and wrapped in a tarpaulin in Riverside County.

Police were guided to the gravesite by Robert Thomas Bradley Sr. of Ontario, also named by Miss Adelman as one of those present at the dump. Telford, in an earlier trial where he was convicted of second degree murder, was identified by Miss Adelman as the man who carried the .22 caliber rifle that is believed to be the murder weapon.

Miss Adelman recalled how she, Guardalibene, Telford, Ronald Lawrence Marshal and Mary Pary Pacheco had struck up a conversation with Gomez in an Ontario pizza parlor one night in September that ended with the group going to the dumpsite in three cars.

She said during the course of the evening Guardalibene, Telford, and Marshall walked into the wash. Gomez then came over to her, saying he had $1,000. She said a short time later Guardalibene and Marshall returned to the cars without Telford and started talking to Gomez. She said Gomez and Marshal went into the wash, with Gaurdalibene, Miss Pacheco and herself following.

In the middle of the wash, Miss Adelman said Guardalibene told them Telford was going to shoot Gomez. Miss Adelman said both she and Miss Pacheco became fearful and ran up a hill to hide under a grapevine.

Miss Adelman recalled how a few minutes later she heard a shot and saw Telford coming through the bushes towards them. She said Telford walked past them and into the wash where she heard a second shot, a sound like bricks falling, and hysterical laughing.

The Stockton woman told the jury that after the first shot she saw a dome light come on in Guardalibene's car and heard Guardalibene mumbling something about getting a doctor.

Earlier in the courtroom of Judge James Cunningham, Sr., Ontario Police Officer William Haigh told jurors that he stopped Telford in January for a traffic violation and the defendent began telling him about a murder. He said Telford led him to Gomez's body, giving him several conflicting stories about how the murder had taken place.

Chino board stalls plans for building

Chino school trustees have postponed action on new building plans in order to take a closer look at the proposed construction sequence.

Supt. Royce Lapp's plans had called for additions to Los Serranos and Glenmeade Elementary schools and Buena Vista Continuation High School by July 1977.

The additions were proposed as the first, if voters approve an $8.5 million bond issue on Nov. 4.

Lapp had recommended approval of contracts with Carmichael-Kemp architects to develop the plans for the additional buildings. Seven rooms each were proposed for Glenmeade and Buena Vista, and 11 rooms would be added at Los Serranos.

New construction plans were presented this week by trustee Al McCombs, however. His plans include adding a primary-grade school adjacent to Magnolia Junior High. Also, a school site would be purchased in southwest Chino, and a junior high site would be procured.

The board is expected to continue discussions on new buildings at next Tuesday's meeting.

Hearing set in rape of stranded woman

A young Pomona man, charged with the kidnaping, rape and robbery of a woman bartender early Aug. 31, has been ordered into Pomona Superior Court to answer the accusations.

He is Clarence Manule Burch, 19, of 1199 Hillside Drive, who was bound over at his preliminary hearing before Pomona Municipal Court Judge James Piatt. Burch's arraignment was scheduled for Oct. 1 and he was ordered held in lieu of $25,000 bail.

Burch is charged in a seven-count complaint which also includes counts of felonious assault and two other sex offenses. He was arrested several hours after the woman, who works in a Pomona restaurant, told police she was kidnaped after her car stalled at Towne Avenue and Arrow Highway. She said she was taken to Pomona High School and later to Cal Poly and attacked at both locations.

She also said that besides threatening to kill her, her assailant beat her up and tried to set her hair on fire.

Fire destroys $2,500 in ham radio equipment

A ham radio operator lost $2,500 in radio equipment in a Pomona fire Thursday.

Firemen called to 775 N. Towne Ave., Pomona, discovered flames in a rear bedroom and bath shooting from the structure. Although the fire was confined to that area, firemen estimated $2,000 damage to the structure and $2,500 loss in contents.

The contents included both bedroom furniture and ham radio equipment.

There was extensive smoke and heat damage throughout the house.

Firemen cited a short in an electric blanket as the probable cause of the fire. The blanket was left on and no one was home when the two engine companies, a truck unit and rescue squad arrived.

Chino council rejects pleas for stop signs

Chino city councilmen have rejected requests for stop signs at three corners, and ordered the removal of signs at two other locations.

Despite protests from Councilman Angel Martinez, who voted against the motion, the council turned down requests for stop signs at Baker and Terry avenues, Baker and Harrison avenues, and Harrison at Russell Avenue.

Removal of a stop sign at Terry and Russell and a yield sign at the corner of Terry and Lewis avenues were also approved by councilmen.

Public Works Director John Gerardi said a thorough study had revealed the volume of traffic, visibility and accident history at the locations do not indicate a need for the signs.

Also, the existing stop signs at the two locations cited are not appropriate and should be removed, said Gerardi. He added that no accidents have been reported for the past two years at any locations in the study.

Martinez said the new signs should be added and present ones retained. "No way can we cut off the speeders without stop signs. At least the signs break up a long stretch. You're going to have accidents there sooner or later."

Citizens in the area had petitioned the council for the new stop signs.

In other business, Gerardi reported a grading problem involving new homes at 17th Street and Walnut Avenue had been essentially corrected.

Neighboring homeowners on Oaks Avenue charged at a recent council meeting that the fill was five feet high on some lots in the southeast corner of the new tract. The grade was higher than some residents' backyards, they said, and there were fears the new homes would "look down into the yards."

Gerardi noted the firm hired to complete grading on the Arciero Brothers' development had made an "error." Fills now have been reduced to three feet, however, he added. Two of the six lots in question will have three feet of grade, and the remaining lots will be no higher than two feet.

Residents had also cited a possible drainage problem, but Gerardi indicated there was none. Despite fears of flooding, he added drainage will travel mostly south and slightly west in the area, away from the homes on Oaks.

Legislators will tackle youth crime—McVittie

Assemblyman Bill McVittie, D-65th Dist., told a group of Pomona homeowners that legislation to reform the juvenile justice system in California will be a high priority when the state legislature reconvenes next January.

"Across the country today, juveniles are accounting for about one-half the arrests for serious crimes. The rate of violent crimes committed by young people is far above the growth in similar violations by adults," he reported.

The Upland legislator appeared Thursday night before a newly formed association of residents of Montvue Elementary School in north-east Pomona.

Citing juvenile crime statistics, McVittie reported that in California the latest figures available showed more than 360,000 juvenile arrests in one year — nearly one-third for felonies.

"Authorities place much of the blame for the bulging juvenile halls on the breakdown of the family unit and some even on television violence. But whatever the seed may be, it's the spreading roots that should concern us. Our present juvenile justice system is misdirected and often lumps together the violent juvenile offender with those whose crime is truancy or curfew violations," he said.

McVittie reported that 35 per cent of the juveniles admitted to juvenile hall are released within 24 hours, and two-thirds are out within 72 hours. "Most shouldn't have gone there in the first place."

The lawmaker declared the present system fails to treat major juvenile offenses as if they are serious crimes, but treats matters of emotions and domestic crisis as if they were serious criminal cases.

McVittie said legislation proposed by state Sen. Robert B. Presley, D-Riverside, would permit certain juvenile cases to be tried in adult courts based upon the circumstances and gravity of the crime.

"Fundamental reforms in the juvenile justice system began moving through the legislature this past year and I'm hopeful we will soon produce results that will stem the rise in juveniie crime and instill a little more common sense into the whole process," he concluded.

Ontario mishaps hurt 2

A 24-year-old Ontario man and an 11-year-old Ontario youth were injured in two separate traffic accidents in Ontario Thursday night, police reported.

The first accident occurred about 6:30 p.m. at Campus Avenue and I Street when a motorcycle crashed into the front end of a car driven by David Hotchkiss of 949 N. Vine St., Ontario.

The motorcyclist, William Roscoe Milburn, 24, of 1515 Ashbury Square, Ontario, was transported to Kaiser Hospital in Fontana and treated for multiple injuries. He was later released.

Paul Alejandre, 11, of 1019 S. Greenwood Way, Ontario, was treated at Ontario Community Hospital for leg and arm bruises and abrasions after he fell off the side of a car he was riding in front of his home. He was later released.

The accident was reported about 7:42 p.m. by Larry Gene Green, 19, of 1027 S. Greenwood Way, the driver of the vehicle.

Green told officers he consented to let the youth ride on the side of his car as he was driving home. Green said he stopped the car and the youth fell to the pavement. The tires of the car ran over the youths ankle and wrist, Green said.

'Dead' man is back to life

CULVER CITY (AP)—A taco stand owner was brought back to life 10 minutes after he apparently died of knife wounds, authorities said.

Dr. Ralph Hutchings, a heart specialist, said he found no pulse or blood pressure when Cabral was brought into the emergency room. He quickly opened the man's chest, found an inch-long hole in the heart and sewed it up.

Two sister teams clean up in cake-decorating contest

Two sets of sisters shared in a Claremont near-sweep of ribbons in the junior division of the My Chocolate Cake decorating contest at the Los Angeles County Fair at Pomona.

Donna Gray, 15, of 868 Kent Drive, a Claremont High sophomore, was awarded the blue ribbon, and also took home the fifth-place ribbon in the best-tasting category.

Donna's sister Sharon, 12, a seventh-grader at El Roble Intermediate School, placed third, and also received fourth in the best-tasting category.

Cynthia Potter, 2461 N. San Jacinto Drive, Claremont, was awarded the second-place ribbon, and her sister, Susan, who is only 7, received fifth spot.

In fourth place was Charles Leslie, 436 E. Colorado Ave., Glendale.

Mrs. D. T. Gray, the girls' mother, said that she was surprised when she heard Donna's number announced as winner.

"The cakes were so fancily decorated last year, that I didn't think the girls had a chance," Mrs. Gray commented.

She said that she was in 4-H work when she was young and that she had encouraged her daughters.

Mrs. Gray explained that the girls started with basic recipes and varied the ingredients.

"They baked the cakes before school, and then decorated them after school. We had to hurry to get to the fair on time," Mrs. Gray said.

The Gray sisters are not new to fair competition, because last year they both placed in the My Favorite Lemon Pie Contest.

Neither are the Potter sisters new to fair competition.

Cynthia, a fifth-grader at Chaparral School, had been trying to land a blue ribbon for two years, and at the 1975 fair she has won three first places in sewing, and three first places in arts and crafts.

Susan, a third grader at Chaparral School, brought home her first blue ribbon two years ago when she was 5 and submitted chocolate chip cookies in competition against 18-year-olds.

This year along with her ribbon for a decorated cake in the shape of a rocket ship she received three blue ribbons in sewing, two blue ribbons in cooking, and two blue ribbons in arts and crafts.

Mrs. Potter said that the girls took the recipe for their cakes from a book she had as a Brownie.

She revealed that she had been a 4-H sewing leader for 10 years, and because Claremont doesn't have a local 4-H club, she has taught the girls herself.

Not to be outdone by her daughters, Mrs. Potter brought home a fourth-place ribbon in the senior (over 18) division decorating contest.

Ignition device ends pilot lights

SACRAMENTO (AP) — The new state energy commission has approved a development contract for an ignition device that would eliminate pilot lights on gas appliances.

The commission says the device would cut gas consumption by 10 per cent because it wouldn't burn continuously like a pilot light.

The vote Wednesday was for a three-month contract with Science Applications, Inc., for a type of spark generator.

For paradise

California received its name from Spanish conquistadors, possibly Cortez himself. It was the name of an imaginary island, an earthly paradise, in "Las Serges de Esplandian," a Spanish romance written by Montalvo in 1510. Lower California, now the Mexican state of Baja, California, was first visited by the Spanish in 1533.

BETTY BAXTER
SUNDAY
10:50 A.M. & 6 P.M.

A PERSONAL WORD FROM ORAL ROBERTS ABOUT BETTY BAXTER
THE BETTY BAXTER STORY you are about to hear is the greatest story I have ever heard. It is a drama of deliverance in our time ranking with the greatest miracles of the Bible. That a young girl, hopelessly crippled and deformed as the woman Jesus healed in Luke 13:10-13, could have the faith to believe Jesus would heal her, is a challenge to every person who has ever felt the awful power of sickness and disease.
Jesus appeared to Betty Baxter, talked with her, laid his nail-scarred hands on her twisted, matted spine and in a moment's time straightened her bent body and made her whole. It is a true story, occurring in Fairmont, Minnesota.
The Fairmont Daily Sentinel carried the story of her healing in bold headlines on its front page. Shortly after her healing, one thousand people gathered in the High School Auditorium to see and hear her tell her story.

FCC denies ban on broadcasters despite letters

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Federal Communications Commission seems unable to stop an avalanche of mail urging it not to do something it never considered doing.

The letters and postcards involving religious broadcasting total about 1.3 million, says Harry Shockro, the FCC's chief of administrative services, who oversees the mail.

But that's 600,000 more than the estimate on Aug. 1, when the commission explained in a public notice that there was never any question of banning religious broadcasting from the airwaves, as almost all the letter writers feared.

The FCC made the explanation in denying a petition for a freeze on applications by religious institutions for television or FM radio channels reserved for educational stations.

Two Los Gatos, Calif., broadcast consultants, Jeremy D. Lansman and Lorenzo W. Milam, contended that the assignment of more than one educational channel in a community to a religious group deprived minority groups of access to the scarce channels.

Their petition, filed last Dec. 5, brought the snowballing avalanche of mail and phone calls to the FCC.

The FCC, in denying it, said: "As a government agency, the commission is enjoined by the First Amendment to observe a stance of neutrality toward religion, acting neither to promote nor to inhibit religion."

The FCC pointed out that the case never did not involve religious programming on any commercial network or station. It involved only the channels set aside for educational use.

And the two consultants have insisted repeatedly that they were not against religious broadcasting but only those institutions which use channels to present a one-sided view.

But the mail continued unabated, spurred by many ministers, who continued to exhort their churchgoers from their pulpits or in church bulletins to write the FCC in protest.

Even in the past couple of weeks, church bulletins in many communities were still saying the FCC is holding hearings on whether to ban religious broadcasting. The FCC never scheduled hearings in the case and rejected the MilamLansman petition without any hearings.

The 1.3 million letters and postcards dwarf the previous high for mailto the FCC, 110,000 letters when the FCC was considering last year whether to ban advertising from children's TV shows.

Shockro's estimate doesn't include mail addressed to individual commissioners, only that addressed simply to the FCC.

He said that 85 to 90 per cent of the mail opened by his staff recently concerns the religious broadcast question.

A check of Commission Chairman Richard E. Wiley's office showed three large cartons filled with letters addressed to him.

The quantity of the mail ruled out answering it even with form letters. The mail is being piled up in a basement storage room to be kept until Monday, after the period for appealing the Milam-Lansman decision, FCC officials say.

Then it will be disposed of, they say.

IN RECITAL — Michael LaNier, tenor, and Carla Pfeiffer, contralto, will perform musical selections at the Upland United Methodist Church Tuesday at 7:30 p.m. Ferne Wolfe is accompanist.

Benefit concert at Upland United

A benefit recital is planned at 7:30 p.m. Tuesday in the fellowship hall of the Upland United Methodist Church.

The artists, Carla Pfeiffer, contralto, and Michael LaNier, tenor, will present selections in Engligh and Italian. Ferne Wolf is the accompanist.

The concert is sponsored by the Worship Commission and the Cathedral Choir of the church.

Miss Pfeiffer, a La Verne College graduate, has been soloist for the Claremont United Church of Christ, Congregational, and has been a guest soloist for other churches.

LaNier served as tenor soloist at St. Joseph Catholic Church in Pomona for 10 years and has also been a guest soloist in the valley.

Both are students of Hollywood and members of the Louis Ronfeldt Chorale.

Mrs. Wolf is a graduate of the USC School of Music and has been active as an accompanist and organist in Covina. She is organist at First Mennonite Church of Upland.

The public is invited to the recital and a reception afterwards.

Need checking

The National Automobile Club points out that a car's belts and hoses need checking and perhaps replacing every two years or 24,000 miles.

Number two

Canada is the world's second largest country territorially, extending from the North Pole to the U.S. border and including all the islands of the Arctic from near Greenland to near the Alaskan border. Its seacoast, one of the world's longest, includes 17,860 miles of mainland and 41,810 miles of islands. Much of the country is covered by the Canadian Shield, the earth's oldest surface rock.

FTC charges

Safeway overcharged?

WASHINGTON (AP) — Safeway Stores, the nation's largest supermarket chain, overpriced and overcharged on advertised sale items, the Federal Trade Commission has charged.

The FTC alleged Monday that a "significant number" of Safeway stores overcharged customers by failing to mark down advertised specials and by selling those items at regular prices.

The commission has previously made similar charges against the country's second and third largest chains.

A spokesman for Safeway said that overcharges were few and were caused by "human error."

Safeway said in a statement: "The FTC complaint is based on a survey in 56 Safeway stores in which less than 150 out of the 10,000 advertised items were purchased above the advertised price. Because human error cannot be completely eliminated in the complex and demanding job of checking out grocery products, some items will be undercharged and overcharged."

A proposed order issued by the FTC would require that all advertised products be marked at sale prices and sold at or below the advertised price. It would also require the company to post copies of ads at store entrances and at checkout counters.

The rule would not apply when the price of a item is determined by the total value of a customer's order or by the use of coupons.

Patients filled with pins

MILWAUKEE (AP) — Because of a certain unusual type of acupuncture where the needles are left in the body for life, physicians are once in a while encountering patients who are walking pincushions. Radiologists here and in Japan report that X-ray studies reveal the needles can roam throughout the body and may be found literally anywhere.

Dr. Thomas J. Imray, of the Medical College of Wisconsin, and Dr. Yoshihiro Hiramatsu, of Teikyo University School in Tokyo, warn their radiologist colleagues that when the needles are seen in X-ray studies performed for reasons unrelated to acupuncture, they can be confusing because their appearance mimics that of parasitic infections.

This uncommon acupuncture is known as Hari and is still occasionally practiced in Japan. It consists of inserting many fine gold needles through the skin into the tissue underneath. After the needles are in place at the proper depth, they are cut off at the skin surface. Hari acupuncture may accumulate thousands of needles in the tissue below the skin, the radiologists report.

Musical group to play

"The Bridge," a musical group from Azusa Pacific College, will perform Sunday at 7 p.m. at Valley Community Drive-In Church, San Dimas.

The group, comprised of 17 college students, offers a contemporary sound characterized by an upbeat tempo and featuring brass accompaniment. Don Neufeld is director.

Hospital suspends Finch

EL DORADO SPRINGS, Mo. (AP) — Dr. Bernard Finch and his medical partner have been suspended from certain privileges at the Cedar County Memorial Hospital for violation of hospital rules.

Finch was suspended for violating hospital rules by taking patients' charts to his home to complete them. Dr. Harry Langeluttig, Finch's partner, said he was suspended for starting a hysterectomy at the hospital Tuesday without another doctor in the operating room, also a violation of hospital rules.

He said Finch arrived about 10 minutes after the start of surgery.

The two-week suspensions took effect Thursday and prohibit Finch and Langeluttig from performing newly scheduled surgery or admitting patients to the hospital. The hospital board which approved the suspensions said the two doctors could perform already scheduled surgery and provide obstetric-gynecological care.

Finch was admitted to medical practice in Missouri in December after a lengthy licensing battle with the state Board of Healing Arts. He had been denied his license on the basis of his 1961 first-degree murder conviction in California in the death of his previous wife. He moved to El Dorado Springs four years ago after he was paroled.

Mrs. Finch said the two doctors were not told in advance that action was planned.

Seven forensics experts to study RFK evidence

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Seven forensics experts from around the nation will gather here next week to study evidence in the Robert F. Kennedy assassination.

The experts, who will examine materials relating to the 1968 assassination in the Ambassador Hotel, are expected to determine whether it is necessary to fire the death weapon again and whether a second gun could have been used in the crime, as some critics have alleged.

DeWayne Wolfer, head of the police crime lab, concluded his testimony Thursday, and Superior Court Judge Robert Wenke announced that the identification of evidence introduced in the 1969 trial of Sirhan Sirhan has been completed.

Wolfer identified several items of evidence Thursday but said he couldn't remember the results of all his examinations of the items.

The day before, Wolfer testified he was certain that time had taken its toll on some of the evidence, particularly the bullets which killed Kennedy.

When asked whether the striations (marks left on a bullet by the inside of a gunbarrel) were the same as when he first examined them, Wolfer replied, "I'm sure they're not."

Earlier he had commented that bullets and shell casings were "tremendously darkened" from the passage of seven years.

Judge Wenke said Thursday he is satisfied the hearings have produced a solid basis for the seven experts, paid from county coffers, to begin their examination.

Deputy County Counsel John Lynch will report to Wenke today about plans to expedite the second phase of the investigation.

The judge has ordered the Los Angeles Police Commission to produce whatever documents they may have relating to tests run by Wolfer.

Possible existence of additional reports was indicated by Wolfer's testimony Thursday.

Outside the courtroom afterwards, skepticism was voiced by Mel Levine, an attorney representing Paul Schrade, who was wounded during the assassination. Schrade has been trying without success to gain access to evidence in the case.

"There is enough material now for tests, but we may also need trajectory studies and the (missing) ceiling panels and information contained in the Los Angeles Police Department's 10-volume summary of the investigation," Levine said.

Bicyclist had proof of story

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP) — Peggy Wright had a red welt on her backside to prove her story.

She stormed into the suburban Avon Lake Police Station on Wednesday to complain that she had been slapped on her behind while riding her bicycle by someone in a passing car. She said the blow almost knocked her off the bike.

The 30-year-old Cleveland woman showed policemen the mark and led them to a service station where the alleged culprits had stopped their car.

Police arrested two 17-year-olds and filed delinquent assault charges against them in juvenile court.

"If these kids meant this as a compliment, I can think of better ways to be complimented," the woman said. "There are enough hazards riding bikes without having your derriere become a target."

Change pledge

The original Pledge of Allegiance was published Sept. 8, 1892, in the Youth's Companion, a weekly magazine in Boston. It contained the phrase "my flag", changed 30 years later to "flag of the United States of America." In 1954, Congress added the words "under God."

USC, Bell do it again

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Massive Ricky Bell exploded for two long touchdown runs and gained 215 yards Friday night as fourth-ranked Southern California defeated Pacific-8 Conference rival Oregon State 24-7.

The 215-pound tailback, who opened his season last week with 256 yards and four touchdowns against Duke to grab the national leadership in both departments, ran 53 yards for a score with the game only 1:53 old the first time USC had the ball.

Bell's second score came in the third period after a 50-yard punt by Oregon State's Wendel Smith rolled dead at the Southern Cal 38.

Bell skipped around right end for 12 yards, then ran for two and then made a key block for quarterback Vince Evans, springing the passer loose and giving him time to throw.

After scrambling, Evans hit bell for a 17-yard passing gain.

On the following play Evans ran for six yards and then one play later handed to Bell on a sweep around right end.

Bell, dodging and leaping, romped straight up the middle 25 yards for the touchdown with 9:30 gone in the third period to give the Trojans their 24-7 lead in this Pac-8 opener for both schools.

Oregon State, wracked by injuries, got its only touchdown in the first period, tying the score briefly, after Evans fumbled at the USC nine yard line and Bill Ford recovered for the Beavers.

On a play-action fake, quarterback Steve Gervais hit tight end Phil Wroblicky for the score on a nine-yard toss to give the Beavers, 0-2, their first score of the season.

Southern Cal, now 2-0, grabbed a 10-7 lead at the start of the second quarter when Glen Walker kicked a 23-yard field goal.

Bell's first touchdown run was picture perfect before the crowd of 50,165 in Memorial Coliseum.

Taking a handoff from Evans out of the Trojan I formation, the 6-foot-2 Bell broke to the right and when fullback Dave Farmer wiped out OSU's excellent linebacker Bob Horn, Bell cut upfield.

At that point Trojan offensive tackle Marvin Powell blasted two Beavers to the turf as Bell broke to the outside, then cut back and was not touched as he capped the 68-yard drive that took just five plays.

Gervais moved his club effectively in the first quarter but when USC grabbed a 16-7 lead on Ted Roberson's 29-yard run with an interception, the Beaver quarterback came out. He was replaced by Kyle Grossart, considered a better passer.

But the Beavers could gain only three more first downs before halftime.

The game featured the spectatular kicking of junior college transfer Walker, in his second game for the Trojans.

The 6-1, 220-pound punter and placekicker consistently put his kickoffs deep into the OSU end zone. He averaged 49 yards per punt on four kicks and the Beavers rarely returned them because of their height.

John McKay won his 121st game is 16 seasons as the Trojans head coach, equalling the famed Howard Jones for triumphs at the school.

In addition, Southern Cal extended to 26 its Pac-8 unbeaten string dating back to 1971 and it was the seventh victory in a row since last year's 15-15 tie with California.

The Beavers, led by Grossart's 9-14 passing for 110 yards, moved the ball well in a scoreless fourth period and wound up with 16 first downs to USC's 17.

CHARGING THROUGH

Damien High's Leo Burke (30) is stopped by the San Dimas defenders after gaining some yardage in Damien's 16-0 victory over the Saints Friday night in high school opener.

Damien Defense leads way

By JIM McCONNELL
PB Staff Writer

Who has the best defensive team in the valley?

Well, after Damien High's 16-0 shutout of San Dimas Friday night at the Spartans' field, one would have to say the La Verne-based school would be in line for that distinction.

All the Spartans did was to hold San Dimas, rated a pre-season favorite to cop the Hacienda League crown, to a net of four yards in offense on the night in completely silencing the Saints.

Put that kind of a defense together with the sharp passing of Joe Carroll and the power running of Ruben Lopez, Dennis Gainey, Leo Burke and Bob Alexander and you can figure out what happened Friday at Spartan-land in the 1975 prep opener for both schools.

Damien, under new coach Dick Larson, never really gave San Dimas a chance, especially after assuming a 14-0 half-time lead. About the only thing the San Antonio League representatives had trouble with was the officials, as the Spartans were assessed for 110 yards on 12 rule infractions.

Actually, for San Dimas the game pivoted on one play early in the second quarter. Aided by two Damien penalties totaling 30 yards, the Saints were in business on the Spartan 26-yard line. On a first down play, Saint quarterback dropped back and threw long to Jim Button. Button, in the end zone, extended his body as far as he could and the pass just did dribble off his fingertips.

Denied that potential go-ahead score (the game was still 0-0 then), the Saints still had a chance at a TD as a Loumagne to Sonny LaFargue pass gave S.D. a first down at the Damien 11.

However, the Spartan defense rose to the occasion and nailed Loumagne behind the line, as he tried to pitch out, thus forcing a fumble recovered by Jim Abacherli at the Damien 30.

From that spot the Spartans marched 70 yards for the game's first score. Three straight Carroll completions kept the drive alive, as did a 15-yard walkoff against San Dimas for unsportsman-like conduct.

Camped on the S.D. 10-yard line, Carroll pitched back to Lopez who blazed around left end for the 10 yards and the TD. Rick Davis added the first of his two PAT boots on the evening.

San Dimas could do nothing on its ensuing possession and a short punt put Damien in business again at its own 42.

Carroll struck quickly, hitting Davis on a pass play go for 30 yards. Two Spartan running plays got Damien to the 24, from where Davis and Carroll teamed up once again, this time on a 24-yard scoring aerial.

The fired-up Damien defense held San Dimas quiet the entire second half, and in fact added the only points of that stanza when Saint Doug Harbin was tackled in his own end zone for a safety late in the final quarter after he had fumbled a snap from center on a punt attempt.

For the game the Spartans outgained the Saints by a huge 299-to-four margin in yardage. Carroll sparkled at the QB slot for the hosts, hitting 10 of 16 passes good for 126 yards. Davis caught five of those for 89 yards and the TD.

In contrast, Loumagne hit on only four of 11 tosses and was dumped nine times behind the line trying to pass for a minus 50 yards.

Leading that defensive charge for Damien was linebacker Gregg Elias and tackle Hugo Cargnelutti. Both teamed to dump Loumagne on numerous occasions and Elias added a pass interception to his night's work.

Monarchs blank Garey

By BRENT SHYER
PB Correspondent

In a typical non-league opener marred by innumerable mistakes the Morningside Monarchs trounced the Garey Vikings, 19-0, Friday night at Cal Poly's Kellogg Field.

The Monarchs completely dominated the play throughout the game, and scored the only points they really needed at 6:04 of the first quarter, on a 32-yard field goal by Jay Jefferson.

The Vikings' opening set of downs was stalled at the 32-yard line, and on fourth down James Moore the punter came on. However, the snap from center was poor and the Monarchs ended up with the ball on the Vikes' 28-yard line. Seven plays later, the field goal was made by Jefferson.

Garey's only real bright spot was Stanley Webster, who pounded out 59 yards in 16 carries. Webster played the entire game, both offense and defense, yet still didn't appear to tire.

Moringside added another score at 8:29 of the second quarter when Charels Green caught Ralph Johnson's five-yard toss in the end zone for a touchdown. Jefferson added the extra point to make the score 100.

Again, that scoring drive was possible because of a Garey miscue. A slow snap from center got the ball back to Moore, but that extra second enabled the Morningside defense to get a hand on the ball and block it.

The Monarchs wrapped up the scoring in the first half when Jeff Boyd picked off Milton Banks' throw and ran it back 40-yards to the Vikings' 25-yard-line.

A key run by Dale Patterson kept the drive alive, but the squad from Inglewood had to settle for Jefferson's 21-yard field goal with 30 seconds remaining in the half.

The Vikings were guilty of numerous fumbles and mistakes. They mounted drives behind Webster's jitterbug style of running and Banks' leadership at quarterback, but they just couldn't seem to put it all together when close to the goal line.

The second half was played rather slowly, because of 11 penalties, the greater number of which were major ones. The spirited teams that had come on to the field before the game, and once again before the second half, got a little too "high" on the field of play thus calling for two unsportsmanlike conduct penalties.

The final score of the night before a very sparse gathering of fans, was set up again by Garey, as Webster fumbled and the pigskin was recovered by Morningside's Warren Washington.

The Monarchs brought in a new quarterback, Leamon White, who promptly fired a scoring strike to Boyd. The point after touchdown failed as a couple of the Vikings batted the ball down. The final score read 19-0 Morningside.

Next Friday night, Garey will try to get back on the winning side, as they prepare for their SAL opener against Ganesha in two weeks. The Vikings will travel to Riverside City College to play La Sierra at 8 p.m.

Pactwa wins 1st for Angels

ANAHEIM (AP) — Joe Pactwa, a 28-year-old left-hander recently acquired by the California Angels from the Mexican League, notched his first major league victory with a 1-0 decision over the Minnesota Twins Friday night.

Pactwa, originally signed by the New York Yankees as an outfielder, needed relief help from Jim Brewer in the eighth inning.

Dan Briggs' run-scoring single in the fourth produced the game's only run.

Mickey Rivers led off with a walk and stole his 67th base of the year before Briggs delivered him with a two-out single.

Rod Carew, the American League's leading hitter, had a double and two singles in support of loser Bert Blyleven, 149.

The Twins built a threat against Pactwa in the first inning when Steve Brye drew a one-out walk and Danny Ford singled with two outs. But Pactwa, who made his major league debut in Minnesota last Monday night, coaxed Larry Hisle to fly out.

Hisle also flied out in the third inning after Rod Carew singled with two away, stole his 34th base, and continued to third on catcher Andy Etchebarren's throwing error.

Carew's two-out double in the fifth and a second successive walk to Ford presented Hisle with another opportunity, but he again flied out.

Minnesota was knocking at the door again in the sixth when Dave McKay and Danny Thompson opened with singles. But Mike Poepping grounded into a fielder's choice and Phil Roof hit into a double play.

Boswell's single beats L.A. in 12th

HOUSTON (AP) — Ken Boswell's two-out pinch single in the 12th inning scored Milt May with the winning run Friday night as the Houston Astros trimmed the Los Angeles Dodgers 6-5.

May pinch hit a single and moved to second by Wilbur Howard before Boswell's game-winner.

The teams traded eighth-inning runs and were tied 4-4 entering the ninth, then each club scored in the 11th for the 5-5 deadlock.

A bases-loaded wild pitch by Houston's Jim York pushed the Dodgers' run across in the eighth before Cliff Johnson's 16th home run of the season produced the Astros' run. Then in the 11th Dave Sells drove in a Dodger run with a single before Cesar Cedeno tied it 5-5 with his 12th home run of the year.

Los Angeles scored single runs in the first and third innings on Johnson's fielding error and Willie Crawford's sacrifice fly to left off Houston starter Doug Konieczny.

Singles by Greg Gross and Skip Jutze and a walk to Roger Metzger loaded the bases for the Astros in the fifth before Tommy Helms pinch hit a tworun single to left.

Lee Lacy doubled to lead off the sixth off Astros reliever Mike Cosgrove and took third on a wild pitch. Steve Garvey's sacrifice fly to left scored Lacy to give Los Angeles a 3-2 lead.

But the Astros came back in the bottom of the sixth inning to tie the score at 3-3 on a single by Johnson, Gross' ground-rule double over the left-field wall, and Jutze's RBI single to center.

The Dodgers managed nine hits in the long affair, with Davey Lopes collecting a double and a triple in addition to a stolen base.

Burt Hooton, 17-9, goes for his 12th consecutive victory when he hurls for the Dodgers in tonight's second game.

UCLA is ready for Tennessee

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Quarterback John Sciarra, a big-play offense almost by himself, will be after his second strong showing in a row against Tennessee when the 12th-ranked Bruins host the 10th-ranked Volunteers today.

It also could prove to be his second big game of the season.

The Bruin quarterback ran for more than 100 yards and passed for 117, plus running for three touchdowns, as the UCLA slammed Iowa State 37-21 in the season opener last Saturday.

When UCLA and Tennessee fought to a 17-17 tie at Knoxville last year, Sciarra ran and passed for 390 yards. 390 yards.

The Vols came into the 12:45 p.m. regionally-televised game at Memorial Coliseum after opening the season with a 26-8 victory over Maryland, which had been ranked 14th.

To counter Sciarra, the Vols have Stanley Morgan, who scored three touchdowns, one on a short run, another a 50yard burst and the third on a 71-yard punt return.

Tennessee also has a stout defense anchored by middle linebacker Steve Poole, while UCLA's defense, which bent but didn't really break against Iowa State, still remains a question mark.

After a cautious first half against Iowa State, the Bruins opened up and UCLA Coach Dick Vermeil says his team will go into the meeting with Tennessee less reserved than in its inaugural game.

"We could have passed more against Iowa State, we should have loosened up earlier," he said.

"We want to be a more efficient passing team and get the big play from our outside receivers, Norm Andersen and Wally Henry," Vermeil added.

The lanky Andersen, the Bruins' top receiver, caught two 43-yard bombs from Sciarra last week and the swift Henry set up the opening UCLA touchdown with a 62-yard return of the opening kickoff.

Henry is 5-foot-8, shorter than the 6-2 Andersen, but has 4.6-second speed in the 40 yards.

"Wally hasn't had as many opportunities as Norm and that's our fault," Vermeil said. "He's the type that can take a six-yard pass and go all the way."

Andersen also looks for the Bruins to try to open up.

"We did well when we started to mix it up against Iowa State and I'm quite sure this will be our game plan because if we're going to win we're going to have to pass and run," he said.

Tennessee Coach Bill Battle noted that Poole, his middle linebacker, will have a busy day facing Sciarra and UCLA runners such as Eddie Ayers, Wendell Tyler and Kenny Lee.

"In our defense it's hard for the middle linebacker to make the big plays," Battle said. "Steve reacts to offensive situations and plays the middle tough so our outside men don't have to worry about his territory."

Duarte nips Devils at wire

By MARK GRIP
PB Correspondent

DUARTE — Duarte High speedster Keith Jackson scored from two yards out with 53 seconds left in the game and Pat Kennedy's point after gave the Falcons a 7-6 come-from-behind win over visiting Pomona Friday night.

Falcon defensive tackle Bob Clarke set up the touchdown with 4:04 left to play, when he recovered a fumble on the Red Devil 44 yard line.

It took Duarte 11 plays to score, but Pomona generously gave away 15 yards when it was cited for a personal foul.

The two teams fought hard defensively in their season opener until Pomona broke the ice with a touchdown at 9:34 of the fourth quarter.

After Pomona took over on downs on its own 29, Harold Walker romped 71 yards for a TD. Hank Zibell's PAT kick was blocked, giving the Devils a 6-0 lead.

Pomona threatened with 2:44 left in the first quarter, reaching the Falcon six before Charles Cole coughed up the football.

Duarte had a chance to score just before the close of the first half, when it blocked a Devil punt and took over on the Devil six yard line. After a five yard gain to the one, the Falcons were penalized twice for five yards moving the ball to the 11.

After a six-yard loss on a broken play, Duarte attempted a 32-yard field goal. Steve Taylor's kick was short with 46 seconds left in the half.

Pomona again had a golden opportunity, but the Falcon defense held quarterback Mark Soto, on fourth and goal from the three yard line, to only two yards on his keeper.

Pomona piled up 350 yards total offense to Duarte's 218. The Devil rushers ran for 312 of those yards. The Falcons accumulated 218 yards on the ground.

Halfback Walker lead all rushers with 119 yards on eight carries, but close behind was fullback Zibell with 126 yards on 21 carries. The other Devil running back Cole, scrambled for 77 yards on eight carries.

Tony Ross led the Falcon runners with 76 yards on 18 carries. His backfield mates Jackson and Lee Neal gained 60 and 57 respectively.

Pomona will travel to Fontana next Friday for an 8 p.m. game and Duarte will visit Damien.

Cowboys cut Cal Poly QB

DALLAS — Jim Zorn, Cal Poly's record-breaking quarterback, was released by the Dallas Cowboys Friday night just two days before the team opens its NFL season against the Los Angeles Rams.

The Cowboys cut Zorn to make room for running back Preston Pearson, who was released earlier this week by the Pittsburgh Steelers.

Zorn, who holds most of Poly's offensive records, was Dallas' third quarterback behind Roger Staubach and Clint Longley.

Bosox need six more

By The Associated Press

The Boston Red Sox moved a step closer to clinching the American League's Eastern Division title Thursday night as veteran Rico Petrocelli broke up a 4-4 tie and led Boston to a 7-5 victory over Detroit.

The Sox, who lost the division championship last year when they were overtaken by the Baltimore Orioles in the final month, reduced their "magic number" to six, meaning any combination of six Boston victories or Baltimore defeats will send the Red Sox into the playoffs.

In other AL games Thursday night, Baltimore nipped Milwaukee 6-5, Cleveland defeated the New York Yankees 3-2, Kansas City edged Oakland 5-4, Texas outslugged the Chicago White Sox 10-6 and California blanked Minnesota 1-0.

Boston scored four times in the first, but needed Petrocelli's two-run single in the fifth after after Detroit tied up the game 4-4.

Sports briefs

DELAWARE, Ohio (AP) — Seatrain, lightly raced and lightly regarded, stunned superstar Nero in winning the first division and then whipped another longshot, Polaris Lobell, in the raceoff Friday to capture the Little Brown Jug, the middle jewel of pacing's Triple Crown.

Nero's smashing defeat—he was 3¾ lengths behind Seatrain in the opening heat—ruined his bid to win the Triple Crown. Nero had won the first leg, the Cane Futurity.

LIGONIER, Pa. (AP) — The United States' heavily-favored Ryder Cup forces, paced by long-hitting Tom Weiskopf, swept out to a record 6½-1½ lead over Great Britain and Ireland in Friday's opening rounds of the biennial golf matches.

It was the biggest first day lead either team has enjoyed since this old, international series went to its current, three-day, 32-match format in 1963.

The Americans, with one of the strongest teams ever assembled, remain top-heavy favorites to win and now, staked to the record first-day advantage, have a shot at the all-time winning margin, 23½-8½ run up by the Americans in the 1967 matches at Houston.

BALTIMORE (AP) — Dan Issel, one of the American Basketball Association's top scorers, has been traded by the Kentucky Colonels to the Baltimore Claws for an estimated $750,000 and the rights to Tom Owens.

LONG BEACH, Calif. (AP) — Beau Baugh, Laura's brother, fired a four-under-par 68 Friday to take a one-stroke lead with a 135 total midway through the $22,500 Queen Mary Long Beach Open golf tournament.

Pasadena roars back to beat Chaffey, 13-7

The Chaffey High Tigers lost to Pasadena 13-7, in the last five minutes of the game after leading 7-6 in the third quarter.

After a scoreless first quarter, with numerous penalities charged to both teams, Chaffey's quarterback, John Gable, led his team to Pasadena's one-yard line. With only one minute into the second quarter, fullback Randy Brown turned the play into points with a one-yard run. Marvin Fernandez kicked the extra point for a 7-0 lead.

With the three minutes into the half, Pasadena got on the scoreboard with deLesandro Dean throwing a 27-yard pass to Kim Brown. The kick by Michael Dennis failed.

Five minutes left remaining in the game, Pasadena's quarterback Dean threw a 24-yard touchdown pass to Bruce McClain. Dennis Michaels kick was good, making the final score 13-7.

Pasadena 0 0 6 7—13
Chaffey 7 0 0 0— 7
Chaffey — Brown 1 run (Fernandez kick)
Pasadena — Brown 27 pass from Dean (kick failed)
Pasadena — McClain 24 pass from Dean (Dennis kick)

Cowboys enjoy 7-0 shutout

By DOUG SPOON
PB Correspondent

EL MONTE — Quarterback Chris Pruitt passed for 140 yards and combined with a balanced running attack to lead Chino High to a 7-0 victory over Arroyo here Friday night.

The low-scoring contest was a direct contrast to last year's meeting between the two teams, in which Chino prevailed, 62-6. In this year's game neither team was able to sustain a very long offensive drive, with the ball changing hands frequently and the bulk of the offense coming from Pruitt's passes.

Running backs Frank Alonzo and Tom Ruiz gained yardage consistently for Arroyo, Alonzo winding up with 39 total yards and Ruiz 52. However, failure to gain the necessary yardage on crucial third down situations plagued the Knights throughout the game.

Neither team came close to the goal line in the first period, with both Pruitt and Arroyo quarterback Ed Hiroto tossing two incomplete passes. In the second period Chino broke through with a succession of completed passes followed by a string of short runs to set up the lone touchdown.

Early in that period, Pruitt connected on two passes to Robert Andozola and two more to Rick Riedel (including a 35-yard toss), and later in the quarter the Cowboy backfield pecked away at the Arroyo defense until Larry Trujillo went into the end zone from four yards out with 4:12 remaining in the half.

Coach Jim Rawls' Cowboys almost added another score a couple of minutes later. Pruitt had the ball on Arroyo's 6-yard line in a first down situation, but fumbled and the ball was recovered by Alonzo of the Knights.

In the second half the difference in offense again proved to be in the passing department. Hiroto attempted only two passes in that half, and both were incomplete. Pruitt, however, completed five of seven passes for 72 yards, including three consecutive plays in which he hit on passes of 19, 15, and 31 yards, to three different receivers.

Ed Marquez attempted a 25-yard field goal but missed, squandering another scoring opportunity for Chino in the third quarter. The single touchdown in the first half proved to be enough, however, as the Cowboys held Arroyo to only 28 total yards in the final period.

The action was halted for a few minutes in the middle of the third quarter when Arroyo tackle Joe Skropeta was shaken in a pile-up around the 20-yard line of the Knights. Skropeta was administered to as he lay on his back, and he finally had to be carried off in a stretcher, his injury not known at that time.

Riedel, Trujillo, and Art Carbajal each gained more than 25 yards for Chino, with Riedel gaining 42, and the Cowboys' mixture of short runs and long passes worked well enough to earn them the victory.

Good debut for Bare

By GRAHAM CROW
PB Correspondent

Although being involved in a non-league encounter, new Montclair head coach Rich Bare considered Friday night's opener against host Alta Loma to be a very important game.

"Getting a win in this one could be the best thing that could happen to us," said the Montclair leader before the game at Chaffey College.

"We've got a lot of young players and they have been exposed to a new type of offense and defense. Winning tonight (Friday) would give them confidence that what we are doing is right."

Well, both the players and coaches came away convinced as the Cavaliers grabbed a narrow 7-6 decision over the Braves in the defensively dominated season opener.

All the scoring, and most of the offensive punch, during the game took place in a 15 second span just as the first half was coming to a close.

With just more than a minute remaining until intermission, Montclair punter Tim Lomax boomed a low, line drive that Brian Cypher gathered in at his own 41-yard line.

Breaking a couple of tackles while traveling up the middle of the field, Cypher broke through the Montclair squad and raced into the end zone.

Dan Miller's extra point attempt was wide to the right but the delirious Alta Loma fans didn't seem to care. However, that miscue didn't take long to magnify.

On the ensuing kickoff, the Braves chose to kick away from Montclair speedster Jim Donaldson and J. B. Goff fielded it on his own 10. Heading immediately for the left sideline, the junior halfback dashed 90 yards to tie things up, exactly 15 seconds after the Alta Loma TD.

Sophomore Kent Gurney, suffering from a slight muscle pull which limited his duty somewhat, provided the difference in the game with the extra point.

Ironically, Miller almost redeemed himself in the second half as the 6-4, 210 pound senior intercepted a Bill Moore pass and raced into the end zone for an apparent touchdown. But clipping during the return took away the score for the Braves.

Neither team could generate any kind of offense as Alta Loma netted only 105 yards total offense, with just 35 on the ground. Quarterback Don Lester, scrambling for his life nearly all night, was sacked on six different occasions by the quick Cav defense.

Montclair didn't fare much better with 113 total yardage as Donaldson was held to 38 yards in 12 carries.

It wasn't an artistic success, but you can bet Montclair will take it anyway. Even the slim margin of victory shouldn't shake up the new Cav coach.

At least they won ... "Bare"-ly.

Both schools hit the road next week with Montclair facing Ontario and Alta Loma traveling to Upland.

Montclair 0 7 0 0— 7
Alta Loma 0 6 0 0— 6

Mt. View tops Jags

ROSEMEAD — A four-yard run by Mountain View's Bill Gil with 1:07 left in the contest spelled defeat for Ontario High Friday night in a football contest played at Rosemead High.

The Jaguars led 8-6 in their 1975 opener until Mt. View mounted its winning drive following a recovery of a Ontario fumble on the Ontario 46.

The only Jag tally came in the final period on a one-yard run by Larry Cutbirth. Cutbirth added a two-point PAT with his pass to Carl Hemby, and that lead stood up until the last-minute heroics by the host school.

Cutbirth led all rushers for the night with 135 yards on 19 carries. The Ontario QB also completed two of four passes for 58 yards.

Knights in upset win

SAN BERNARDINO — Ontario Christian shocked Aquinas with two long interception returns for touchdowns and went on to score a 12-0 upset win over the hosts Friday night in a prep contest played at San Bernardino Valley College.

The Knights got on the board in the second quarter as David te Velde stepped in front of an Ernie Paramo aerial and carried it 85 yards into the end zone.

John VanderSchaaf almost duplicated te Velde's play in the third quarter, picking off a Paramo pass and running it back 81 yards for a OCHS TD. The Knights missed both PAT attempts.

Aquinas outgained the Knights 144-68 in total yardage on the evening but the two key plays by te Velde and VanderSchaaf took the game away from the heavily favored Falcons.

Charlie Sybesma accounted for 52 of the 68 OCHS yardage total by hauling in three Vander-Schaaf passes.

Top seeds post wins

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Paced by Arthur Ashe, the top four seeds in the $100,000 Pacific Southwest tennis tournament all captured their quarter-final matches Friday with only fourth-seeded Harold Solomon running into trouble.

Ashe, the top-seeded Wimbledon champion, easily disposed of 11th-seeded Bob Lutz 6-2, 6-2 in a swiftly-played night match that took only 15 minutes for the first set.

Earlier second-seeded Roscoe Tanner beat Allan Stone, third-seeded Raul Ramirez ousted fifth-seeded Marty Riessen and Solomon battled by eighth-seeded Dick Stockton.

Injury hurts Scot hopes

By CRAIG TRAVIS
P-B Correspondent

An injury may have prevented Upland High from a season-opening victory over San Gorgonio High Friday night.

Quarterback Bob Dalquest was helped off the field after being "stuck" in the chest while attempting to pass on a third-and-11 situation with 1:31 left in the game.

Dalquest's pass fell incomplete, backup signal-caller Steve Davenport had his aerial fall short and visiting San Gorgonio went on to post a 14-13 victory over Upland in the season debut for both clubs.

Dalquest had marched the Scots to a one-point deficit early in the fourth quarter with a seven-yard strike to Mike Rees with 10:26 to play.

The Highlander QB fired an interception in a bid for a two-jpoint conversion and one point advantage.

The Spartans had to punt on their next possession, giving the hosts the ball on their own 11.

Key runs by Rees (14 yards) and Mark Chapman (17 yards on three rushes) and a pass interference call against San Gogo gave the Scots a first down at the Spartan 26 with two minutes to play.

Two running plays gained nothing and Dalquest was hurt while attempting to pass into the end zone to thwart a bid for a come-from-behind victory.

Coach Bob Holycross' Highlanders scored on their first possession of the evening. Dalquest drove the green-and-white 84 yards in 13 plays with Gary Carr hauling in a 28-yard, play-action, scoring strike. Dave Stephenson kicked the extra point to give the Scots a 7-0 lead.

The Spartans took the ensuing kickoff and drove 70 yards in 11 plays with Clint Harris finding receiver Sonny Cash all alone in the end zone for a 27-yard hookup. Ruben Nunez kicked his first of two PAT's to knot the game at 7-7.

Upland missed a bid for a 25-yard field goal when a bad snap, at the outset of the second half, forced holder Mark Chapman to run the ball. He was stopped at the nine yard line for no gain.

San Gorgonio, a 4-A Citrus Belt League entry, took advantage of the Upland mistake and drove 91 yards in 12 plays with the march culminating on tailback Eric Davis' five yard run to give the San Bernardino team a 14-7 lead.

Davis was the leading ball carrier on the evening with 151 yards on 32 carries. Clint Harris connected on 10-of-20 passes for 139 yards.

Upland's top ball carrier was Chapman who netted 84 yards on 16 totes. Carr rushed for 47 yards on 10 plays. Dalquest hit on six-of-12 passes for 105 yards before being hurt.

Both teams ran well with Upland being more vulnerable to the Spartan outside running game through three periods. The Scots have a Mr. Inside and Mr. Outside of their own in Carr and Chapman.

Carr bulls his way up the middle while Chapman is effective on sweeps. Upland wound up with 272 yards offensive, 167 rushing. The Spartans netted 303 yards.

San Gorgonio ... 0 7 7 0—14
Upland ... 7 0 0 6—13
Upland — Carr 28 pass from Dalquest (D. Stephenson kick)
San Gorgonio — Cash 27 pass from Harris (Nunez kick)
San Gorgonio — Davis 5 run (Nunez kick)
Upland — Rees 7 pass from Dalquest (pass failed)

Walnut uses good defense

By MIKE BROSSART
PB Correspondent

After watching his Walnut High Mustangs beat host Nogales, 21-6, Friday night, Coach Ken Gunn just couldn't say enough about his defense.

"This defense is really super," beamed Gunn. "Every player made great plays."

Walnut's defensive unit held the Nobles to just six first downs on 91 total yards. Nogales quarterback Evie Gomeztrejo was under constant pressure from the Mustangs' defensive line, and was sacked three times for losses totaling 29 yards.

Meanwhile, Walnut running backs Keith McDermott and Kevin Morgan cut easily through the Nogales defense, gaining 220 yards between them. Morgan gained 160 of those yards, alternately converting short-yardage third-down plays and breaking through for big gainers. His longest run was a 19-yard touchdown with 1:20 left in the game to give the Mustangs a 20-6 lead. Kevin Bowlin's third conversion kick of the night finished the scoring.

The two teams battled through a scoreless first quarter. McDermott scored the first points of the game when he broke off left tackle for a seven-yard touchdown with 4:24 left in the half. His TD capped a 55-yard drive during which Morgan ran for one first down on a fourth-and-one situation, and another on a third-and-one play.

The score remained at 7-0 until McDermott tallied on a pass from quarterback Kevin Loggins with 6:39 left in the third quarter.

The all-league running back moved to the right sideline, grabbed Loggins' throw at the 20 and cut inside three defenders to reach the end zone.

Nogales' lone touchdown came at the end of a three-play, 57-yard spurt. After the Nobles took over on their own 43 following a punt, Gomezterejo ran for nine yards, passed to Ray Battle for 19 and to Ernie Garcia for 29, the latter good for six points.

The Mustangs earned 12 first downs to the Nobles six while racking up 256 yards of offense. Loggins completed three of eight passes for 51 yards in the air. The first half especially belonged to Walnut as the Mustangs ran off 3 plays to 16 for the Nogales, and seven first downs to the Nobeles' two.

Walnut will meet Rowland at Nogales' field Friday at 7:30 p.m.

Olivares favored

INGLEWOOD, Calif. (AP) — Ruben Olivares, Mexico's slugging playboy, rates as a 2-1 favorite to whip David Kotey of Ghana tonight and retain his World Boxing Council featherweight championship.

The 28-year-old Olivares, who twice has been the champion in each of two divisions, apparently will have no trouble making the 126-pound weight for the scheduled 15-

Poly out for revenge

By BILL LANGLEY
PB Sports Editor

Revenge is on Cal Poly's mind tonight when it opens its home football schedule against Cal State Hayward.

Coach Andy Vinci has made sure his Broncos remember last year's 21-7 loss at Hayward in the season finale on a day when the Pioneers intercepted seven Poly passes.

"We know what happened last year," Vinci says. "We will do our best to make sure Hayward doesn't leave town this year with a victory."

Kickoff at Poly's revamped Kellogg Field is 7:30 p.m. It will be the first game for the university with its new school-owned bleachers, which has raised the seating capacity to 5,500.

The loss to Hayward last year was the worst for Vinci in his first season. Over-all, the Pioneers own a 2-1 edge in the series.

If anything, Vinci claims Hayward is a better team this season.

"Hayward has an improved team," Vinci stated. "Its defense is especially tough since new head coach Tim Tierney has taken over. He has been their defensive coordinator the past five years."

At least, Poly won't have to face the graduated Al Spitzer, who intercepted five of the passes.

While Poly opened its season with a smashing 38-3 win over Chico State, Hayward fell to always strong Boise State, 42-20, after holding a 10-7 lead at halftime.

"Hayward is a completely different team than Chico," Vinci said about the two Far Western Conference schools. "Hayward likes to throw the heck out of the football. Our defensive secondary will really get tested."

Quarterback Dan Flavan completed 12 of 23 passes for 200 yards and two touchdowns in the opener. Fullback Brian Hill is the Pioneers' top rusher while Lonnell Perkins and Jim Magana are the leading receivers.

On defense, Hayward is led by All-American candidate Greg Blankenship at one of the linebacker spots.

The Pioneers have a potent kicking game. Punter Dave Friday averaged 46 yards last week and Reed Robinson booted a pair of field goals.

Vinci will start basically the same lineup as he used against Chico with the exception of the Sanders brothers.

All-CCAA safety Scott Sanders is ready to start after missing the opening kickoff last week with an injury while his younger brother, Mark, will be at tailback after scoring two touchdowns and rushing for 71 yards.

Three Pomonans will be in the Broncos' starting lineup. Tackle Bobby Costeldia of Garey High will be on the offensive line while John Medlin of Ganesha will be at defensive tackle. Safety Doug Hughes, another Garey product, is the only freshman to crack tonight's starting unit.

Quarterback Leo Costa will be making his home debut. The rest of the backfield will have diveback Aundre Holmes, fullback Brent Partridge and wide receiver Teddy Myles.

Leos face Gaels' Caridi

By DON BRADLEY
PB Staff Writer

There'll be a couple of familiar faces among the St. Mary's players when the Gaels play La Verne College this afternoon (1:30 p.m.) in the Leopards' season opener.

Quarterback Mario Caridi prepped at Montclair High and Chaffey JC. Wide receiver Tony Hernandez, from Claremont, went to Bishop Amat High.

St. Mary's has already played and lost two games. That will give them an edge in experience.

Caridi, a 6-3, 195-pound junior, has completed 18 of 48 passes for 211 yards and three touchdowns. However he has been intercepted four times.

Caridi's best game was the 47-18 loss to Santa Clara in the Gaels' opener two weeks ago. He hit on nine of 28 for 179 yards and three touchdowns. On the ground, he ran for 91 yards in 10 carries.

Last week, Sacramento St. did a good job of containing him. The Hornets, in a 20-13 win, held Caridi to 32 yards on short passes as he connected on nine of 20.

The Gaels have averaged 130 yards per game passing and 102 running. Statistics are unavailable for the opponents' rushing totals for the two games. Sacramento St. ran for 324 yards last week. In two games, opponents have passed for 326 yards against the Gaels' defense.

Only casualty to St. Mary's so far is middle guard Joe McGuiness, a 5-11, 200-pound freshman. However, Caridi was shaken up with less than two minutes to go last week and was carried from the field.

Local fans will be looking for Brad Frick to make his debut sometime during the game, hopefully at the same time older brother Curtis is playing. Both are former star running backs for Bonita High.

JCs on road for games

Chaffey College opens the 1975 football season tonight at Santa Barbara City College, while valley rivals Mt. San Antonio and Citrus play their second games of the young season on the road at Pasadena and Long Beach City colleges. All three games begin at 7:30 p.m.

Coach Willie Richardson's Panthers will operate out of the veer-T offense for the first time this year with either Alta Loma's Jamie Broecker or Corona's Bill Childress at quarterback.

"We'll run the option but we'll probably pass more out of the veer than most teams do."

Chaffey is thick with receivers and defensive backs and has a veteran defensive line in the way of strengths. The offensive backfield will be made up of newcomers, the most notable of which is Marcus Jennings of Ontario, who will probably start at one running back position.

Citrus and MSAC are both in for rugged tests in their second contests of the year. Citrus walloped the Mounties in the opener last weekend, 37-12.

The Owls' veteran offensive line will be tested by Long Beach which has a number of veterans in both the offensive and defensive lines. Citrus may have an edge with its backfield which includes All-State running back Roy Prather who gained 160 yards and Pomona High product Raymond Butler who rushed for an additional 75 against MSAC.

Fourth ranked Pasadena looms as the fire MSAC jumps into after its frying pan experience with Citrus a week ago.

"They're big, fast and aggressive," said MSAC Coach Mal Eaton.

The Mounties were ineffective against the Owls until late in the game last week when freshman quarterback Flavio Garcia of Rowland Heights came on to lead a two-touchdown offensive.

But Eaton plans to start Steve Taylor at quarterback again tonight. There will be only one change offensively, at center, where Chris Johnston, a freshman from Hawaii replaces George Diaz.

Defensively there will be four changes and the Mounties will probably be without the services of linebacr Larry Torres who suffered a shoulder injury last week. Torres was one of only four Mounties who saw action in 1974.

Chaffey team wins crown

The Chaffey Aquatics Club won the championship on the eight-team Cal Novice League in both the overall season and at the league finals held last week at El Monte.

Chaffey, coached by John Ries, earned 735 points to win the title over West Covina, 572, and East Los Angeles, 504.

Jeff Kostoff, 10, won the individual high point trophy. He won six first places and set pool records in 9/10 100 yard backstroke (1:13.1) and 100 breast (1:23.4). His other first place times were in the 500 free style (6:18.6), 50 back (34.6), 50 breast (39.3) and 100 ind. medley (1:14.9).

Stephine Sauter also set a pool record in the 9/10 freestyle with a time of 29.5. She also earned first place honors in the 50 fly (35.9) and 200 free (2:24.6).

Chris Sauter took first places in the 7-8 200 free (2:50.7) and 100 free (1:17.3). Another two first-place winner was Dana Johnson in the 6/under in the 25 fly (24.5) and 50 breast (54.3).

Earning one first place award were: Mike Ries, 7/8, 25 fly (19.1); Pat Grabowski, 13/14, 50 back (31.4); Rodger Carver, 11/12, 50 breast (37.4); Michille Cooke, 7/8, 50 free (35.0); Rich Carver, 11/12, 100 breast (1:21.7) and Laura Hugleman, 15/17, 100 breast (1:19.2).

The club will be idle until Oct. 13.

Information on the club's AAU or novice program is available from Ries at 981-1785.

Arabians race at fair

Arabian horses from the southland and around the country will race and be shown Sunday in a special feature at the L.A. County Fairgrounds at 1:30 p.m.

Two of the entries in the Golden State Derby Futurity for Arabians, Talsen and Talbre, are owned by Jim Kline of Chino and trained by ranch manager Allen James.

The breed has long been a popular show horse in the U.S. but was not raced extensively until seven or eight years ago. The sport has become increasingly popular.

Among the horses to be shown will be Raffon, sire of a number of champions, and a champion in his own right.

Earthquakes hire new GM

SAN JOSE, Calif. (AP) — John Carbray, 36, moved from baseball to soccer Friday as he was appointed new general manager of the San Jose Earthquakes.

Carbray has been general manager of the Sacramento Solons of the Pacific Coast League the past two baseball seasons.

'Cats-Pack play tonight

By JIM McCONNELL
PB Staff Writer

Although only two local high school grid contests are on tap for tonight, area prep football fans should be in for an evening of excitement.

Bonita and Claremont will renew a rivalry which dates back to 1926 when they collide at Citrus College tonight at 7:30 p.m. Ganesha High should also find itself in a real dogfight, as the Giants take on powerful Fullerton at Buena Park High. Kickoff time in that one is set for 8 p.m.

It's no secret that Wolfpack coach Esper Keiser would love to see his squad beat Bonita tonight. Last year the Bearcats surprised the Pack 12-0 in the opening game of the year for both schools. Bonita went on to post a 10-2 record and gain entry into the CIF playoffs.

Claremont also was involved in CIF playoff action last year, but both schools lost a number of players due to graduation and many new faces will be evident Saturday night at Citrus.

Sanford Coggins (whose older brother Rich plays for the New York Yankees) will get the nod at quarterback for the 'Cats tonight. Coggins is a double threat to the Claremont defenses, as he can run and pass equally well.

Scott Johnson, a returnee from last year, will go at fullback for coach Pete Lopez' squad, with sophomore Bobby Vidauri set at tailback.

Coggins has a host of talented receivers in Keith Brandt, Rich Doyle, David Drury and Bruce Hines.

It's no secret that the Pack has a fine passer in QB Mike Davis and a good corps of receivers. The big question is can Claremont run the ball effectively?

Coach Keiser has tried several men at the running back spots, without a standout developing. Starters at fullback and halfback for tonight's game remain in doubt, and the prospect is that Keiser will take a look t a number of potential Wolfpack rushers before the night is out.

Lack of running backs is something Garry Norvell does not have to worry about.

The veteran Ganesha mentor has three fine ones in fullback Ron Rentz and halfbacks Darryl Gardner and Lewis Peters.

The problem facing Norvell as his Giants square off against a very good Fullerton team is the quarterbacking slot. Junior Joe Madrigal is being counted on to supply the locals with an aerial threat they dearly missed last year. However, Madrigal lacks game experience and could not have picked a tougher team to debut against than Fullerton.

The Orange County squad copped a Freeway League co-championship last year with a 5-1-1 league mark and finished the season 6-3-1 overall.

Fullerton is coached by Gil Tucker, now in his 20th year at the school, and led by quarterback Greg Tucker, coach Tucker's son.

The younger Tucker amassed over 1,200 yards in total offense last year and is regarded as a fine runner and effective passer.

Top receiver for the Indians is tight end Keith Van Horne, a huge 6-6, 230-pounder who will also menace the Giants as a defensive end. Top rusher for Fullerton figures to be 6-2, 225-pound junior fullback Matt Clark.

Of course, Norvell's troops have some muscle of their own in defensive line stalwarts Mike Johnson (6-2, 231), Ed Lundstrom (6-1, 210) and Keith Lovett (6-0, 200).

Fans victimized by strike

By the Associated Press

Now it's the fan's turn to be heard from. And he can hardly be blamed if the various hassles that beset pro football have made him decide to mow the grass or take a hike on Sunday afternoons.

Through the court suits, the charges and countercharges and now the latest, the second strike in two summers, the fan is the forgotten element in pro football. Except when it comes time to set new ticket prices.

In the business of running pro football, it is difficult to say where the fan rates, or where he should rate.

What responsibility, if any, does the player have to the fan when he worries about a labor contract that will govern the player's future? Likewise, what responsibility, if any, does the owner have to the fan when he makes the various decisions he must make?

Those are difficult questions, and there are no easy answers. But this seems certain: the fan, the average person who enjoys football, is turned off by the myriad of off-the-field court fights and legal showdowns which fill his sports pages almost daily.

And every time the costs go up, he, the fan, must pay. It is so bad that a season ticket in the National Football League costs as high as $18 per game per seat. Add to that the cost of a ticket for the wife or the girl friend, a parking spot, a program, maybe a beer and perhaps a babysitter, and pro football may already have priced itself out of the reach of the middle class.

And that is from where its support comes.

The signs are not good. Attendance was down in 1974. Pre-season attendance this year was disappointing. Television ratings slipped last year for the NFL, and in a couple of years when the next contract comes up, the three networks might not want to pay $60 million a year to show the league's games.

The Harris Poll said football remains the most popular sport in the country, but it slipped two percentage points in a year.

All the while, costs go up. Even with each club receiving more than $2 million last year from the TV contract, even with higher ticket prices, a record eight NFL teams lost money.

Meanwhile, the fan pays more and there is nothing that says he's getting more. In fact, he may be getting less.

Can the fan who buys a ticket to this weekend's games which feature one of the five teams that went on strike expect to see a competitive game? Can the New England Patriots really be ready to play with only two days preparation?

Like so many other questions, there are no easy answers. But, whatever happens, the fan is the innocent victim of the social turmoil that continues to plague professional football.

FAYETTEVILLE, Ark. (AP) — Jim Benton Sr. of the University of Arkansas led the NCAA in pass receiving in 1937 with 47 catches for 754 yards and seven touchdowns.

Some people are afraid of bees because they sting. But bees usually don't sting unless they are frightened or hurt. Worker honeybees usually can sting only once.

The honeybee's stinger is located at the tail end of its body. It is straight and covered with pointy barbs.

When the bee stings, it thrusts the sting into your flesh. The barbs hold so tightly that the bee cannot pull it out. The bee must tear itself away, leaving part of its body behind with the stinger.

The bee dies soon after losing its stinger.

Bumblebees and wasps don't habe barbs that pull out their stingers when they sting. They can sting over and over.

A bee or wasp sting causes sudden pain and swelling. You may know something about that already.

For Sunday, Sept. 21, 1975

ARIES (March 21-April 19) You'll be highly protective of your self-interests early in the day, but will soon realize you're being too self-centered. Your better instincts will take over.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20) Though you could be inconvenienced, you'll feel better if you let compassion rule your actions even if a small personal loss is involved.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20) Gentle methods will achieve things for you today that flexing your muscles or raising your voice could never hope to accomplish.

CANCER (June 21-July 22) Praise or recognition are not nearly as important to you today as playing the game by your usually high standards, and enhancing your image.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22) Bolster your belief in things spiritual today by seeking inspiration, or meditating quietly on your goals and ambitions.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22) This is not a good day to bog yourself down with business matters. Put the account books away. Go off and enjoy yourself.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 23) You can make a fine impression on your mate today if you're willing to forego your interests and do the things she'd like to do.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24-Nov. 22) Stick to your hunches involving money today. If your instincts warn you about a certain person, it's best not to deal with him.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23-Dec. 21) Being around larger groups today won't give you the excitement it usually generates. You're better off in quiet pursuits.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19) Don't invite anyone to your house today unless you sincerely want their company. They'll take you up on it and a boring day will ensue.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 19) Surround yourself today with people who are highly creative and whose conversation is light and inspirational. Avoid those who favor heavy topics.

PISCES (Feb. 20-March 20) It will be time well spent if you take a few minutes to evaluate your goals for the coming week. Assign priorities. Stick to them.

Your Birthday, Sept. 21, 1975

A secret desire you've told only a few close friends about will be realized this coming year. It will come about through unusual circumstances.

22 go home, dozen stay

Difficult decision for Viet refugees

CAMP PENDLETON (AP) — Twenty Vietnamese young men who threatened to burn themselves to death unless they were flown home got their wish today. Another man and a young woman joined them.

But at least a dozen other war refugees decided at the last minute to stay in the United States.

An Air Force C141 was headed for Guam with the last of 431 refugees to ask for the return flights. They had been among the 49,821 who reached Camp Pendleton since the war ended.

The woman with them was identified only as 22 and accompanied by her brother. The men ranged in age from 20 to 35 and "they all look military," a Marine Corps spokesman said as they boarded the Starlifter plane at El Toro Marine Air Station.

At a recent news conference at the relocation base, spokesmen for the 20 young Vietnamese said one or several of them would kill themselves by immolation unless they were returned soon.

There were 35 names on the final list, but only 22 would leave Camp Pendleton when they were awakened at daybreak.

"It must have been an excruciating decision for them," said a spokeswoman at Camp Pendleton.

"The number changed every day. They just couldn't decide what to do."

A United Nations spokesman said at El Toro that he knew of no other refugees who want to return to Southeast Asia.

At Guam, about 1,600 other evacuees were awaiting repatriation to their Communist-controlled homeland.

Meanwhile, Camp Pendleton officials said the 10,000 refugees still at the relocation center would all be resettled by Oct. 31, when the center shuts down.

Seeing-eye dog barred

MISSOULA, Mont. (AP) — A veteran whose eyes were damaged by a shell explosion in Germany during World War II was refused service at a Missoula cafe because of his seeing-eye dog.

A waitress at a cafe in the Palace Hotel said she had worked at her job for 27 years, but never had been asked for service by a man with a seeingeye dog. She said she offered to wait on James Saddler in the hotel lobby, but that he refused.

Order new warning labels on drug linked to deaths

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Food and Drug Administration said that it has ordered new warning labels on a drug linked to six deaths from liver disease.

The agency said the drug Dantrium had been approved in early 1974 to treat reversible spasticity because it afforded a "modest but clear-cut improvement" in treating victims of spinal cord injury, stroke, cerebral palsy and multiple sclerosis.

"Although its potential hepatotoxicity was recognized prior to approval, post marketing adverse reaction reports indicate this toxicity is more serious than was apparent in the premarketing clinical trials," the FDA said in its new monthly Drug Bulletin sent to physicians.

Dantrium or dantrolene sodium is made by Eaton Laboratories, a division of Morton-Norwich products.

The new warning advises doctors to discontinue Dantrium therapy if no benefits have been observed after 45 days.

It says fatal hepatitis has been reported in about .1 to .2 per cent of patients who took Dantrium for 60 days or longer and symptomatic hepatitis has been observed in .35 to .5 per cent of patients who took it that long.

The risk of liver damage appears to be greater in females and in patients over the age of 35, the FDA said.

The agency said that Dantrium should be used for treating spasticity secondary to crippling neurological disorders, and not for skeletal muscle spasms from arthritis.

Behind-the-scene, unsung talent

Photos by Bob Swetnam, PB photographer

"Another opening, another show . . ."

The song from Cole Porter's "Kiss Me, Kate" expresses the excited anticipation and hopeful expectations of actors, singers and dancers the world over as the house lights dim and the curtain rises on a new show.

The high hopes, crossed fingers and hearts-in-the-mouth are not, however, confined to the performers. Behind each of them stands that hard-working, seldom recognized group of men and women known as "the stage crew." The members, their work now done, wait eagerly behind the scenes to see how "their show" goes, how the audience reacts to costumes and scenery, to properties, lighting, sound effects, and the myriad other production values that can make or break a show.

A case in point is the Valley Community Theater's "Gypsy," opening Thursday night at the Pomona theater. Being a musical it has a large cast of singers, dancers, musicians — a total of about 30. But like many other community theater productions, it has a back stage crew of almost 40.

There's a lot more than acting

Doc Peirsol

It happened in Pomona

Here lately our economists have been screaming about inflation and agonizing over what it is doing to the country. But the thing most of those experts overlook is that inflation is not just something we have suddenly inherited. Actually, whether we realize it or not, inflation is a natural byproduct of the American way of life, an evil we have been living with for more years than most of us care to remember. So, if you are interested in learning to what horrible heights inflation has really risen in just one lifetime right here in Pomona, consider this:

In 1892 the People's Store of Pomona was offering Men's White Shirts with linen bosoms and cuffs for 50 cents each.

Eighty three years ago at Ed W. Thomas Dry Goods and Notions store, you could purchase Ladies' Cotton Hose for 10 cents a pair.

Those were also the days when the Pomona Wine Co. was offering to sell Port, Sherry, Muscatel and Angelica for 50 cents a gallon.

What was more, at that time along with being able to purchase merchandise at what today would be regarded as fantastically low prices, you also got service. In 1892 Armour's Drug Store was advertising, "Customers served at all hours of the day or night."

But believe it or not, in 1892 despite low prices, we were experiencing an inflationary wage trend which had become a matter of some concern to the editor of The Pomona Weekly Times. On Sept. 3, 1892, he was complaining:

"Immense quantities of raisins are being admitted into this country free of duty and are dumped on the market at prices American raisin growers can not meet — especially with labor costing $1.50 a day against European labor costing only about 20 cents per day."

All of which also goes to prove that where inflation is concerned, all Pomonans have to fear is fear itself — that economists may come and economists may go but inflation goes on forever — and still we manage to exist.

Champ Karpov's formula in chess

By SHELBY LYMAN

Antoly Karpov has candidly confessed that he is partial to technical solutions of chess problems, unlike Bobby Fischer whose games have more tension. Bobby often chooses the most dynamic lines of play — with expected results. Though he draws fewer games, he wins and loses more than Karpov.

But Bobby is no slouch at technique. And would undoubtedly approve of the succinct and esthetic manner in which Karpov wound up the following 1972 contest with Mark Taimanov of the USSR.

Although material is even, white blockades to control the center. His well-placed pieces may create favorable action in black's wide open and unprotected kingside.

The correct procedure here is well-known and easy to understand. Soften up the black king's position with a pawn assault and follow through with the heavy pieces.

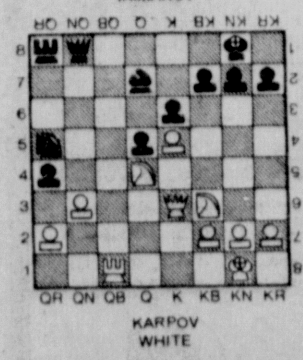
Karpov did just that, and did it well. Black's efforts in defense, i.e., the trading of knights and the kingside pawn more 1 . . . P-R3, offer only futile resistance.

The actual moves were 1. P-R4!, P-R3; 2. P-KN4, Q-N2; 3. P-R5, N-B3; 4. P-N5, NxN; 5. NxN, PxP; 6. QxP, and our second position was reached.

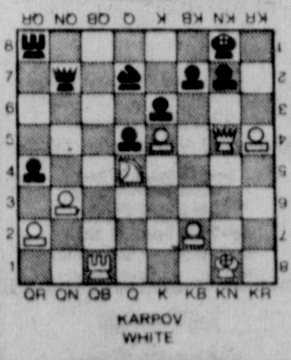
Progress has been rapid. Karpov already has the lethal threat 7. P-R6, P-N3; 8. Q-R6 with mate to follow. Taimanov's defense, 6 . . . K-R2 only delays the inevitable result. For after Karpov's reply 7. R-B3! it is clear that black is doomed! There will be too many white pieces and too few black pieces on the kingside.

There followed 7 . . . Q-N5; 8. R-N3, R-KN1; 9. N-B3, PxP; 10. PxP, QxP? Taimanov is now set up for the winning combination. Do you see it?.

(Diagram 1)



(Diagram 2)



Karpov did, of course, and played 11. Q-B1! By vacating the KN5 square, he has created the deadly threat of N-N5 check, which would uncover the white rook on the black queen.

Taimanov saved his queen with 11 . . . Q-R7, but Karpov used the time gained to rush in with his knight and further strip the black king.

After 12. N-N5 check, K-B1; 13. NxP check, K-R2; 14. Q-N5! Taimanov's doom is sealed. There is no answer to 15. Q-N6 check, PxP; and 16. PxP mate!

(Diagram 3)

Banking recognized

By Gustav Detjen, Jr.

Twin 10-cent commemorative stamps will be issued on Oct. 6 in New York in conjunction with the Centennial Convention of the American Bankers Association. The stamps focus attention on the important role that Banking and Commerce have played in the development of the U.S.

The background of the stamps is a replica of one of the lathe shells used in the borders of security designs for currency, stocks and bonds and other security items.

First day cancellation requests should be addressed to "Banking & Commerce Stamps, Postmaster, New York, N.Y. 10001." The cost is 20-cents per pair of stamps to be affixed to the self-addressed envelopes which must accompany orders. Orders must be postmarked no later than Oct. 6.

Back stagers vital to play

Production designer and technical director of the show is big, amiable Ed McCormick, a union stagehand by trade, an actor and director by inclination. He outlined what goes into "Gypsy's" unseen staff:

Two people doing costume design, five cutting and sewing, 12 building and painting scenery, one on sound, two on lights, two handling properties, three on box office, three ushers and two doing programs and selling ads. To this one must add the director, choreographer, musical director, publicity agent and technical director.

The number might be even greater except for the fact that each performer does his own makeup, and the entire cast joins the stage hands in final cleanup chores.

The latter activity illustrates an important characteristic of community theater — everyone doubles in brass. The carpenter turns painter, the program director mans the box office, the costume designer handles the props. And more often than not the performers themselves pitch in on the backstage chores. Pomona insurance man Harold Goodell sells advertising for the VCT program, then takes a role in a play. Donna, McCormick's wife, helps on the costumes and plays a lead in the musical. McCormick, himself, does set design and lighting, then takes a small part in the show.

Like the actors, the members of the behind-the-scenes crew are drawn from the whole spectrum of society. Painting VCT flats and sewing costumes are housewives, businessmen, college and high school students, salesmen and teachers. At work backstage VCT has had a doctor, lawyer, bank teller, printer, minister and cocktail waitress.

Many of the chores performed by these people are hard and tedious. Some are dirty, some back-breaking. And the hours devoted to production are just as many as are needed. As the show goes into its final week of preparation it is no unusual thing for the stage crew to be at work until 2 or 3 in the morning. McCormick recalls several occasions when he worked all night long.

Besides working hours that would outrage the National Labor Relations Board, the crew members often dig into their own pockets to provide something the show or the theater must have — cloth for a costume, a pry bar, a microphone, some paint. Some even take time off from their regular jobs to work on the show — taking a financial loss.

Why do they do it?

"Personal satisfaction," says Jess Ray, president of VCT, hard at work in a dozen capacities. "It's a lot of work but it's a lot of fun, too."

McCormick's work, of course, is a busman's holiday. A theater arts graduate of Cal Poly, he has worked in most of the television studios and theaters in the Los Angeles area, including the Music Center and the new Ambassador Auditorium in Pasadena.

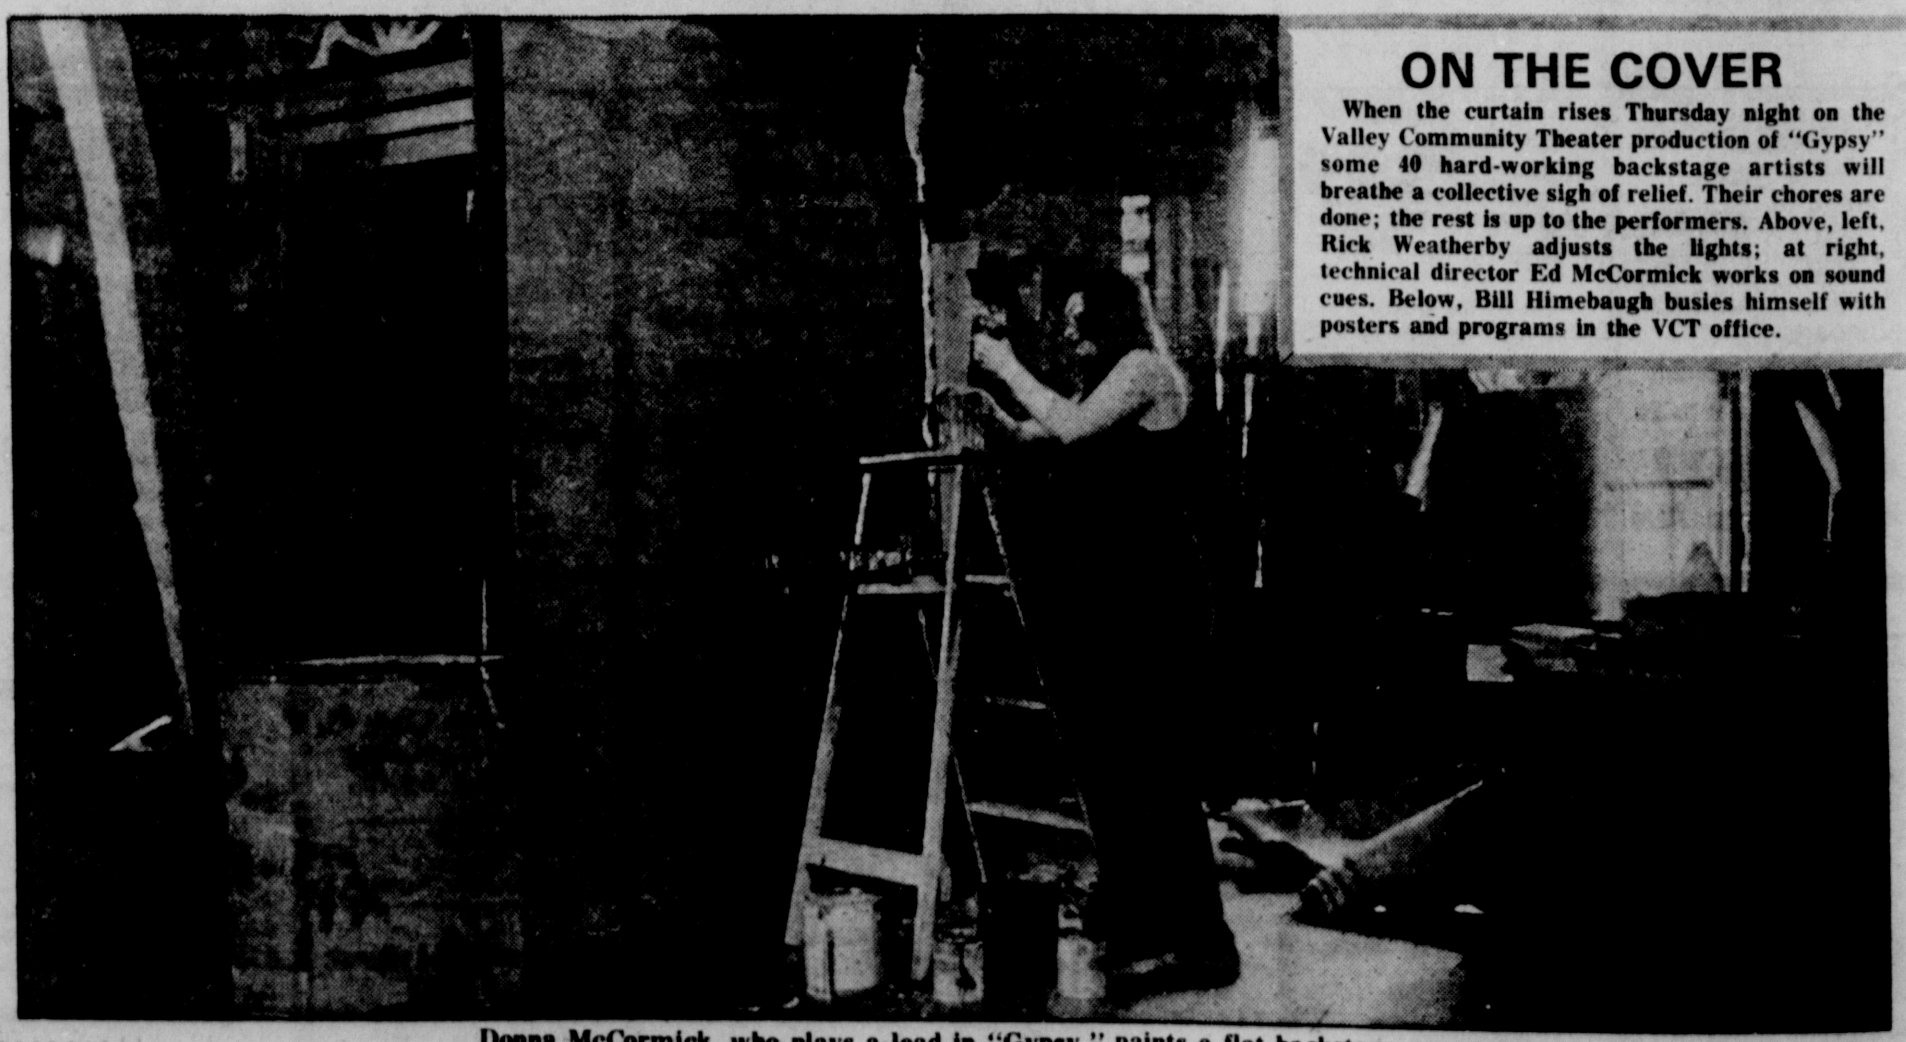
"Theater is what I do for a living," he said. "I like being part of it. Each new production is a life, a living, breathing entity. Putting on a show is like giving birth — and I've gone through a lot of labor pains."

The backstage crew, the hard-working, un-honored, unsung artists of needle, hammer and paint brush, draws just as much creative satisfaction from doing the job well as an actor does from a fine performance.

"Theater is communication between audience and actor," McCormick says. "That's why we're here — to give people something to enjoy."

And what does he feel most strongly at the first downbeat of the conductor's baton on an opening night?

"Relief!" he said with a laugh.



ON THE COVER

When the curtain rises Thursday night on the Valley Community Theater production of "Gypsy" some 40 hard-working backstage artists will breathe a collective sigh of relief. Their chores are done; the rest is up to the performers. Above, left, Rick Weatherby adjusts the lights; at right, technical director Ed McCormick works on sound cues. Below, Bill Himebaugh busies himself with posters and programs in the VCT office.

Donna McCormick, who plays a lead in "Gypsy," paints a flat backstage.

Auto check station takes new owner

No change in high quality of service

CHANGEOVER — Loyd Hollingsworth, new owner of Politsch Speedometer and Tuneup service, accepts keys to the shop from William P. Politsch, retiring after nearly 35 years as owner.

After nearly 35 years, one of the best known automotive specialty repair shops in the valley is acquiring a new owner.

William P. "Bill" Politsch, who has operated Politsch Speedometer and Tune-up since 1941, announced the sale of his business to his manager, Loyd Hollingsworth, who has been with him since 1957.

Both men said there will be no change in the high quality or the type of service, which includes maintenance and repair of automotive instruments, car air conditioning, automotive electric systems and tune-ups.

Politsch's shop is the official check station for automobiles owned by the valley's cities, for Los Angeles and San Bernardino counties vehicles in the area, and for state cars. It is by far the oldest, in point of service, of all specialty automotive shops in the valley.

The retiring owner said he wished to notify his customers and other acquaintances of the change and to assure them that the shop's policies would not change.

"It's time to retire," he said. "I'm grateful to all those who have done business with us for the past 34 years."

Hollingsworth, who was trained by Politsch and has worked for him for the past 18 years, also pledged the continuation of high quality service.

"Bill has operated this place for nearly 35 years," he said. "I hope to run it along the same lines for the next 35."

Mrs. Claire Politsch, wife of the retiring owner, will remain with the shop as bookkeeper, as will mechanic Pat Calhoun. The shop will be rounded out by Hollingsworth's son, Bruce, who does the cleanup work.

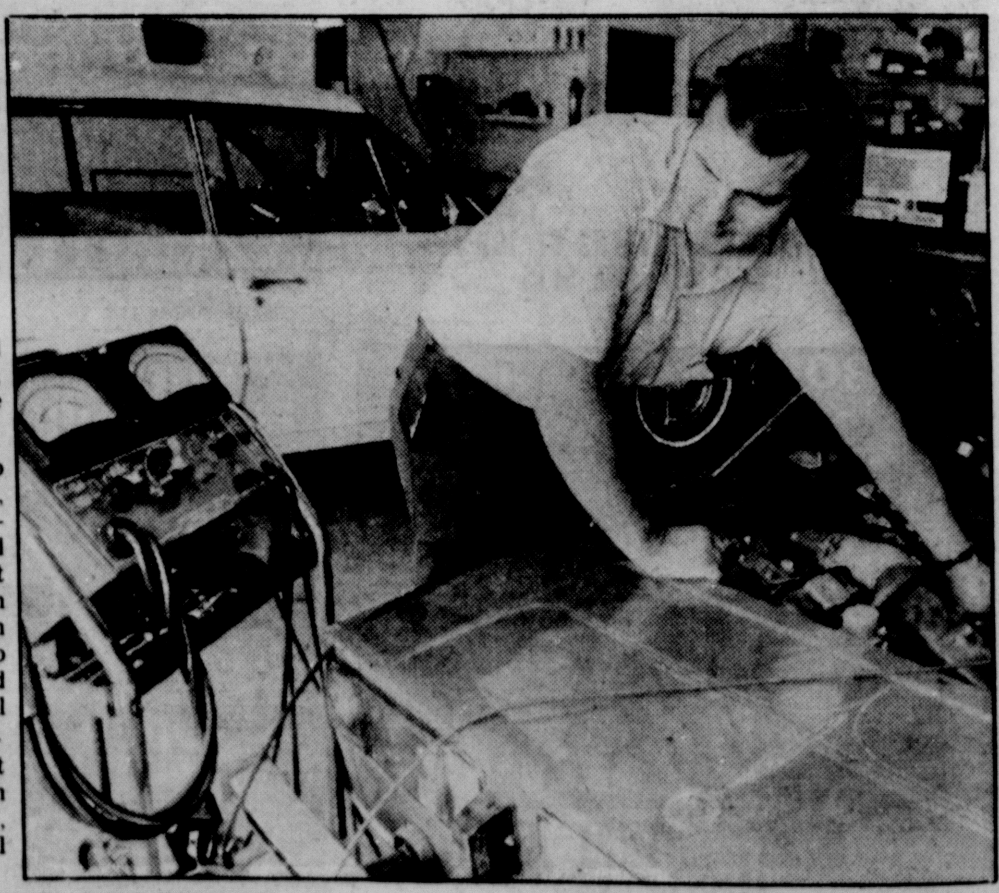
Politsch came to Pomona from Quincy, Ill., where he was a service station manager. He opened his first store in 1941 at Holt Avenue and Gordon Street in partnership with Lloyd Goertz. The shop later moved to Holt and Towne avenues and still later to 548 N. Caswell St.

It opened at its present location in 1962. When Goertz died in 1957, Politsch assumed full ownership.

Shop hours will remain the same under the new ownership as before, from 7:30 to 5 p.m., Monday through Friday.

ACCURATE CHECK — Mechanic Pat Calhoun checks accuracy of speedometer. The shop is certified checkpoint for automotive devices.

BOOKKEEPER — Mrs. Claire Politsch, left, is staying on as bookkeeper at the shop. Watching her are the new owner's wife, Debbie Hollingsworth, and their daughter, Pat.



ENGINE TUNEUP — New owner Loyd Hollingsworth uses instruments to check the engine of an automobile during tuneup. Although the shop is changing hands, Hollingsworth, who was trained by Politsch, says the service will remain the same high quality as before.

Odd collection delights reader

By PHIL THOMAS

PIECES OF THE FRAME, by John McPhee. Farrar, Straus & Giroux. $10.

One of the great pleasures in reading at random is to come across a piece that not only is beautifully written but also educates and entertains at the same time. To come across a whole book of such pieces is the highest stroke of luck. Such a book is John McPhee's "Pieces of the Frame."

Whether discussing modern canoe races, firewood, quarterhorse racing or basketball, McPhee consistently is a delight to read as he weaves fact - crowded sentences into a superb exposition that leaves the reader happier and smarter.

The bulk of the 11 pieces which make up this collection originally appeared in The New Yorker" magazine and reflect at its best the high writing standards that magazine has held for so many years now.

In "Travels in Georgia," McPhee details a trip through the backwoods of Georgia in company with a couple of nature lovers seeking to preserve the state's natural beauty and, while he makes a strong case in favor of preservation, he also studs his text with such stunning sentences as "The darkness in there was so rich it felt warm."

"The Search for Marvin Gardens" is a finely crafted contrapuntal piece in which McPhee moves from paragrahs about the game of Monopoly to scenes showing what the streets used in the game are like in Atlantic City today.

The use of contrast is most forceful. As for the title, "Marvin Gardens is the one color-block Monopoly property that is not in Atlantic City." It's in Margate.

Whether discussing the Loch Ness monster and the cult it has attracted in "Pieces of the Frame" or Scotch whisky as it is made in Scotland in "Josie's Well," McPhee is a most entertaining writer.

JUST TELL ME WHAT YOU WANT. By Jay Presson Allen. Dutton. $8.95.

"Sweetheart," said Max, "just tell me what you want. It's yours. Anything you want. Tell me." Maximilian Herschel uses his wealth and power to collect fine porcelain, other companies for his business empire and women.

Usually, he preferred stewardesses from an airline which opposed one of his takeover bids. Max's "girls" must be bright, continue their education at his expense and be prepared to have him drop in any time to check on their progress.

Head girl and Max's favorite is Bonita Burton, "Bones" to Max, who was not a stewardess but an ambitious youngster from Gum Springs, N.C., who picked Max up at Abercrombie's during a shopping trip. Now "Bones," wealthy in her own right by parlaying Max's investment into an art gallery and a television empire, is getting tired of being "owned."

Power and money and love combine in Jay Presson Allen's treatment of the battle of the sexes on some very expensive turf. Allen, a screen writer, has a nice way with a phrase, and despite the Jacqueline Susanntype of story line, has written a novel that commands a reader's attention to the very last page.

Book documents life in 'closed world' of Russia

By N. C. POLOS

THE EDUCATION OF LEV NAVROZOV: A Life in the Closed World Once Called Russia, by Lev Navrozov. Harper Magazine Press, $12.95.

(Nicholas C. Polos is associate professor of history at La Verne College.)

This is a difficult book to read. It has one chapter titled "The Rocking Nest," and is divided into 76 parts. When the author recently emigrated to the West from Russia he brought with him a microfilm of a cycle of books he had secretly been writing for over 20 years. This book is, in part, the story of an intellectual caught inside a bureaucratic machine-like society under the oppression of the new "Tsargods," of post-1917 Russia.

The content deals with a study of the USSR, as seen from the inside and it is based upon documentary sources unobtainable in the West.

Naturally, its tone is grim resembling Solzhenitsyn's "Gulag Archipelago." Unlike Solzhenitsyn's, A Day in the Life of Ivan Denisovich, which is a study of life in the lumber labor camps as seen by one of the inmates, this book attempts to recapture the sordid feeling of what it is like to live in a closed world. It draws a grim picture of a civilization about which the western world knows very little.

The author's style makes the book difficult to read. It is stiff, scholarly, filled with many rhetorical politico-philosophical questions, and the subject matter makes it seem like a cross between Proust and Orwell.

His range of subjects is wide, starting from a biographical base the author expands into areas such as medicine, education, the treatment of dissidents, anti-Semitism, war, political philosophy, education, and even some astute observations on journalism.

In spite of the heavy turgid style of writing the book does read like a horror nightmare; a "kind of darkness all day" world.

The book is a gold mine of information occasionally made more readable by lightning shafts of ironic humor and reflects the agonies of the sophisticated modern man struggling with the delusions of the totalitarian state while trying desperately to maintain some human identity.

The author has much to say about what is valuable to the 20th Century man. Once again he warns us to resist the "institutionalization of the myth," and that the encroachment of government on the cultural and political life man, on the faiths and opinions and life-values of individuals and groups must be vigilantly resisted.

The school in which Lev Navrozov was educated supplied a creed that was supreme, indivisible, and infallible. The marvel is that some men saw the institutionalization of this creed as dangerous, and inhuman.

Navrozov has a monumental work here complete with excellent source notes which are valuable to the modern historian, and a running narrative which could be called "a nightmare in red." It is not easy reading, but the struggle should add to the dignity of man, and this is what really gives true meaning to life.

NEW MORALE RAISERS — Modeling new outfits which Claremont High School fans will see on girls' sports teams in San Antonio League play are Lana Pye, left, and Laurie Gatten.

by THE HUDSON BROTHERS (ROCKET RECORDS)

The three Hudson brothers, Bill, Mark and Brett, come by their musical talent naturally. Their mother and her two sisters were entertainers during World War II, touring with Bob Hope for the U.S.O. And it was Mrs. Hudson who coached the boys, since the family could not afford formal musical training. The brothers have been playing together since 1965 and have slowly been moving into the center spotlight. This summer, with a concert tour, a special production of The Wizard of Oz, and a hit single, has been their best season so far. But with a new album out this month, we're sure that there's a lot more to come.

Talks continue on NFL's offer

CHICAGO (AP) — A new contract proposal that relaxes the controversial Rozelle Rule and could cost the 26 club owners an estimated $30 million in new money over five years still has not brought about a National Football League labor peace.

The NFL Management Council, representing the owners, made its latest proposal to the players union Monday, but daylong negotiations apparently have failed to resolve the wide differences between the two sides that have been prevalent in talks over the past 20 months.

Negotiations under the supervision of federal mediators continued today.

After the prolonged sessions, Sargent Karch, council executive director, said management had responded to a challenge by union president Kermit Alexander to make a final offer and give it's "best shot."

"We have today given our 'best shot,'" Karch told newsmen. "Like other unions, they would like to get the moon, everything they demand. They don't believe we have given them everything we can give. We hope they will accept the package."

Alexander and other union leaders and player representatives present at the meeting declined to comment specifically on the owners' latest proposal, going from the joint session with management into a union meeting that lasted late into the night.

Alexander said the nearly five-hour head-to-head meeting with the owners produced "nothing substantitive, except verbal clarification" on the terms of the proposal.

"We optimistically hope something affirmative will come out of these meetings," he said.

W.J. Usery Jr., chief federal mediator who has been conducting the current negotiations, appeared frustrated by the apparent impasse but would only say: "We know it's going to be hard, difficult. We're going to work at it. We're not satisfied until we get an agreement."

The management council's latest offer came as a result of an agreement reached last Thursday which ended a strike by five clubs and permitted the playing of the opening weekend of the 1975 NFL season.

Under the terms of the agreement, negotiations could continue for two more days and then the management proposal, with any changes agreed upon, is to go to the rank and file management for a vote, with the results being made known by Oct. 2.

The last collective bargaining agreement expired Jan. 31, 1974. Since that expiration, the league has been hit by two player strikes, one of which was for 42 days during the 1974 preseason.

The owners said the new four-year proposal, retroactive to last year, "is designed to revitalize the sport through renewed player cooperation based on increased economic and general benefits, improved working conditions and player participation with owners in several areas of common interest.

"It's goal is long-term stability and labor-litigation peace, ingredients essential to the continued growth and prosperity of the game," they said.

Houston Oilers owner Bud Adams said he was confident the union would accept management's proposal.

"There are always some renegades who wouldn't accept any proposal," Adams said, "but I feel like there's been enough give and take so that we'll get a favorable vote. In looking it over, I'd say it's a fair proposal for both sides— players and owners."

Chief among the roadblocks to reaching a contract agreement has been the Rozelle Rule, which empowers the commissioner to make the compensation when a player joins a second team after his option year and the two clubs cannot agree on his worth.

Under the offer, no player with four years experience would be forced to change teams. The proposal also says any player with four or more years experience who signs a contract of three or more years may become a free agent at the end of that contract, without having an option year.

Other points in the proposal would set minimum salaries of $18,000 for veterans with increases to $21,000 in four years, establish a maximum $31,500 for the Super Bowl champion players and considerably increase medical, life insurance and pension benefits.

Cross country teams look sharp

Football isn't the only fall sport, and with the prep gridders now in full swing the other high school sports seem to get lost in the shuffle.

The local cross country teams look especially strong this year, which makes the lack of attention the sport gets even more unfortunate.

Area entries in the San Antonio and Hacienda leagues could be in for their finest season ever, with some standout individual performers returning for their senior years.

In the SAL, Pomona High's cross country coach Gene Abernathy is especially blessed, as he has Barry Boettcher back in form this fall. Boettcher, as a junior, finished second in the SAL league finals and third in the CIF 2-A finals last season.

Boettcher, in the Devils' opener at Duarte last Friday, raced to a 9:35 clocking and an easy first place in the dual meet. Abernathy fully expects Boettcher to be consistently under the 10-minute mark for the year and already the Pomona runner is the odds-on pick to win the SAL title.

Sorenson gone

Last year's SAL and CIF champion, Mark Sorenson, has graduated and Upland coach Bob Loney doesn't really have one individual quite of Sorenson's caliber this season.

However, the Highlanders are still rated the team to beat in the SAL, as they do have returning a fleet of runners capable of besting the sub-10-minute mark.

Loney has, among other C-C talent, a set of twins, Mark and Mike Trilevsky. Mark recorded a seventh place finish in league in 1974 as a sophomore. Jim Ems, who was 10th in the SAL last fall, is also back, as is Scott McKoen, the 11th place finisher.

As if that were not enough, Upland also will be running Casey Cox this year. Cox, now a senior, did not run cross country last fall but has recorded a blazing 1:56.4 880 as a track man and coach Loney feels he has the potential to be the top Upland runner before the season is over.

Three juniors, Steve Berry, Scott Sager and Roger Innes (ex-Upland star runner Gordon Innes' younger brother) also brighten the Highlanders' C-C chances.

However, Chino and Claremont also look to have some fine runners and it would figure to be a four-team race for SAL honors this time around as it was last year.

Upland, as well as Chino and Ganesha, will get its first taste of cross country competition Saturday at the Dana Hills Invitational, a meet which has attracted a large and talented field.

SAL league dual meets start Oct. 2.

Braves' Hope returns

Over in the Hacienda League, the defending league individual champion, Joel Hope of Alta Loma, is back for his senior year.

Hope was a surprise winner at the H.L. finals last year at Mt. San Antonio College, and has looked sharp in pre-league meets so far this fall.

Traditional Hacienda cross country power has lost its highly regarded coach, Jim George, who left the school to take a similar coaching position at Cal Poly.

However, the Saints should be tough again this year as their J.V. squad won the league title at MSAC last fall.

Walnut is also expected to be highly competitive, as is Bonita with top-flight runners Mike Green and Alex Adams closing in on that 10-minute time.

Hacienda dual meets are set to get underway Oct. 3.

John Sciarra a marked man

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Quarterback John Sciarra of UCLA is now a marked man, says Bruin Coach Dick Vermeil.

Sciarra has run and passed for 430 yards and scored four touchdowns leading No. 12-ranked UCLA to victories over Iowa State and Tennessee.

Vermeil noted the attention Sciarra has received after his first two games this season and said, "When you reach his status he's a marked man. Defenses play harder against him, and people notice his mistakes more.

"But that's all part of the responsibilities you have to assume being a quality player and John Sciarra is a great football player."

Since he's a running threat as well as a passer, Sciarra is open to hard tackling more than most quarterbacks and Vermeil said defenders sometimes seem to try to get in harder licks against the UCLA field leader.

"The things he did against Tenneessee and the shots he took... sometimes I was surprised he was able to get up," said Vermeil.

"There's no question he's become a marked man."

And he said officials should protect quarterbacks better from attacks.

"To me, officials have to do a better job when the quarterback doesn't have the ball," Vermeil said.

"After some of the hits on John I was amazed he could to stay in the game. They (officials) protect him when he's throwing but not when he doesn't have the ball. John is bumped up and bruised all over his body."

After scoring three times against Iowa State in the 37-21 UCLA victory that opened the season, Sciarra scored once and put together three touchdown drives against the highly regarded Tennessee defense in last Saturday's regionally televised game.

"I'm tickled John did so well on television," Vermeil said of the quarterback, whose performances are increasing his stature as a Heisman Trophy candidate.

While Vermeil spoke highly of running backs Wendell Tyler and Eddie Ayers at his weekly meeting with sports writers Monday, it was Sciarra who got most of the praise.

"John throws the long ball very, very well and when he misses, it isn't by much." Sciarra hit one 47-yarder against Tennessee, which was 10th-ranked at the time, and two 43-yard throws against Iowa State. Both passing gains were airborne most of the way, with short runs tacked on the tail end.

Raider win costly; two players hurt

MIAMI (AP) — Oakland Coach John Madden finally found out what it's like to win a National Football League season opener. But injuries have cooled his excitement over the Raiders' convincing 31-21 conquest of the Miami Dolphins.

Madden apparently lost defensive tackle Kelvin Korver for the season with knee ligament damage in Monday night's victory, Oakland's first opening success in six years. A team spokesman also said fullback Marv Hubbard was probably lost for three weeks with a shoulder injury.

On the bright side was a defensive effort that thoroughly dominated Miami in the first half and quarterback Ken Stabler's expert dissecting of a Dolphin defense, a defense noticably missing injured veterans Nick Buoniconti, Dick Anderson and Manny Fernandez.

"We got off to a good jump...then in the second half, it seemed something would always happen to give Miami a little lift," said Madden after breaking Miami's 31-game winning streak at home.

"They proved they're still a fine team. They kept coming back at us," Madden said of the Dolphins, whose offense was without World Football League defectors Larry Csonka, Paul Warfield and Jim Kiick.

The Raiders jumped on top 17-0 on plunges of two and one yards by Pete Banaszak and a 25-yard field goal by George Blanda. Oakland upped the lead to 24-7 on Mark van Eeghen's yard run in the third period.

But it took a 102-yard kickoff return and three interceptions, all in the fourth quarter, to kill the Dolphins.

"There wasn't any excuse for the runback," said Dolphins' Coach Don Shula of Harold Hart's return which came after Norm Bulaich had ended an 80-yard drive with a yard plunge to cut the lead to 24-14.

"We relaxed when it looked like he was going to down the ball in the end zone and then the lane opened up," added Shula.

Hart explained, "I thought about downing it because I wasn't sure how deep I was in the end zone. But when I saw Jesse Phillips wave me on, I just took off. I knew I had it once I cut toward the sidelines."

Miami cut the lead to 31-21 when Mercury Morris added to his second period touchdown run of four yards with a one-yard plunge. And the Dolphins, with over five minutes to get back in the game, were on Oakland's 38 when Art Thoms blocked and then caught a Bob Griese pass.

"When I batted the ball, I turned around. I had my eye on the ball all the time and just made a lunge for it," said Thoms, suffering a groin injury but pressed into duty when Korver was injured.

Miami cornerback Tim Foley would not admit that injuries and WFL losses had seriously weakened the Dolphins since last December's 28-26 playoff loss to Oakland.

"We could have beaten them with the team we had on the field," said Foley. "We have to get away from these Girl Scout excuses."

"I'm not going to panic," said Griese. "I don't think anybody else will. It's not going to not be a championship team just because we lost one game."

Angels go up a notch

By DON BRADLEY
PB Staff Writer

ANAHEIM — They played it as though the pennant depended on the outcome.

To the 6,173 paying fans and the bleary-eyed sports writers, it was just another baseball game on a warm Monday night.

But to the Angels and Chicago White Sox, it was life and death. The 16-inning, three-hour and 38-minute marathon won by the Angels, 3-0, meant a great deal to both teams.

"It was our Holy Grail," sighed Halos' general manager Harry Dalton. "It's hard to believe that when you're in last place on the last Monday of the season that a game can be this big. But it was and we both played like it."

The victory moved the Angels out of last place and put them ONE SINGLE percentage point ahead of the Chicagoans.

"WE ARE NO LONGER IN LAST PLACE BABY," yelled Dalton dashing into manager Dick Williams' office. Isn't it sweet!"

Ironically, one swing of the bat won it for the light-hitting Halos. The unlikely hero was Adrian Garrett, a baseball retread on the down side of 30.

To Garrett it may have meant a job in the major leagues. The veteran (32) minor leaguer has yo-yoed up and down between majors and minors with half a dozen clubs.

But his pinch-hit, three-run homer Monday night was his sixth roundtripper and 16th, 17th and 18th runs batted in in 104 at-bats. Projected over a full season, that pace would give him over 30 homers and more than 100 ribbies.

Garrett's homer gave the win to Don Kirkwood who will be 25 Wednesday. Kirkwood (6-5) relieved starter Frank Tanana in the 14th inning.

Tanana, only 22, may just be the best pitcher in the American League right now. He struck out 13 to raise his major league-leading total to 265 in 250 innings.

The 13 scoreless innings lowered his earned run average to 2.48.

Tony's Double pick in Derby

Tony's Double, surprise winner of the mile and one-sixteenth Derby Trial Stakes a week ago, faces another tough assignment Wednesday when he takes on 10 opponents in the $22,105 Pomona Derby. The winner will receive $13,305.

Bobby's Angel, with Bobby Adair in the saddle, darted along the rail and won the $121,700 Pomona Quarter Horse Futurity Monday, the richest race ever run at the L.A. County Fairgrounds. Running the 350-yard distance in 17.63 seconds, Bobby's Angel won $54,765.

The two-year-old daughter of Go Man Go paid backers $6.80, $5.80 and $5.60. Second in the blanket-finish race 25-1 longshot Rocky Carina, paying $21.40 and $11. Jet Spy ran third for $12.60.

In Wednesday's Pomona Derby, Danny Velasquez, who rode Go Conquer to an upset win in the mile-and-one-eighth Derby last year will again handle Tony's Double for trainer Tommy Doyle. The son of Donson will break from the inside post under top weight of 122 pounds.

His toughest foes will be trial runner-up Grass Torch and the vastly improved William Radkovich, who'll be making his Pomona debut. Holiday Hollywood, General Tux, Stagecraft, Austin Mittler, Gentle Jess, Star Engineer, Tround Sang and Grande Gunda complete the field.

Bobby Howard returns atop Grass Torch, the stretch-running Washington-bred who has posted three victories this summer at middle distances and was third in the San Mateo County sophomore championship before his trial effort. He was beaten 3½ lengths by Tony's Double, who equalled the stakes record with a 1.44 4/5 clocking.

SCIAC plans round-robin schedules

By BILL LANGLEY
PB Sports Editor

Can you imagine two UCLA-USC or Michigan-Ohio State football games in one season?

It could happen if the trend developing in the Southern California Intercollegiate Athletic Conference spreads around the country.

Redlands and Occidental are the first to adopt a round-robin type of schedule when they plan on Oct. 11 at Redlands and Nov. 15 at Oxy. The first contest won't count in the SCIAC standings.

La Verne College's Roland Ortmayer said his team will play Whittier twice next season while Pomona-Pitzer's Walt Ambord added the info that the Sagehens will face cross-campus rival Claremont-Mudd twice in 1976.

The talk about the SCIAC schedule was the highlight of Monday's weekly football luncheon at The Castaway Restaurant in Pomona.

Redlands' Frank Serrao said, "Our conference has been discussing going round-robin for a couple of years. We have been putting our heads together on this with three schools voting for and three against. Now we're going to try a partial round-robin. Our target date for a full conference schedule in 1978. We're using this game this season as an experiment."

Asked how he could approach the first game, Serrao answered, "We'll go all out to win. It is a game. I'll tell you what I think about it after the season."

Ortmayer is an advocate of the double round-robin and even extends the idea.

"I made the proposal of playing twice a week on Saturdays and Wednesdays but nobody took me seriously," the La Verne coach said.

When asked how he voted, Ambord grinned. "We voted to play Caltech seven times. Really, I don't like the idea of a round-robin unless it is complete. The idea of a partial round-robin gives the advantages to the stronger teams."

Azusa Pacific halfback Mitch Merrill and Citrus linebacker John Harris were selected the Players of the Week. They will receive awards presented by Foothill Beverage Company.

Merrill, a freshman from Torrance, rushed for 199 yards in 25 carries in Azusa's win over Whittier while Harris, a sophomore from Glendora, led Citrus' defense with 16 tackles against Long Beach.

QUOTING the coaches:

ORTMAYER, La Verne: "We dressed 56 fellows for the St. Mary's game and played 45 of them. Our improvement during the game went into reverse as St. Mary's almost caught us. We were happy with everything about the 34-32 win except the clock. It seemed like the game would last forever. We came out of it with a couple of injuries. Brad Frick hurt his ankle and we don't know when he will return to the lineup. We play at the University of San Diego Saturday night."

ANDY VINCI, Cal Poly: "We had another good night against Hayward. In two games, our offense has 989 total yards. It's a real credit to our offensive line. We're also happy with our rushing defense which has allowed only 63 yards a game. Our kicking game was much stronger last week. We host Northern Arizona this Saturday. This game should be the turning point for us. If we win this one, we should have a good season."
